

Introducing the Queen And Her Lovely Escorts

Queen Eleanor Engdahl

At high noon today, Queen Ellie I will lead her all-white court to the royal dais and receive the crown and scepter of her office.

When first addressed as "Queen," the 5 foot 6 inch art student thought "they were kidding." During the last three weeks of trips to Portland, meeting the Governor, heading parades, hearing loyal Webfoots sing her own song, the gracious queen still can't believe it.

Her gown of state for the Weekend will be white pique with white lace bodice and yards and yards of billowing skirt. The regal escort to the Prom will be the owner of her Fiji pin, Buck Jones.

Princess Dorothy Greer

Even taller in stature than Queen Ellie, Princess Dorothy Greer has slow-smiled her way through all Junior Weekend court pictures.

A dark brunette with her hair customarily swept back from her face in two rolls, this princess majors in Arts and Letters.

Her large, brown eyes with a hint of a twinkle in their depths smiled over the question of "dates."

Princess Milodene Goss

Smallest of the princesses is petite Milodene Goss, who is busy doing more than just being a member of the court this Junior Weekend. She is on the Junior Prom committee and in charge of registering Moms Friday and Saturday.

To carry out the patriotic motif of the "Of Thee I Sing" Weekend, "Mike" will wear her white pique dress trimmed in the blue rick-rack.

Although she has a special interest in an eastern naval academy, she will go to the Prom with Jim Thayer.

Princess Frances Cox

Vice president of the Junior

Class, a Little Major, and a member of Phi Theta Upsilon is Princess Frances Cox.

The only Californian in the royal family, Princess Franice came from Los Angeles to major in journalism. She will wear a white pique dress cut on the same lines as the queen's, but trimmed with red rick-rack.

Prime Minister Bud Wimberly has his pin on this blonde, blue-eyed princess and will be her date to the Prom.

Princess Margaret Sleeper

A Dresden doll beauty is Princess Margaret Sleeper. The dainty blonde BA major is sure that her mother will be on the campus for the coronation, for Margaret is a "town girl."

Luncheon guests will see Princess Margaret in her white royal gown trimmed as Milodene's dress with the red rick-rack.

Princess Margaret sticks to Eugene in accepting her date to the dance Friday night. It's Al Gard.

Campus Calendar

The museum of art announces that it will be open to visitors both Saturday and Sunday from 3 to 5 o'clock.

On account of Junior Weekend festivities, the library will close at 6 p.m. on Friday, May 8. The reserve rooms will be closed from 12 a.m. to 2 p.m. during the campus luncheon. Otherwise, regular weekend hours will prevail.

George K. Lowe, representing Standard Stations, Inc., will be in the student employment office at the YMCA hut at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday to interview all men students interested in permanent and summer jobs.

Delta Sigma Rho

Five University students, recently pledged to Delta Sigma Rho, national forensic honorary, will be initiated this week. They are: Earl Holmer, Eugene; Elva Jane South, Aurora; Jane Hooker, Medford; Merlin Nelson, Salem; Lois Bechholdt, Bonanza; and Michi Yasui, Hood River.

50 Oreganas Still Available

Starting at 9 this morning in the south corridor of McArthur court, 50 more yearbooks will be distributed until they are gone. This will take care of the tail end of a shipment of 1500 books that came in Wednesday.

A signed note is required for a student to get another's book.

The rest of the shipment of "The World's Largest College Yearbooks" is expected today, and the books will be delivered Saturday.

University women seemed to have the upper hand in the rush for the books yesterday afternoon, when many of the men were in military class. The distribution started at 1 o'clock. Most of the ROTC students went to the Igloo to pick up their copy of the publication immediately after drill.

Chemists Postpone Meeting to May 16

The American Chemical society has postponed its regular monthly meeting here to May 16, according to an announcement made yesterday.

Dr. C. H. Secoy of the chemistry department will read a paper on the system of Chlorine monoxide-water, a result of three years of research.

Dr. Pierre Van Rysselberghe, assistant professor of chemistry, will also read a paper.

Quick Thinking Saves Old Gym

A small sawdust fire, probably caused by an unextinguished cigarette, was discovered in the women's outdoor gym, beside Gerlinger, at approximately 2:30 p.m. Thursday, by Mary Mercier, sophomore in arts and letters.

Miss Mercier, somewhat puzzled by the smoke issuing from the corner of the building, asked, "Is it supposed to smoke that way?"

A subtle sorority sister countered with, "No, you dope; it's on fire," and proceeded to call the Gerlinger janitor, who quickly dispatched the flames with a standard extinguisher.

NYA May Be Extended For Summer Session

The possibility that NYA may be extended to July 1, making a tenth payroll period, for University students going to summer session, was disclosed Tuesday by Karl W. Onthank, dean of personnel administration.

Students who plan to attend the summer session, and need NYA work, should apply at once at the NYA office. There is no information that it will be available after July 1, but it now seems likely that it will be allotted for the first month of the session.

"It is important to know how large an allotment will be needed, so prospective applicants should file at once," Onthank said.
