Washington Halts Duck Rally In Ninth

After winning four straight on their inland empire trip, Oregon's varsity baseball squad dropped one to the University of Washington Huskies, 2 to 1, at Seattle yesterday.

Big Doug Ford held the Webfoots scoreless and offered only three hits until the ninth when Oregon got its chance, but lost it. Ford walked Whitman, and the fireworks started, only to end when Carney was tagged on a squeeze play at home.

After Whitman's walk, Carney singled and sent Whitman to second, when Big Doug tried to throw him out, Whitman got on and stole third.

Washington scored before the Webfoots, tallying in the fourth and seventh. Each team had one error chalked against them.

After relieving Bob Reider in the Washington State tussle yesterday in the ninth, John Bubalo took the mound for the whole game during the entire game for the Ducks.

Even though Oregon lost today, they are second in the northern division race. Oregon State, who dropped one to the underdog Idaho Vandals today, 6 to 4, is still in the top spot. Washington is safely in third place, Washington State is fourth, and Idaho is in the cellar.

Idaho Wins

With the score tied in the ninth, Dale Clark stepped up to the plate and slapped out a triple with two on that gave Idaho a 6 to 4 decision over Buck Bailey's Washington State crew. Berlus pitched the entire game for the Vandals.

Coed Softball All-Stars Vie; Ends IM Season

Two all-star coed softball squads were picked by acting managers and officials and are scheduled to meet tonight on Gerlinger field at 4:45. This will mark the formal end of the girls' intramural softball play.

Under the direction of Manager Mary Anderson, the girls have completed a successful season. The Kappa Kappa Gamma team was the only one to default this spring; all the other games have been run off as scheduled. Orides won the championship, but were given competition before earning it.

The all-star teams are supposed to be of equal ability. One team is as follows: Mildred McCarthy, ADPI, pitcher; Mildred Thomas, Hilyard, pitcher; Mary Anderson, Orides, third; Marianne Blenkinsop, University, catcher; Lois Baldwin, University, catcher; Ruth Foreman, Hilyard, second; Ann

Cindermen Eye Beaver Dual Tussle

With their eye on the biggest meet of the year, Oregon's varsity track men have been working out strenuously with the intent of taking the highly rated Beavers down a notch or two.

Oregon State, with a few stars, is rated to lick the Ducks, but all Webfoot conversation is to the contrary. It appears that there are a few stars that have upheld them in previous meets, and they lack a well rounded squad.

Oregon's team is not complete and well rounded, but their men seem to be more versatile and probably more consistent. Previous meets have shown that.

Oregon State's main strength lies in Captain Tommy Blair in the middle distances, Bob Fischer in the mile and two mile, Don Findlay in the broad jump and high jump, and John Mandic in the high jump. Gene Gray and Harvey Muskrat appear strong in the sprints also.

None of these men are very versatile, while many of Oregon's men are capable of entering three and sometimes four events in a meet. Zenas Butler can run the 100, both hurdle events, and enter the broad jump; Ralph Kramer enters the sprints and hurdles; Bob Newland is capable in the high and broad jump; and Don Wilson enters any of the distance events. The rest of the squad sticks to respective event most of the time, and all of them are improving rapidly.

the championship of the league, so they should be tired. The Independents hope so, anyway.

All the campus is expected to come and see the ball game.

Indee, Greek All-Stars Meet Friday On Diamond

It won't be long now! It's the story of the all-star game being served up on a fancy platter this Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Independent and Greek campus are primed and ready. Umpires Ted Sarpola and Jimmy Shephard are ready. Managers Hank Burns and Joe Miller are ready. Pitchers Bob Wren and Red Holloman are ready. As a matter of fact, everyone is ready and set to go. Everyone but the weather, and that has been looking pretty good lately.

So the stage is set. Betting odds at this stage of the game are 6 to 5, take your choice. The independents' choice are the Independents, and the Greek's choice is the Greeks. The pari-mutuel windows will be open all day Thursday and Friday morning in front of the side with the Kwamas handling the betters.

Pitching Choices

The pitching choices we have told you many times. So we will tell you again. Red Holloman or Roy Nelson will start for the Independents, and Bob Wren or Johnny Mead are slated to ascend the hillock for the Greeks.

The big thing favoring the Independents (and all their dependants, which we put in because it rhymes) is that they will be well, rested up for the fray. The Greeks are all busy fighting for

Frosh Prime For Rooks

After the showing the frosh track squad made against the local high schools Tuesday, things are looking bright for the Ducklings in the Oregon State dual meet to be held in conjunction with the varsity meet Saturday on Hayward field.

Wally Still, former Mac-hi star, is being looked to for a large share of the freshman score. He recorded 16 1/2 points in the high school meet and won every race he ran against the Rooks in the annual relays last month.

He will be entered in the 100, 220, javelin, and will run on the relay team. His best event is the 100 yard run that he has recorded :09.9 three times officially, and :09.8 unofficially.

Running with him in the sprints will be Bill Davis, former Grants Pass star. He will also be entered in the broad jump. He has been pressing still in the sprints and broad jumping around 21 feet.

Broad Jumper

Another broad jumper, who has consistently beaten Davis, is Bill Morris, also entered in the high jump. He high jumps around 5 feet 10 inches. When he came out at the first of the season he was using the scissors system and wasn't able to go above five feet, but he developed the roll, and has improved rapidly.

Jumping about the same as Morris in the high jump, is Lawrence and Selwin Wisdom run the 440 and both appear to be future varsity material. Lawrence occasionally runs the sprints.

In the 880, Hayward has Bob Glasgow, Tom Boylen, and Howard Lamb. They need improvement, but are developing. At least one of them should place in the dual meet.

Mile Weak

The mile and two mile appear to be the weakest events for the frosh, and Oregon State should have no trouble taking this event if they have anyone trained in it.

The weight division is crammed full of football players and will probably bring points for the freshmen. Two other football men, Bob Reynolds and Leroy Erickson are entered in the hurdles and will possibly place for the yearlings.
