

Seniors Name Committee

At a senior class meeting Monday afternoon, the following persons were voted on a permanent senior committee, who will function for all reunions and activities that they will carry on as alumni: Lou Torgeson, Bettie Workman, Jim Frost, Wini Green, Bob Lovell, Bob Cherney, Elizabeth Steed, Hope Hughes, Helen Angell, and the present class officers, Pat Lawson, Earl Holmer, Frank McKinney, and Dorothy Jean Johnson.

Plans for a senior party for the Friday after finals were also announced, with Morry Stein and Bob Cherney in charge.

Fifty dollars was voted to the alumni association to help pay for Oreganas sent out over the state, and $25 to pay for the insignia of graduating men in military.

It was also voted to voluntarily sign over all rights to breakage fees to be contributed to the senior fund.

National Defense Program Affects Living Groups

By MARJORIE YOUNG

Doing away with more than they took on in the way of activities, as Bill Bradshaw, president of the Interfraternity council, put it, most living organization councils this year felt the effect of the all-out national defense program.

Chief among the "doings-away" were banning desserts in girls' houses by heads of houses, voting out of the mid-term rush weekend by the Interfraternity council. Reasons given for both actions were saving of time and effort for national defense.

Soldiers Helped

Carrying out their patriotic motives, heads of houses also sponsored a project in the houses for making individual sewing kits for soldier boys at Fort Lewis. Girls in the houses used material furnished by the Red Cross for making the kits, bought equipment and fitted them. A drive for books, games and other material for entertainment was made by the heads for the benefit of soldiers stationed at the fairgrounds. Social project of the year was a tea given for housemothers.

Interfraternity council sponsored the all-campus sing, worked on publicity for the Interfraternity council to be carried out by individual rushing chairmen, and on publicity in the Welcome Book.

Co-op Social Unity

Social unity throughout six co-operative houses on the campus was brought about by the Interco-operative council when they formed a constitution for the Oregon Student Cooperatives, and carried out an extensive education program through chairmen in individual houses. The problem of amalgamation was discussed and presented to students, but was rejected by coed houses.

Social functions of the interco-op council included fall and spring term dances, and a spring term picnic. They also acted as hosts to a conference of Pacific coast board of directors here in February.

Food seemed to be the primary concern of the Interdorm council during the year. Major action of the council was to investigate the food situation and to include a member on the foods committee in their council. Dr. Donald Erb, president of the University, has made a suggestion to the effect that the foods committee be integrated with the council. The suggestion will probably be acted on, according to Tyra Hutchens, president of the council, during winter term.

The council also appropriated approximately $50 to the infantile paralysis fund, using money saved when they cut expenses on their winter term dance.

SIDE PATTERN

By BARBARA LAMB

Lots of talk and rumors circulatin' these days . . . it seems that Beta Glen Macy is going steady after all . . . and from our booth we hear that Pi Phi Peggy Wright will soon be wearing his pin. . . . Alpha O Connie Fullmer and DU Cecil "Cap" Sharp flashed a diamond at Mortar Board Ball and remarked that they were all set . . . t'was all fun . . . but now Cap is still trying to persuade his brothers that it isn't true . . . speakin' of orange blossoms, etc., ex-Side coke-mixer Steve Worth grabbed a vacation from CPT in Klamath Falls and was among the present at Mortar Board . . . Alpha Fee Kay-Jay Jenkins topped those rumors that have been flying around for some time by annexing Clyde Hohenbeck's white star of Sigmanoo . . . and by the way, are Joe Miller's serious moods of late due to the fact that Fee-Prexy Gloria Difford plans to attend the University of Kentucky come next fall? . . . ADPi Janet Ross and Pi Phi Rohda Harkson are still recovering from experiences they suffered during the practice air-raid last Monday . . . Rohda was wrapped up in miles of bandages and rushed off to a hospital via ambulance . . . Janet's fate was still worse . . . she was forgotten and left in the street with a card around her saying "I am dead" and covered with a sheet . . . when she finally peeked out everyone had gone and left her . . . what a life . . .

And, kiddies, if life gets thataway during exam week tear down to the Side and grab a coke . . . grab two . . . tall and icy . . . if it's early in the mawning, toss off a cup of cawfee and sinkers . . . 'bye now . . . have a nice vacation.

THE PHANTOM. by RAY MOORE

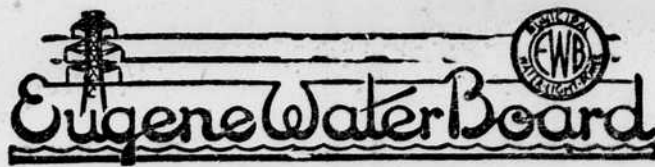

MY ANCESTOR, THE FIRST PHANTOM, REALIZED WISELY THAT MONEY WOULD BE NEEDED TO FIGHT THE EVER-PRESENT FORCES OF PIRACY, GREED AND INJUSTICE. THAT IS ITS ONLY PURPOSE.

Have a Nice Vacation

For over thirty years we have offered heat and light to the people of Eugene. One of the hardest of these years is coming now. Do enjoy yourselves as much as is possible this summer but still keep in mind the fact that power conservation must be a part of our war program.
