

Dean of Women Visits Vocational Leaders

Mrs. Hazel P. Schwering, dean of women, returned to the campus last week after a six weeks' tour of the east.

Combining business with her pleasure trip, Mrs. Schwering visited many campuses and interviewed personnel directors on their vocational guidance program.

Among the places visited to gain vocational material which she will pass on to Oregon women were: University of Chicago, the Katherine Gibbs secretarial school in New York, the head of the Columbia university placement bureau, Miss Ellen Janney Brown, personnel head at the Vega airplane factory; Miss Martha Douglas, training director at the Carson Perry Scott department store, and Mrs. L. B. Zapolon, specialist, Occupational Information and Guidance service in Washington, D. C.

On her trip, Mrs. Schwering received notice that she had been appointed trustee of the council of guidance personnel association.

Mrs. Schwering also attended the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority convention in Montebello, Quebec, Canada. She gave members attending the conclave two vocational tests and also conducted a vocational round table.

In New York she was entertained by M. Leon Cotnareanu and his wife. The former Paris editor lectured on the campus last year. In the nation's capital she called upon Miss Bea Aitchison, former Oregon instructor of economics.

To conserve fuel, Wellesley college will have a six weeks' vacation next winter, President Mildred H. McAfee has announced.

Oregon Alumna Dies

Miss Pauline McElvain, who received her master's degree from the University of Oregon in 1935, died in San Francisco on Thursday, July 30. She has been teaching at Franklin high school, Portland, for several years.

STUDENTS AID BY

FOR DEFENSE

By protecting eyesight against college strain you may help Uncle Sam win this war. Defense demands clear seeing for both service men and women workers behind the lines.

We are always glad to welcome students to the University of Oregon and take special interest in their eyesight problems. When you entrust your eyesight to us we assure you that it is in competent hands. Our equipment is most modern. Always be sure that your eyes are examined by a registered optometrist.

There's NO LAW again!

Sure,
Students Have to Play

College even with its crowded war program of physics, math, and ROTC can't all be studying. The local theaters offer wholesome relaxation from textbooks with the best entertainment that comes out of Hollywood. There is educational value in our features, too, and a chance to follow current events and history in the making on our screens. Movies are essential to a well balanced college course.
