

Men, Women Plan Rushing Activities

Women's Rush:

A "new deal" swept the Panhellenic office and rushing rules this year to iron away wrinkles and perplexities of previous rushing seasons, according to a report from the dean of women's office.

Main changes in women's fall term rushing are:

1. The rushing period will be shortened one day—Thursday through Tuesday, September 17 to 22.
2. The usual preference night dinner will be abolished.
3. A new system of preferential bidding will be installed.
4. Added daily date, tea, 4 to 5 o'clock.

With the abolishment of the traditional preference dinner which proved in the past merely a repetition of the activities of the pledge banquet, Panhellenic officers and Mrs. Marjorie Reynolds, Panhellenic secretary, felt that the rushing period could be shortened by one day.

Under the new preferential bidding, sororities will turn into officials at Gerlinger two lists by 11 o'clock Monday evening. The first list will be first preference girls. The second will list in order the alternates.

On the same evening the would-be Greeks will list in order of their preference the sororities they are interested in.

Rushes may call for their bids Tuesday morning between 9 and 11 o'clock and go immediately to the house of their choice.

Campus clothes are "the" thing for the newly-added afternoon tea date. According to Panhellenic rules, the dinner date is considered most important, then luncheon and the tea.

Men's Rush:

Men's rush week takes the stage Friday, September 18, with only the usual fanfare, but with all the traditional hustle and rustle in the face of a war-time enrollment drop.

One new note will enter this year's five-day rush period, ac-

Pat Holder, '42 To Train for WAAC Officer

Pat Holder, '42, is one University alumna who already has taken to heart the slogan, "It's a Woman's World."

Miss Holder, youngest applicant in the state for women's auxiliary army corps officers' training, has been sworn into WAAC service at Portland for training at Fort Des Moines instruction school.

A psychology graduate of last year, she was a member of Delta Gamma sorority. She was working as assistant in a physician's office in Portland at the time of her notification.

According to W. A. Dahlberg, who is in charge. It will be a fraternity man-rushee mix in Gerlinger hall Thursday night, the day before the week officially opens. It was designed to give both house and the prospective pledge a better opportunity to "get acquainted."

The five days of rushing and Tuesday noon, with new members packing their belongings from their temporary dorm homes to their new house that same day. The usual pledge dance for both fraternities and sororities is scheduled Tuesday night.

Rushes should report to Johnson hall to pay their matricula-tion fee upon arrival on the campus, Mr. Dahlberg said. They then report to John Straub Memorial hall to get their official date cards.

Mr. Dahlberg will meet with rushing chairmen Thursday afternoon, and that same evening he will meet with rushees at 8 o'clock in the music auditorium. Both sessions are to clarify minor rule changes which have been made in rushing procedure this year.
