

Invaluable Job Done By Oregon Federation

While the large portion of the student body worked or vacationed this summer, dismissing thoughts of the University of Oregon from mind temporarily, almost one hundred faithful UO students sought to boost fall term enrollment by describing opportunities for higher education to potential enrollees throughout the state. This group, the Oregon federation, presents information on the University and arranges meetings with "big time" representatives from UO so that high school graduates and others interested will have a clear picture of campus activities and curriculum.

Don Walker, federation chairman, organized four trips, each to a different area of the state, to introduce a few prominent campus personalities to prospective Ducks, show colored films of the campus, and answer any questions pertaining to the University. Captain B. F. Davis, assistant professor of military science, accompanied Walker to coastal towns; Student Body President Les Anderson, Howard "Hobby" Hobson, basketball and baseball coach, and John Warren, football coach, were featured speakers on trips to northeastern and south central Oregon.

Lures Offered
Versatile "propagandists," these guest speakers did not confine their talks to athletics or the ROTC, but elaborated on enrollment studies, and campus life in general.

A list of this summer's federation members and their respective towns follows: Albany, Wally Hunter; Ashland, Jean Friderger and Dave Fortmiller; Astoria, Roy Seeborg and Pat Salisbury; Baker, Bette Hoge and Paul Basche; Beaverton, Ed Moshofsky; Bend, Janet Farnham and Jeff Kitchen; Coquille, Mary Jane Dunn; Corvallis, Graham Stephenson; Cottage Grove, George Dugan; Dallas, Joan Stinnette; Grants Pass, Elsie Brownell and Fred Treadgold; Gresham, Carol Ann Evans; Hillsboro, Joan Person; Hood River, Sally Childs and Ray Gaulke; Independence, William Campbell.

Staff Adds New Man

Warren C. Price, formerly of the University of Texas and University of Wisconsin faculties and ex-newspaper man, will fill the position left open by Charles M. Hulten, associate professor of journalism, who is on leave of absence.

Mr. Price will take over classes Monday in elementary journalism and other subjects as assistant professor. He was graduate assistant in journalism at the University of Wisconsin, and assistant professor of journalism at the University of Texas. He was a reporter on the Milwaukee Journal and a copyreader on the Daily Oklahoman and a copyreader on the Des Moines Register Tribune.

Mr. Hulten now has a position as consultant to the bureau of the budget in the office of war information, Washington, D. C.

Sabotage?

The millrace, which rose to such heights for rush week, is back to a bare creek again. Looks suspiciously as if millrace fraternities turned it on for four on cold water, especially at the pledge dance. Why not rename it the Gerlinger Hot Springs? . . . With Art Holman under contract to play elsewhere on Saturday nights, fall term house dances may well be held with a three-piece orchestra: piano, bench and player . . . Here for fall term is Delt Norm Foster after summering in Eugene, thoroughly convinced that Eugene is so slow that even the Willamette river only runs twice a week. . . . Another Delt, Bruce Giese, is due to fly for Pan-American shortly covering the Alaska route . . . Ex-Emerald sports writer Wally Hunter is at the Marine boot-camp in San Diego . . . Most bewildering thought of the week is Bill Wood's cooking abilities, especially as far as "mung" is concerned. It's origin: California . . . The Mill Race had its face lifted this summer, along with a new mud-pack.

Miss Anne Wuest, former instructor of the University's language department, is now working with South American students at Louisiana State university.

Jones Wins $1000 Prize

Richard F. Jones, Tacoma, Washington, will receive the Kenneth A. J. Mackenzie Memorial scholarship for the coming school year, according to an announcement by Dr. Donald M. Erb, University president.

The scholarship is awarded annually to the outstanding pre-med student on the campus in the final year of his training. The award is endowed through a bequest of the late Mildred Anna Williams for a memorial to Dr. Mackenzie, former dean of the medical school.

The scholarship is valued at $1,000 payable in five yearly installments of $200 each if a high scholastic standing is maintained by the student during his four years at medical school.

Last year's winner was Arthur W. Berg, who is now enrolled in the medical school in Portland. Jones, a junior in science, has an accumulative GPA of 3.61 and was one of the high-ranking students in his medical aptitude test.

Dr. Wallace Atwood, president of Clark university, is a nationally known geographer.

ANY MAIL FOR ME?

What a lost feeling when you and your loved ones are far apart, and no letters arrive to bridge the gap and cheer you up. Write those letters! Letters are YOU IN PERSON, at long distance!

Sheaffer's "TRIUMPH" is the newest Lifeline* pen. We began developing it four years before the entry of the United States into war. At that time "TRIUMPH" was undergoing final rigorous tests by land and sea. It has been sold throughout 1942. Fortunately, practically all of the materials in "TRIUMPH" are of least critical nature . . . Men and women in all walks of life will value this essential gift, now and always.

Note: Fuel all pens carefully. Sheaffer's SKRIP is kind to the rubber and other critical parts of pens—makes all pens write better and last longer.
