Dr. Leighton Tells Progress Of Mass PE

Men students at the University are well aware of the urgent need to be physically in "good shape" because of the present war situation, according to Dr. Ralph W. Leighton, dean of the school of physical education.

Not including students engaged in varsity sports, football and basketball, 1047 men are enrolled in the various classes offered by the school of physical education, Leighton said last week.

Athletic classes are divided into five sections, namely track and field, swimming, combatives, team sports and apparatus.

In division one, track and field, 200 men are registered. Division two, which includes boxing, wrestling and judo, 217 men are receiving instruction. Swimming, division three, is training 180 men and 311 are partaking in team sports, including basketball (not varsity), touch football and soccer. In the weight lifting, tumbling and apparatus division, 139 students are working out three times weekly.

Plans are being formulated for the construction of an obstacle course, which would be a testing ground for students at the completion of their class training, Dr. Leighton added. Built to army specifications, the course would provide both faculty and student with valuable information concerning his true athletic ability.

President Erb Addresses IFC

Dr. Donald M. Erb, University president, addressed members of the interfraternity council Tuesday evening at the Alpha Tau Omega house regarding problems and functions of the campus fraternities.

President Erb spoke of a new house scholarship system which is being worked out by the council.

Also a coordination of fraternity social activities with the war effort, and a community program of the campus fraternities to pitch in and do everything they can to help win the war, was commented on by President Erb.

Specific problems brought up at the meeting by Dr. Erb were the appropriation of a sum of money to buy a new intramural trophy which has been lost, and the elimination of red tape concerning the transfer of intramural trophies from one house mantle to another.

This will be done by the defending house handing the trophy in question to the council itself, which in turn will give it to the new champions of the respective sport that the house is engaged in, thus eliminating the slow process which was prevalent in previous years when one house had the responsibility of giving the trophy to the new champions.

Another point that came up in the meeting was the apportionment of high school students to the various fraternity houses that come to the University each year to attend the press confer-

Freshman Total Decreases One

The total freshman registration now stands at 1143, only one less than the number reported during the fall term a year ago, reports Clifford L. Constance, assistant registrar. With a few days yet in which to register the final report is expected to show a greater freshman enrollment than last year.

This fall 1586 men are registered compared with 1911 last year, a drop of 17 per cent. Records show a 12 per cent drop in women students, the number enrolled being 1229. Senior enrollment has decreased 15 per cent; sophomore class, 22 per cent; and the junior class losing 29 per cent.

University officials, who expected a marked decrease in enrollment, were encouraged by the gain in total enrollment from 81 to 85 per cent of last year's figures. Fewer old students have returned, causing most of the decrease.

Highest enrollments were in military, physical education, mathematics, and science departments, while professional schools suffered a 29 per cent drop. The law school reports a 10 per cent loss, journalism and architecture and allied arts show a 22 per cent drop, and the school of business administration 27 per cent. Better off was the school of music with 7 per cent fewer enrollees.
