

Noise Fiesta to Boom Again for Drive

Doctor to Tell US-Brazilian Relationships

Students who wonder what foreign visitors think of our country when they come from South America will have their question answered this morning when Dr. Hernane Tavares de Sa speaks at an all-campus assembly in McArthur court at 11 o'clock.

All 11 o'clock classes will be excused today and will meet at 11 o'clock Thursday.

Studies vs. Schools

"A Brazilian Discovers the United States" is the title of Dr. Tavares' speech. Dr. Victor P. Morris, faculty chairman of the International Relations committee will introduce Dr. Tavares in the absence of Dr. Donald M. Erb, University president.

Dr. Tavares is making a tour of the United States to study classes and laboratories in schools here, and to lecture on subjects concerning Brazilian-American relations. His tour is sponsored by the Institute of International Education and Westminster college at Fulton, Missouri.

Lectures Scheduled

Last night Dr. Tavares spoke at a meeting sponsored by Phi Beta Kappa and Sigma Xi. At noon today he will address the Eugene Rotary club at a luncheon at the Osburn hotel.

Wednesday the Brazilian will give a lecture under the auspices of the University scholarly lectures committee of the faculty. Dr. Rudolf F. Ernst, chairman of the program committee, will preside at the meeting in the faculty room of Friendly hall.

Weekend Comment

If your friends aren't back from Portland yet
Don't get weak and nervous.
They're probably in a restaurant,
Still waiting for some service.

Crowd Ban Lifted

The army order restricting crowds of over 5000 on the west coast has now, in effect, been eliminated, according to a statement by Secretary of War Stimson, made public by Senator McNary of Oregon. The regulation requires official approval of such gatherings, but it has been waived so many times that it is practically void.

UO's TRADITIONAL NOISE PARADE . . .

. . . will be held this Saturday. Contrary to the one from a former year shown above, this year's parade will be held without any motor-drawn vehicles in accordance with the national war effort. All living organizations are invited to join the parade and to bring their noise-makers and scrap metal. Man-drawn wagons are permissible.

Dr. Erb Travels East For Alum, NASUMeets

Dr. Donald M. Erb, University president, left the campus this week and will leave Portland by train today for a three weeks business trip in the East.

Dr. Erb will go first to New York for some business appointments there and to attend the meeting on October 19 of Oregon alumni living in New York. Dr. Allen Eaton, director of the department of arts and social works of the Russell Sage Foundation, in charge of the meeting.

To Washington

On October 20 Dr. Erb will go to Washington, D. C., and on the 22nd, 23rd, and 24th of this month he will attend the annual meeting of the National Association of State Universities in Chicago.

In Louisville, Ky., Dr. Erb will attend the meetings of the Association of American Medical Colleges on October 26 and 27. He will return to the campus November 2.

Mr. Schenk on Trip

Harry M. Schenk, assistant professor of journalism, will go as far as Chicago with Dr. Erb. While there he will attend the Newspaper Associations Meeting. (Please turn to page three)

Pledges Note; Flit No More

Positively no more stealing of silverware, makeup, and vital parts of electric light systems . . . no more locking up of worthy members on sleeping porches . . . no more smearing of sticky substances on important furniture . . . i.e., no more walkouts by women's living organizations was the edict of heads of houses Monday afternoon. Housemothers, who also met, heartily supported the measure.

Violators of the edict will go before the disciplinary committee, and rushing and pledging privileges will be taken away for a year.

Oregana Pics Today: Officers and Tri Delts

Pictures of class officers for the Oregana will be taken today in the photograph studios in the basement of Johnson hall, J. Wesley Sullivan, editor, announced. Sophomore officers will report at 3 p.m., juniors at 3:30, and seniors at 4 p.m. Class officer pictures will be cancelled in case of rain, Sullivan stressed.

Pictures of the Delta Delta Delta house will be taken downtown today in the Kennell-Ellis studios. Procedure will be the same as for other houses, and rain will not cancel the pictures.

University All Out for Metal In Last Parade for Duration

By BETTY LU SIEGMAN

The traditional glory of an Oregon noise parade will return to the campus for a one-day stand, the last for the duration, Saturday in an all-University drive to raise scrap iron and steel for the nation's fighting forces.

Plans for the noise parade received okay of Dean of Men Virgil D. Earl Monday and were announced by Sigma Delta Chi, national professional journalistic fraternity, and the Emerald, co-sponsors of the campus drive.

Navy Draws Paul Washke

Paul R. Washke, professor of physical education at the University for the past 13 years, left Monday evening for the University of Arizona, where he will become a naval lieutenant (s.g.), upon the completion of an extensive training course.

Working under the Gene Tunney program of physical fitness, Washke expects to be an administrative assistant under some branch of the navy's physical program.

Mrs. Washke did not accompany him to Tucson but will await the arrival of more definite plans before she joins her husband.

While at the University, Washke was organizer and director of the intramural program, and an outstanding figure in national societies of physical education.

Faculty Series Opens Season

Sigurd Nilssen, bass baritone, will open the faculty series of recitals tonight at 8:30 in the school of music auditorium. Mr. Nilssen has been a professor of voice at the University since 1940. He is a graduate of the Whittman Conservatory of Music.

Featured on the program will be the University string quartet, who will accompany Mr. Nilssen in the song "Vaaren" by Grieg. Quartet arrangements are by Rex Underwood, director of the University orchestra.

To begin his concert Mr. Nilssen has chosen a group of 17th century English airs, among which is "I Attempt From Love's Sickness to Fly," by Purcell. He also since "Si, Tra i Ceppi," from the opera "Berenice," by Handel; several songs by Schumann and Hugo Wolf, "Don Juan's Serenade," by Tschaiikovsky; a group of Norwegian folk songs, and several selections by modern composers. Margaret Steinmetz will accompany Mr. Nilssen at the piano. The concert is free to all.

'Hobby' Needs Talent; Asks for Hoopsters

All men interested in varsity basketball are requested by Coach Howard "Hobby" Hobson to meet Thursday evening at 7:15 in room 101 in the physical education building. There will be a short meeting followed by a basketball moving picture. Freshman hoopmen are meeting every afternoon at 4:30 in McArthur court, any new material will be welcomed.

Ex-Homecoming Tradition

Long a Homecoming tradition, the noise parade was dropped last year. The spirit of noise will renew under the cry "all out" for scrap iron and scrap steel in the newly opened "home front."

All men's and women's organizations will be paired for the Saturday parade, run in cooperation with a city-wide celebration, and prizes will be awarded to the pairs making the most noise.

UO Drive Saturday

The regular scrap drive day is Sunday for Eugene-at-large as well as the University campus, but most of the Oregon scrap is expected to be turned in to a city pile following the Saturday parade.

Today at noon Kwama, sophomore women's service honorary, and Skull and Dagger, sophomore men's service honorary, will go around to every living organization on the campus to explain about the individual houses' part in the scrap iron drive.

Motors Not Allowed

Representatives of the various living organizations will draw for the house that they will be paired with, at 4 p.m. on Wednesday.

Horses, wagons, carts, or anything else along this line may be used for transportation, but no motors or motorized vehicles will be allowed.

Until last year noise parades had been an annual feature of UO homecoming.

Registration Nears 3,000

The second week of late registration increased the University population 110 students and brought the total number to 2,925, or 14 per cent below the number enrolled last year during fall term, according to figures from the office of Clifford Constance, assistant registrar.

There are 10 more freshmen on the campus this year than were enrolled in the class of '45 at this time last year. All other classes have shown a decrease with 21 per cent fewer sophomores this year, 28 per cent fewer juniors, and 13 per cent fewer seniors.

Men are still outnumbering women at Oregon by more than 7 per cent, with the males exactly 387 ahead of the girls.

Social Events Deadline Set for 5 Wednesday

Deadline for the recording of all social events in the office of the dean of women has been set at Wednesday afternoon at 5. This includes house dances, desserts, but not firesides.
