Houses to Pair for Scrap Drive

Representatives to Meet In 'Shack' at 4 p.m. Today

One scrap iron drive representative from each men's living organization will draw for the women's house that will be a partner of his group at 4 p.m. today in the journalism building.

Men's houses, through their representatives, will immediately contact women's groups to start their hunt for scrap, according to Ray Schrick, co-chairman of the affair. (A complete list of potential items appears on this page.)

Last for Duration

The last noise parade for the duration will start at 10:30 a.m. Saturday. Its probable route will be up Willamette street from Fifth to Thirteenth and down Thirteenth to Pearl street where all scrap will be dumped.

All houses are urged to make as much noise as possible for the parade. The only limit to the event is that no motor vehicles can be used, but wagons, horses, or anything else without a motor will be apropos.

Only Iron, Steel Wanted

Only scrap iron and steel are wanted for the campus drive. In other words, no tin cans, papers, rags, or rubber should be turned in at this time.

Details about prizes awarded to organizations making the most noise will be announced within the next two days.

Scrap Metal Wanted To Join Racket March

The following articles are wanted for the scrap iron drive and noise parade:

Ash cans, pails, saw blades, metal beds, springs, old irons, lawn mowers, radiators, washing machines, kitchen sinks, pipe, farm, garden and automobile tools, electric motors, fans, clocks, metal cabinets, jar tops, light fixtures, furnace grates, lamp bulbs, golf clubs, plant stands, wash boards, metal hangers, notebook hinges, kitchen utensils, and trophies.

Social Chairmen Meet Thursday

All-men social chairmen will meet Thursday at 4 p.m. in the Gerlinger alumni room to discuss and explain new social regulations.

Nuts Attract Gamma Phis

By CHARLES POLITZ

Singing "Lulu, we love you trol-loo," and clad in an assortment of shorts, slacks, boots and plaid shirts that would have had Vogue editors agog, 14 girls of the Gamma Phi Beta house went all-out for defense Tuesday by devoting the day to relieving the acute shortage of filbert pickers in the Eugene area.

The novice pickers climbed aboard a 5-ton truck at noon Tuesday, armed with a gallon jug of milk, sandwiches, and cake to stave off hunger, and a happy determination to do their bit; then bounced and sang while rolling four miles out of town to the Howell Produce and Nut Farm.

Saturday Scrap Parade Climaxes Campus Drive

What goes on in scrap drive.

1. One representative of each men's living organization will appear at the journalism school at 4 p.m. today.

2. Each representative will draw the name of a women's house with which his group will work on the noise parade.

3. Men's and women's houses — paired together — will search their houses for any and all scrap iron and steel (see list of potential items on this page).

4. Collect scrap for the Saturday morning parade in your attic or basement.

5. Plan transportation other than autos or other motor driven vehicles for the parade. Use wagons, horses, or anything equally motorless.

6. The parade will start Saturday morning at 10:30.

7. It will be judged on the amount of noise made by the scrap the different groups carry. No motor devices can be used.

Faculty Firemen Need Volunteer Assistants

Volunteers for fire control duty in campus buildings were requested Tuesday to meet with Wayne Massey, in charge of this section of campus air raid protection. Fifty students will be needed to assist faculty firemen, Massey said. Either men or women may volunteer for this war duty Thursday at 7:30 a.m. in room 101 in the men's physical ed building.

Campus Awaits Reserve Board

A joint procurement board, representing the army, navy, marines and the coast guard, will be on the campus October 27 through 29 to enlist students in the various deferment programs offered by the several branches of the armed forces.

On their first visit the board will be presented at an assembly Tuesday, October 27, at which time the officers will explain the reserve programs to interested students. After the assembly they will open offices on the campus where applications will be received for enlistment.

Contrary to popular rumor, no reserves will be closed soon, or have been closed to date. Eighteen and nineteen-year-olds should not "rush to the nearest recruiting station" because of the president's speech Monday night. There is still plenty of time for them to enlist before the draft catches them.

Medical Exams

The board will return with medical officers to complete enlistments of those men who are interviewed. The medical examinations will be conducted November 5 through 14, and will be for all branches of the service.

Officers will interview prospective service men for enlistment in the navy's V-1, V-5, and V-7, the army air corps, the enlisted reserve corps, the marine reserve, and the coast guard reserve.

ISA President Sets Senate Meet Thursday

All senators must be present at the ISA senate meeting scheduled for Thursday, at 4, in 204 Chapman, Al Larsen, president, announced yesterday.

High Sheriffs Spot Shavers

Jim Popp, high sheriff of the sophomore Whiskerino, yesterday announced the appointment of deputy sheriffs in each men's living organization. Popp also announced the first dunking for violation of the non-shaving rule would be held today at noon in front of the College Side.

Plans for the Whiskerino, to be held at McArthur court Saturday, October 24, were virtually completed at a meeting of committee heads Monday.

Featured in the short entertainment at the dance will be the presentation of a gold shaving mug to the sophomore with the best growth of whiskers.

Joe and Betty

The winners of the Joe College and Betty Coed titles will also receive recognition at that time.

Chairman Bryce Sidesinger announced a 14-piece orchestra has been secured to play at the Whiskerino, the first all campus dance of the year. The name of the orchestra will be disclosed this week.

Tickets for the annual sophomore class dance will go on sale in all men's living organizations next Monday, according to Phyllis Horstman, ticket chairman.

Infirmaries Inmates Freed, Received

The infirmary is doing a thriving business. Mary Jane Terry, Helen Holden, Janeth Peterson, and Robert Hull were admitted Tuesday. The total number of patients now stands at ten, four short of capacity.

The other inmates of the capsule hotel are Maxine Marsh, Ted Odland, Americo DeBenedetti, Ed Murphy, Verne Sellin, and a nurse, Miss Gladys Samel.

Jack Schell and Jean Hayes were dismissed Tuesday.

All-America Rating Goes To Yearbook

By BETTY LU SIEGMAN

Scoring the highest number of points of any yearbook in the United States, the 1942 Oregana was once again awarded the coveted rating of all-American by the National Scholastic Press association, according to a report received Tuesday from its headquarters at the University of Minnesota.

The annual was rated highest in its class, which includes colleges and universities with 2,500 to 5,000 students. It also scored more points than any other yearbook in all other classes.

'Honor Roll' Abandoned

Last year's Oregana received the Honor Role of Distinction rating as well as all-American. This award has been discontinued.

Comments on the Oregana score sheet were exceptionally complimentary and ratings for the different types of work done on the book, such as printing, cover, and photography, were all "excellent" or "superior."

Cover Lauded

The outstanding comment was that "the state of Oregon could be seen adequately" in this year's book. The cover was especially mentioned as one of the book's outstanding features.

Len Barde Sets 'War' Leaders

Three new heads of the campus war board were announced by Chairman Leonard Barde in a meeting last night. They are, Jean Frideger, secretary; Jack Robinson, head of finance; and Norma Trevorrow, publicity.

Barde conferred with the three appointees, explaining the importance and immensity of the job to be done.

"Last year, students perished the thought of war in social activities," he said. "Those who tried to do something about it received for the most part disinterest and non-support.

"This is the beginning of a new era in the war effort on the campus. Students will wake up to the fact that there's work to be done, and we can do it."

Drives

The main part of this work will be in the form of drives for scrap, for stamps, for knitting, sewing, cigarettes, candy, bonds to baby-clothes, Red Cross to rubber.

"We are fighting the war right here, in this University," Miss Trevorrow declared. "There's not as much time or money for cokes or bridge or magazines. Instead the tremendous energies and manpower should be converted over to progressive defense work. This is our war to win."
