

YW Members Convene Today

First all-membership assembly of the YWCA will find girls from all organizations gathering at the bungalow this afternoon at 4 when plans for the coming year will be explained and discussed.

Janet Farnham is chairman of the assembly and Abbie Jane White YW president, will preside, with Genevieve Working, vice-president, assisting.

Other Arrangements

Francis Oram is in charge of the worship service and Stephanie Peterson has arranged for special music for the occasion. Each cabinet member will give a short talk on the committee they are in charge of, telling of its functions and purposes.

Discussion during the assembly will concern the purpose of the YW, and what girls want to get from the YW.

Early Meet

Pep meeting for today's assembly was held Monday afternoon when one representative from each girls' organization met at the bungalow to discuss plans for today's meeting.

All girls are being urged to attend the all-membership assembly today.

Refreshments will be served during the afternoon.

Oregana Shots

Pictures for the 1943 Oregana will be taken today of the Kappa Sigma house, according to Oregana Editor Sullivan.

Who Dunit? Bike Vanishes

Looks as though bicyclists will have to hand pet names on their mechanical mounts if the two-wheelers become any more popular. It's no longer safe to say, "Sure, John, you can ride my bike downtown. It's parked right outside." John gets a little confused when he walks out to be confronted by a long line of steel steeds.

It happened Tuesday to John Jensen, Emerald advertising man, who asked to borrow a fellow worker's bike for a hurry-up trip to town. He rode off happily on what he thought was his friend's war-time social security.

Here I Go

Some time later Eric W. Allen, dean of the school of journalism, confidently donned his pant clips, buttoned up his overcoat, and walked out expecting to find his Hawthorne flyer in its customary place. It wasn't.

The whole matter was cleared up, however, when the party of the first part offered the dean his own bicycle for the long ride home.

Note to Hoopsters

When—tonight at 7:15.

Where—room 101 physical education building.

What—short meeting followed by a basketball movie.

Who—anyone interested in varsity basketball.

Coach Howard "Hobby" Hobson urges all men interested in varsity to be at the meeting. Freshman hoopmen meet every afternoon at 4:30 in McArthur court; any new material will be welcomed.

Pneumonia Cases Dominate Infirmary

Two pneumonia cases dominate the infirmary roll call, with several colds and other ailments occupying the rest of the list.

Bob Faw, Wallace Clark, and Jane Baker were admitted Wednesday, keeping the number of patients at ten. Ted Odland was released and readmitted later in the day.

Americo DeBenedetti and Bob Hull were discharged.

Houses to Make Signs

All men's and Women's houses are asked to prepare signs for their own use in the Saturday morning scrap noise parade.

Girls' Pool Beckons Men to Friday Dip

Social swims sponsored by the University will begin Friday night when all men and women are invited to meet at 7:30 at the women's pool in Gerlinger hall.

The swims will be held from 7:30 to 9 every Friday night. Men are asked to bring their own suits, but the women may check suits at the pool. Women, however, must bring caps. Life guards will be present throughout each swim.

Girls, Please Claim

Since the gloves are too small for Dean Hazel P. Schwering, dean of women, the scarves too gay for Mrs. MacDuff, the checkbooks from unfamiliar banks, and the purses just the wrong colors, the dean asks that the girls who left these foreign articles in her office during rush week to please call for them.

Co-op Social News

Adele Riggs was elected all co-op social chairman at a meeting of social chairmen Monday. It was decided that an all co-op dance would replace the usual individual dances, and was scheduled for October 31.
