Homecoming To Honor Men In Services

By ROBERTA BOYD

University men who have joined the armed forces will receive formal recognition in the latest Homecoming contest, it was announced Thursday by Pat Cloud, chairman.

The contest starts today and is open to every men's living organization on the campus. Each house entering the contest will trace back as far as possible and compile a list of all their alums who are now in some branch of the armed services.

Prize

"To the victor," the house with the greatest number of alums in the services, will go "the spoils," this time in the form of a service flag with the number of stars corresponding to the number of men the winning house has in the service.

The flag will be awarded on Friday night of the Homecoming weekend at the proposed McArthur court rally.

Reserves Honor

At this rally, in honor of these alums, the various campus reserves, including the marines, army, navy (V-1, V-5, V-7), air corps, and ROTC, will be assigned separate seats and from these will sing their respective martial hymns.

The names of the alums are to be compiled by November 2, and will be checked at the alumni office. These lists should include the alum's name, rank (if possible), and class.

Exec Comm Vacancy Open

Position of sophomore representative on the executive committee is open and petitions for the position will be accepted by the committee until noon Saturday, October 17, according to Les Anderson, ASUO president.

The vacancy was created when Harold Locke, elected last spring, quit school this term.

Petitions

Sophomores interested should turn in their petitions to Carolyn Holmes, secretary of the committee.

Applicants will be interviewed at 4 o'clock next Monday afternoon in the ASUO office in McArthur court. Further notice of the interviews will be given the applicants, according to Anderson.

Eligibility

Sophomores petitioning should have a certificate of eligibility for activities from the dean's office.

Locke was the executive committee representative to the educational activities board. In his absence some other member of the committee will be appointed at the next meeting.

Homecoming Slogans

Because of the recent tire shortage caused in the main by the war again, An apropos slogan for Homecoming is, "Retread your way to Oregon."

Activity Men Ineligible

Stiffened eligibility rules adopted by the scholarship committee for participation in extra-curricular activities have made ineligible for office, Earle Russell, yell king; Ted Bush, associate editor of the Emerald; and Sprague Carter, senior football manager.

The new rules adopted by both the scholarship committee and the ASUO executive committee raise the required GPA of activity participators to a cumulative of 2.00 with the preceding term's GPA at least a 2.00.

Old Rules

In the past the required GPA cumulative required for activity participation was 1.75 with the preceding term's grade not below 1.50 for lower division students. Requirements for upper division students stood at a 2.00 cumulative and not less than 1.75 for the preceding term.

The new rules of the scholarship committee were adopted August 31 and further amended this week. With the exception of the two clauses added in parenthesis to rules two and three these rules were adopted last spring by the ASUO executive committee.

Additions

The additions in parenthesis were added by the scholarship committee but are not part of the rules adopted by the executive committee.

Sure Advice-- Scrap All Day

There's really only one way to thoroughly enjoy yourself at the noise parade.

Saturday morning, crawl out of the wrong side of the bed and start the day horribly. After finding a hard blunt instrument, remove your shoe and kick it with a swift, crunching movement. Then brush your teeth with a good depilatory but only after adjusting the cabinet door to a suitable range for the upward motion of your head.

Other suggestions include dashing to an eight o'clock that isn't, returning too late for breakfast, dropping your books in the mud, and flipping on your face in the FeeGee lot.

Then steam down to the parade—grab a hammer and let go! You can't lose.

Dorm Social Council Sponsors 'Stag Tag'

All students living in dorms are invited to attend the "Stag Tag" tonight from 8 to 11 in the men's dormitory, according to Stan Hager, dance chairman.

Sponsored by the inter-dormitory social council, this is the first all-dorm dance of the year. Since music will be furnished by records, campus clothes are in order.

Determined Coeds Arm, Slate Maleless Capers

By BETTY ANN STEVENS

To "shoo" unwelcome males away from the sacred precincts of Gerlinger the night of November 12, senior "cops," i.e.—16 determined female members of the senior class, will guard all entrances to the strictly male-less Coed Capers.

Garbed in borrowed, strayed, or stolen Order of the "O" regalia, the following newly-appointed girls will police the all-campus event:

"Women in War Work" is the tentative theme of the Capers, according to Janet Ross, chairman. Complete details will be announced later.

Prizes will be awarded to the living organization appearing in the most outstanding costumes. Last year Hendricks hall received the first prize. Awards will also be given for the class presenting the best skit, a contest which the sophomores won last year.

Bookstores Feature

Displayed at the Co-op store this week is a novel by Sally Elliott Allen, wife of Dean Eric W. Allen of the University school of journalism. Published by Liveright company, the story concerns the affairs of a cultured cabinet maker who has a homely philosophy and a conventional wife.

Sketched in the story are descriptions of Mexico where Mrs. Allen has traveled. The author has long been active in Eugene's Very Little Theatre, and has also headed Mortar Board, Pot and Quill, and Matrix Table at the University.

Sleepy Duck Gets Shuteye

Night might be the ideal time to sleep—when it's dark, and there aren't any bright lights to bother you, but who won't welcome a few minutes of "shuteye" in the daytime—if he can find a suitable spot?

Some brilliant Oregon student seems to be making the best of the situation, and even seems to have the solution to Old Sol's disturbing rays. He merely settles down in the reference room of the library, dons a pair of dark glasses—and he's off to slumberland!!!!

Battleship Oregon To Enter Scrap

The battleship Oregon, which public school students of Oregon once saved from the junk pile lost its fight for life Tuesday, when the navy officially requested that it be turned into scrap.

Plans are now being made to hand the 50-year-old Spanish war relic over to Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox in Portland on December 7, the first anniversary of Pearl Harbor. The old vessel will yield approximately 10,000 tons of metal—one-tenth of Oregon's quota in the nationwide drive.

Copper, Iron, Noise Parade Due Saturday

With only one day left to "get in the scrap" until the deadline Saturday at 10:30 a.m. Eugene's dump grounds might well be raided along with houses' old scrap cans, pails, lawn mowers, trophies, and even fraternity and bobby pins.

Judges for the noise parade will be Virgil D. Earl, dean of men, Miss Janet Smith, employment secretary, and Warren Price, assistant professor of journalism.

Noise and Scrap

They will decide which pair of houses makes the most noise and contributes the most scrap.

Prizes for the affair are two $25 defense bonds, each awarded to the winning men's and women's house.

Attach Signs

"Each house should see that it has its own sign attached to its own junk during the parade," reminded Ray Schrick, co-chairman of the campus scrap drive.

The University band will also march in the parade which starts at 10:30 a.m., and will form on Fifth street near the Oregon Electric depot continuing up Willamette, turning left on Thirteenth and over to Pearl street where all scrap will be dumped.

Scrap Parade Rules Outlined

What to use in the scrap iron noise parade:

1. One motor - driven truck or car.
2. As many non-motor driven wagons, bicycles, carts, or trailers as can be lined up.

Rules for the noise parade:

1. All noise must be "hand generated."
2. All scrap used to create noise must be thrown onto the scrap pile at Thirteenth and Pearl following the parade.
3. Judging will be based 50 per cent on noise, and 50 per cent on scrap volume turned in.
4. Violators to rules one and two will be disqualified.

UO Grad Assists In Prison Camp

Mrs. Marjorie Murdock Hoover, a University of Oregon graduate in 1938, is one of the staff members helping to administer the American prison camp in Japanese-held Manila, according to word received by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Murdock of Booth.

First news of her safety was brought by Jennifer White, AP correspondent, who returned on the Gripsholm. She went to the Philippines in 1941, and there married William S. Hoover. At the time of the occupation of the islands, Mrs. Hoover was employed by Francis B. Sayre, high commissioner of the Philippines.

Mrs. Hoover is a member of Alpha Phi and of Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic society.
