

Yell Squad Emerald Hit By Action

(Continued from page one)
committee read as follows:

Present Rules

"A student who wishes to engage in extracurricular activities at the University of Oregon:

1. Must be regularly enrolled in the University.
2. Must have completed a minimum of 12 term hours, the previous term (except that incompletes may be included and not more than one term allowed for their removal.)
3. Must be registered in a minimum of 12 term hours. (Except in the case of a qualified senior who may meet the graduation requirements by carrying a lighter load.)
4. Must have a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.00.
5. Must have a minimum grade point average of 2.00 for the last term registered in the University previous to participation.
6. Must not be on probation, either academic or disciplinary.
7. Should any question arise in regard to the application of the above rules because of different

Physical Check-ups Scheduled Saturday

Physical examinations for both men and women who have not been given entering examinations will be held Saturday.

All freshmen and transfer students except those from Oregon State college are asked to report to the health service.

Saturday will be the last day physical examination will be given.

systems of grading or special regulations pertaining to courses within any department of the University, the dean of men, and the president of the associated students of the University of Oregon are authorized to pass finally upon the eligibility of men students; the dean of women and the president of the associated students of the University of Oregon are authorized to pass finally upon the eligibility of women students.

8. Any student holding office by election or appointment is automatically removed from said office upon his failure to meet any of the above regulations."

Nineteen graduates of Detroit high schools recently have been awarded scholarships.

Dr. John H. Furbay of Mills college has been drafted as lecturer to officers and enlisted men.

OREGON ^{Daily} EMERALD

Copy desk:

Fred Kuhl, city editor
Marjorie Young, assistant editor
Rod Swanson
Ross Yates
Gene McPherson
Kathryn Terjeson
Courtney Swander
Lois Pringle
Bob Edwards
Betty Lu Siegman

Night staff:

Bud Churchill, night editor
Tony Nickachos
Bob Peckham
Louise Montag
Marion Saltness
Shirley Wallace
Dorothy Stevens
Shirley Davis

Sports Staff:

Fred Beckwith
Bryce Sidesinger
Ned Liebman
Dan Gassner
Bill Stratton
Jane Alderman
George Kapel

At Second Glance

(Continued from page two)
student-body president, or how many hours of "A" I occasionally received."

He said all this in sheer seriousness, his mouth parting with military briskness. "Those are the things that I want to remember when I'm 'up there.' And when I think just how important they are, then I don't want them taken away. But, if I can help someone else remember them by getting this mess over with a little faster, than it's worth it."

Overlook the Small

"People are usually in such a hurry to go anywhere that they overlook those smaller items, but they're more important than any dance or rally committee. They help one make impressions and that's half of life." He paused a little and then said softly: "that's what I'm fighting for, and to me it's a hell of a lot bigger than anything else."

And perhaps that's the way Captain Dale Lasselle felt; at least we think so, for along with a vivid college career, he liked the smaller things and perhaps he enjoyed remembering the sound of the eight o'clock bell in Oregon, or the echoing football cheer that passed from our throats nearly six years ago.

GOSSIPATTER: Cancel all those nasty rumors about Alpha Chi Marge Curtis going steady, 'cause they're not true at all... Too bad that the AWS has to smuggle Mr. Hoyt Franchere into their selected assembly, because his lecture on "Rise of Jazz" is worthy of an all-campus assembly. Besides being one of the best lecturers in classrooms, he can make a noisy, rebellious subject like jazz suitable for presentation anywhere. How about it, AWS? . . . Looks like the noise parade Saturday will really be the biggest thing of its kind all year, now that Homecoming will be stripped down to war-time nudity . . . hear that the Gamma Phis are having filberts at every meal; on cereal, with salad and over steaks . . .

OVERHEARD AT THE SIDE: The sleepy, round-eyed sophomore sat lumpily by the counter and asked the waitress why the coffee tasted like mud. She smiled and shot back, "and why shouldn't it, especially when it was just ground this morning?"

Scene at Random!

(Continued from page two)
She then turned to one of her fellow coeds saying, "Why I thought you put the salt and pepper in it."

—Oregon State Barometer.

The faculty of Kent State university voted to adopt the quarter system beginning this fall.

Foundation Buys Kern's Paintings

The Solomon Guggenheim foundation has announced the purchase of two pictures painted by Miss Maude I. Kerns, associate professor of art education at the University. The paintings are two of six non-objective works purchased by the foundation galleries for the Guggenheim anniversary exhibition.

The Guggenheim foundation galleries, located at 24 E. 54th street, New York City, contain perhaps the most complete collection of modern paintings in America. Many pictures by European artists are included in the collection. Most of the paintings are non-objective.

The Guggenheim anniversary exhibition lasts from June to October. Miss Kern's paintings will be exhibited during that period in the foundation gallery in New York City. Other pictures on display at the same time include works by invited guest artists and Guggenheim fellowship artists.

Theta Sig Pledges

Connie Averill, senior in journalism, was pledged to Theta Sigma Phi, women's national journalism honorary, Wednesday afternoon.

CAMPUS CALENDAR

Open house at Westminster tonight will feature a super style show. The affair will start at 8 o'clock.

Zeta Tau Alpha Dinner Fetes Anniversary

Honoring their fourteenth year at this University and their fiftieth year as a national sorority, the Zeta Tau Alphas held a founder's banquet on Wednesday evening. Dean Hazel P. Schwering, Miss Margaret Faulstich, national field secretary, and alumnae from Salem, Corvallis, and Eugene were guests of honor.

Each member and alumna of the sorority is sending a 50-cent war stamp into the national office this week in honor of their anniversary.

Dr. Warren D. Smith, head of the geography and geology departments, spoke to the American Association of University Women last night at 8 p.m. in Gerlinger. The subject of Dr. Smith's talk was "American World Politics."

SALLY ELLIOTT ALLEN

AUTHOR OF

"NOT HERS ALONE"

AUTOGRAPHED COPIES ARE ON SALE AT THE

University 'CO-OP'

ST. MARY'S EPISCOPAL CHURCH
13th and Pearl
Sunday
Services—8 and 11
Student Canterbury Club, 6 to 7,
Parish House
Wednesday—7 a.m., Communion, Gerlinger Hall
Rev. E. S. Bartlam, Rector Phone 4606 or 4808
Miss Caroline Hines, Student Advisor Ph. 4605-J or 4808

The Gift Photograph

BY

Kennell-Ellis

961 Willamette.

Phone 1697.

DINING

Delicious food and courteous service are the best combination in town.

Take your girl to the EUGENE HOTEL DINING ROOM for dinner soon.

Eugene Hotel

222 E. Broadway.

Phone 1695.