Gasoline Ration Cards Issued November 9

The Baruch recommendation of nationwide gasoline rationing will go into effect with the registration for gasoline ration cards on November 9, the office of price administration announced Tuesday.

Car owners will be allowed four gallons weekly on an "A" card (non-essential driving) provided these two provisions are met:

1. Owner must swear he has no more than five tires. Any tires in excess of five may be sold to the government.

2. He must agree to periodic inspection of his tires as soon as arrangements can be made.

Application blanks will be available beginning October 27 at gas stations and other public places. On November 9 these blanks, properly filled out, may be taken to local schools, where rationing officials will issue "A" cards.

Those needing additional motor fuel for essential purposes may apply for supplemental rations after receiving the "A" book.

It was pointed out that the periodic tire inspection would be the basis upon which essential civilian needs for new tires will be determined.

Stevensonia Given To Campus Library

Eighty-nine volumes of Stevensonia from the library of the late Charles Basey were donated to the library recently by Miss Mabel Dodson, Head Librarian. Willis Warren announced Tuesday.

The collection also includes 21 pictures, and will be housed in the general library stacks with the books from the library of Captain James Dodson Basey, father of Charles Basey.

Westminster House Plans Drama Class

The first Westminster dramatics class of the season will meet at Westminster house today at 4. The group offers opportunity for experience, as shown by the more than 25 performances given last year to granges, PTAs and churches.

The first play of the 1942-1943 season, the title of which is undisclosed as yet, will be presented at the Central Presbyterian church in early November.

Classes will begin at 7:30 and will be held every Tuesday evening for nine weeks. An enrollment of 50 in the first class must be met in order to cover expenses, Miss Alden said.

Swimming, dancing, body-building, and games will be offered. All equipment is furnished except for badminton equipment and swimming caps, and shoes. Classes will meet in the women's gymnasium. Further information may be obtained by calling 3300, extension 262.
