New Orchestra, Contest Winners Highlight Entertainment for Sophomore Whiskerino

By HARRY GLICKMAN

What the sophomore Whiskerino lacks in elaborate decorations and expensive equipment it will make up for with an entirely new orchestra and short but good entertainment.

That about sums up the situation as Whiskerino time draws near. The first all-campus dance of the year is slated for spacious McArthur court Saturday, October 24, following the football game against the University of Idaho. Dancing will last from 9 p.m. until 12:15.

Carey Plays

George Carey's 14-piece University dance band will make its campus debut Saturday, although the band is scheduled to play a few numbers in Thursday's assembly.

All candidates for Betty Coed and Joe College are to meet in Gerlinger hall Thursday night, at which time a committee will narrow the contestants down to four each. The men will meet at 7:30 p.m. and the girls at 8:15. The committee consists of Dick Williams, educational activities director; Ed Walker, University ticket office manager; and Lyle Nelson, head of the University news bureau.

High Sheriff Jim Popp announced Tuesday a final dunking for those sophomores who have violated the non-shave rule will

Drive Staged For Memorial

A memorial drinking fountain to Walter Van Atta will be erected on the northeast corner of Thirteenth and Kincaid streets. In a recent letter to members of the faculty, Professor Warren D. Smith, Dr. John T. Ganoe, and Dean Ralph W. Leighton of the University stated that $250 must be raised among the faculty and townspeople to cover expenses of the project. So far $90 has been collected.

Mr. Van Atta was for many years a partner in the Claypole and Van Atta drug store. He was active in church work and a friend of many of the instructors on the campus. "He led an obscure life, but was a friendly sort of fellow," said Mr. Holmer, executive secretary for the drive. Mr. Holmer further stated that excellent spirit had been shown during the campaign for funds.

The fountain planned will be large and probably built of stone. Contributions may be made to Mr. Holmer at the YMCA house at 1225 Kincaid street. Checks should be made payable to Mr. J. O. Lindstrom, business manager of the University.

Kappa Phi Organizes At Wesley Tonight

Wesley house announced Tuesday that at six this evening, in the First Methodist church, there will be an organizational meeting of Kappa Phi, national Methodist girls' sorority.

Mrs. J. Edgar Purdy, of Salem, will present the preliminary plans for the establishment of this sorority in Eugene.

Frosh Post Open On ISA Council

Freshman representative of the ISA council will be elected Tuesday, and all freshmen interested in the office should submit a petition signed by 50 independent students to Leighton Platt, chairman of the ISA senate, at Campbell club by Friday noon.

The petition will constitute nomination for election, and should contain the name of the candidate.

Elections will be on Tuesday. The time and place will be announced in a later edition of the Emerald.

Regulations Published; Liquor Rules Stressed

The 1942 edition of the University regulations affecting student life is being distributed this week to living organizations and faculty members. Notable rules in the new booklet are those relating to social functions and chaperonage.

Chaperonage Fee

According to the regulations, "For all social functions requiring chaperonage, organizations shall pay a chaperonage fee set by the student affairs committee and approved by the president, unless exemption from the fee is obtained under regulations which follow. The dean of women has authority to exempt minor social occasions from this charge.

Fees collected (present fee is $5.00) shall be paid into a University trust fund to be administered by the business office, to

Perpetual Trophy Considered For Display Contest Prize

By ROBERTA BOYD

With the winning slogan, "The Home Fires Are Burning," as the theme for Homecoming weekend, plans for the sign contest have started rolling with the appointment of Jim Prior, Nancy Ames, Maxine Marsh, and Ed Atiyeh to the committee in charge.

Campus living organizations will outdo each other in an attempt to design and construct the most appropriate and "eye-catching" display to welcome Eugene-bound alums. They will be allowed to use, however, only $15 for material. This limit has been enforced in order to insure no elaborate or pre-war extravagance.

Coed Capers Go Patriotic

Besides furnishing one night of "hilarious entertainment" for a strictly feminine audience, Coed Capers are doing something "really worthwhile," according to Janet Ross, chairman.

Funds from the event will go toward two scholarship benefits—AWS scholarships, and a service-men's scholarship. The AWS scholarship is awarded to help worthy girls stay in school, while the servicemen's scholarship will go into a fund to help men who left school to go into the service complete their education.

Janet remarked that "a large turn-out is expected" to the AWS-sponsored all-campus affair, November 12.

There will be a meeting today of all committee heads at 4 p.m. at the ADPi house.

Tentative plans for this year's prize will include the presentation of a perpetual trophy, on which, each year, the winner's name will be engraved.

Eligibility of signs will be recognized only after a complete notice of entry has been filed with Bill Lilly, contest chairman, before Friday noon, November 6. With this application an itemized expense account must be attached and a brief description of the sign in order to assist the judges in deciding the winner.

It is imperative that all signs be completed by 6 p.m. Friday, November 6. Judging will take place between 7 and 9 that night. Judges are to be announced later, according to Lilly.

The Homecoming directorate crystallized into final form Tuesday evening when Chairman Pat Cloud filled remaining vacancies in his staff. New appointments are Uly Dorais, in charge of the alumni service contest; Pat Palmer, hospitality chairman, and Bass Dyer, director of special events.

Those already appointed are John J. Mathews, publicity chairman; Bill Lilly, sign contest chairman, and Marion Harris, executive secretary.

Amnesia Hits Intramurals

Three cases of amnesia resulting from intramural football injuries are in the infirmary. The amnesia is of a type which only temporarily affects the memory, making it impossible for the victims to remember how or when they were injured, according to Ione Wasen, infirmary nurse.

Three men and two women are now occupying cots in the palatial pill palace. They are Ed Walters, who was admitted Tuesday, Wallace Clark, Douglas Fetch, Ruth Eckhardt, and Lucy Jean Morris.

Bob Faw was released Tuesday.

Alumni Theme Song

(To be sung to the tune of "Keep the Home Fires Burning")
Keep the home fires burning,
While our hearts are yearning,
And if our tires weren't all blown out
Well, we'd all come home.
