More Shavers Set for Dunking

Final dunking before the sophomore Whiskerino will take place in front of College Side this afternoon at 4 p.m.

High Sheriff Jim Popp announced a new list of violators of the non-shaving rule who will be dealt their punishment this afternoon. At the same time Popp warned that sophomores are not to shave until Saturday or they will be given their punishment next week.

The new list includes Dan Dinges, Bob Fugit, Dan Plaza, Grover Hofstetter, Bob Wilhelm, Dick Sheehan, Paul Fouquet, Ed DeKeater, Al Popick, Ed Gerhard, Wayne Atwood, Eldon Jenne, Jack Kearnes, Fritz Giesecke, Tom Kaye, Jack Schell, and Bob Baldwin.

War Council

(Continued from page one)

be placed in front of the Co-op store, will be rung each time a coin is dropped. All money from this source will be put into war bonds which in turn will later be use afor student scholarships.

Carolyn Holmes, senior in social science, in charge of campus Red Cross, will conduct a surgical dressing class for all campus women beginning Saturday, from 9:20 to 12 a.m. in the home economics department in Chapman hall. Miss Holmes already has three months of service for the Red Cross sewing division to her credit and has proved that this type of class is successful.

Salvage Officers

Marge Curtis, junior in journalism and president of Phi Theta Upsilon, junior women's service honorary, and Bill Lilly junior in business administration, are co-chairmen of the salvage committee. Under this department a representative from each living organization on the campus will be appointed to conduct the plan for the salvage of all fats and tin cans which the cooks of the various houses have been asked to save, and for all other materials that students can contribute to the war effort.

These scrap articles will be collected about every two weeks and sold here in Eugene, according to Marge Curtis. Money from this will go into the defense council fund.

Living Defense

Jim Bennison, junior in law, is in charge of living organization defense which includes the training of students in first aid, how buckets, and other methods of housing protection.

The USO branch of the student war council is headed by Rohda

UO Alumni Office Lays Plans for Homecoming

Because the U.C.L.A.-Oregon game has become one of Oregon's most important games, a bigger Homecoming is hoped for than was expected earlier in the term, said LaVerne Davis, secretary to E. C. Fancett, alumni office head. Fundamental groundwork for Homecoming plans have been laid by the office in Friendly hall.

Although students, as hosts to alumni, are responsible for most of the committee work, Miss Davis said, the office is getting started on the dirty work-finding available rooms in Eugene for the homecomers, and appointing committees for registration and homecoming.

Miss Davis expected to have the Kwamas and Phi Thetas on the welcoming committee as in previous years.

ics. Plans for a cigarette drive for Oregon men will be announced

Blood Bank

Tim Brinton, president of Asklepiads, is in charge of the student blood bank. Men students on the campus have already been registered for blood donations, and it is expected that this part of the blood bank quota will be filled in approximately one month. Announcement of the registering of women students will be made later. The schedule for donors will be announced.

Anyone wishing to work or having any ideas for the defense program should write or call Len Barde immediately. Many students are needed for the numerous drives and functions planned for this year.

The defense council office is in the northeast corner in the balcony of the YMCA. Phone Ext.

Student Heads

(Continued from page one)

evening, and the formal banquet at the Osburn hotel Saturday evening with Dr. Burt Brown Barker, vice-president of the University, as guest speaker.

According to ASUO President Les Anderson, who will deliver the official welcome speech today, the delegates will receive complimentary tickets to the Oregon-Idaho game tomorrow afternoon and are to be guests of the sophomore class for the Whiskerino that evening.

Committee Heads

The following students head the committees for the convention: Wes Sullivan and Ray Schrick, program; Carolyn to put out fires by use of sand Holmes and Nancy Riesch, banquet; Max Brown and Russ Hudson, entertainment; Marge Dibble and Walt Dickinson, registration and finance; and Jim Bennison, ararngements. Harkson, junior in home econom-Overtimers BLACK TOWN BROWN TURF TAN

NYA Job Seekers Notified of Work

All students who have filled applications for NYA work previous to Thursday will receive notice to call at the office of Karl Onthank, dean of personnel, in Saturday's mail. These students who have not yet received their work assignments will call at the dean's office to sign an affidavit and oath of allegiance, and also receive their assign-

The three students who filled their applications Thursday will receive assignments next week.

Prep Press

(Continued from page one) complete program of activities appears on page three in the Em-

Program Two Days

Those on the two-day program include Dr. Earl M. Pallett, executive secretary of the University: Les Anderson, student body president; Eric W. Allen, dean of the school of journalism; W. F. G. Thacher, professor of advertising; Frank Short, professor of journalism; J. Wesley Sullivan, Oregana editor; H. T. Wiltshire, engraver; George Flint, printer; Richard C. Williams, three-time Oregana manager; Raymond J. Schrick, Emerald editor; G. Duncan Wimpress, Emerald managing editor; Warren C. Price. professor of journalism; George Turnbull, professor of journalism; Robert C. Hall, superintendent, University Press; Lyle Nelson, former Emerald editor, and Jack Billings, Emerald news ed-

Climax of the conference will be the announcement of awards granted to the best all-around high school paper in the state, the best paper in schools of less than 500 students, the best in schools of more than 500 students, the best mimeographed weekly and the best mimeographed monthly. An award will also be given for the best news notes in local papers.

ROTC Reserve Okayed

(Continued from page one)

those with military training is extremely small and consequently students who have had basic training, which qualifies them for non-commissioned officers, have every opportunity for rapid pro-

After undergoing training for 13 weeks, any enlisted man may apply for admission to an officer candidate school. ROTC training and two years or more in college are distinct assets in selection for admission to these candidate

It may be seen therefor that a student who enlists in the army enlisted reserve corps has an opportunity of winning a commission within about six months after being called to duty.

At Second Glance

(Please turn to page three) . . . And at a local restaurant, the trio of night-males waited long and patiently for their sandwiches. Finally the waitress passed by and one learned forward asking, "Are you the one that took our order?" The waitress smiled, "Why, yes . . ." "Well, you don't look a day older," came the answer. . . . And at a sorority front hall, a swain was taking his time in saying "goodnight." A senior attempted to drop casual hints that it WAS after 10:30. "Is it that late already?" he asked. "How long have I been here?" The senior smiled and quietly said, "There's a calendar on the wall behind you." . . . We know now that it's usually the

OREGON EMERALD

Shirley Davis, night editor Bud Churchill Dorothy Stevens Bill Stratton Barry Boldeman Pat Geil Nina Maxwell Virginia Pattison City desk:

Fred Weber, city editor Sidney Seymour Wilma Foster June Taylor Gene McPherson Ross Yates Rod Swanson Arliss Boone Fred Kuhl Courtney Swander Agatha Harding Elizabeth Haugen

Bud Churchill Office staff: Dorothy Frideger Betty McTavish Alysone Hales Lillian Sidman

Advertising staff: Shirley Davis, advertising manager Jim Lund Sally Fletcher . Erl Erlandson Mary McClintic Layout staff: Betty Lou Allegre Altha Paul

fresh egg who gets slapped in the pan. . . . And while an instructor in English literature was giving the class an assignment, a wee voice from the back of the room said, "Give me liberty or give me death!" The instructor immediately asked who said it. Again the voice spoke: "Patrick Henry." . . .

SHORT STORIETTE

A woman approached a college boy leading a dog and asked, "Is that dog a bloodhound?" The student nodded and said, "Here Rover, come and bleed for the lady."

Be Prepared for the Weekend

Let us clean and press your clothes for the game and Whiskerino.

UNIVERSITY TAILOR

1128 Alder, Phone 2641.

Dr. Pallet Orders Most In YWCA Donut Drive

Incomplete returns of the YWCA doughnut sale reveal that Dr. Earl M. Pallett, registrar, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon placed the largest orders, according to Nancy Richards, chairman of the house sale held this past week.

Doughnuts will be delivered October 22 and 23 to the various living organizations.

For the all-campus daughnut sale, October 28 and 29, Bonnie Umphlette, general chairman, announced the following committee heads: Virginia Welis, chairman of the all-campus sale; Peggy Wright, in charge of salesgir and Yvonne Torgler, the faculty

Flower Spray Singers' Pay

The sweet, melancholy strains of "You Are My Sunshine" floated from the lips of serenaders last Sunday night as they paid their tribute to Miss Margaret Troost, infirmary night nurse.

Flowers, as faded and jaded as the song, floated from the window into the grateful arms of the vocalists, who departed, satisfactorily rewarded.

After the Game After the Dance

come out to Bev's for a real treat. We feature short orders of all kinds. Beef, ham, and pork barbecues a specialty. Real milkshakes a dime. Service in your car if desired.

Open All Night

Bev's

1900 Block on W 6th. 100-Car Parking Space

For a Good Time

MEET AT THE

Corner West 11th and Willamette