

It's Our War . . .

By NORMA TREVORROW
 We dreamed of spangled banners
 And singing, marching men,
 Of plugging bows, and cannons
 And shudders from stern to stem,
 Of burning skies, and whites of eyes
 Of vigils, long and tense.
 We didn't know we'd also
 Pick walnuts for defense.

Probably, at the very moment you read this, some poor little SAE is being bonked on the dome by a bad old, awful old, dirty old walnut. Yes, another picking party started out at 8 o'clock this morning via the idea of Milton "Dutch" Schultz and Clinton Childs. It includes the whole of the SAE house, cozily crammed into a truck and a trailer and, with shining, happy young faces, they went booming off for eight hours of picking. It's hard work, no doubt, but still sounds like a heck of a lot of fun.

Agriculture Department

Under what better conditions could any living organization work—not only for the war but for a few funds for the rest of that banister or a front door of sumpin'. Ruth Collins is in charge of the agriculture part of our war effort, so when you want to plan a picking party, see her for information.

We see Nelda Rohrbach's Theta Chi, Chuck Putnam, fresh from pre-flight school at St. Mary's in California in his handsome navy blue uniform with gold stripes, heavy trench coat, and hat, nonchalantly walking about the campus while the girls take one look, dash off on their hands and knees, swing around on the trees a while, pulling out tufts of hair, grab a boulder, bury their faces in it, and si-i-gh-h . . . It makes us feel just like Thursdays—a little before one.

Dressing Uniforms

Speaking of uniforms, the females, too, cut a pretty figure in their supervisor uniforms in surgical dressing. Incidentally, this chapter is certainly an excellent example of how successful campus war work can be. For the Oregon coed, this Red Cross work is a real opportunity to do constructive good. Bandages will be needed soon in great numbers—and now is the time to help.

If you'd rather sew, the work is just as pleasant and important. It can be found in the same place, the second floor of Chapman. There's no reason why every girl shouldn't do her part—right here on the campus. You with your nimble fingers and quick mind you can see that this is your appropriate war job.

Stitch Sessions

Don't forget that both Red Cross divisions, surgical dressing and sewing will hold their sessions this weekend on Friday from 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. and from 9:30 a.m. and 10 a.m. to 12 on Saturday.

It's nice to learn that half of the profits from Coed Capers and the Nickel hop will go to the service scholarship fund, soon to make its debut on the campus. Watch for it in the headlines. It will be big and exciting and helpful to the war, to the school, and, guess who—to you.

Recorder Marries

The former Grace Griggs, recorder in the registrar's office for the past 12 years, was married last week to James Blackford in Walla Walla, Washington, it was revealed when a letter from her was received at the registrar's office.

Mrs. Blackford is now on a vacation, but will return to the campus early in November. She graduated from the University in 1930 and was a member of Kappa Delta.

OREGON EMERALD

Advertising staff:

Cecil Sharp, advertising manager
 Bibbits Strong, assistant advertising manager
 Beverly Cameron
 Betty Lee Barnes
 Dot Shepherd
 Nancy Grant
 Lois Clause

Night staff:

Dorothy Stevens, night editor
 Bill Dean
 Tony Nikatsos
 Albert Howard
 Rod Swanson
 Carol Cook
 Betty Harder

Copy desk staff:

Marjerie Young, city editor
 Ross Yates, assistant
 Courtney Swander
 Jon Snillib
 Betty Lu Siegman
 G. Dunc Wimpres

Between the Lines

(Continued from page two)

fell in line, and took her out for a coke. His being Milt Gumbert, the son of a Portland furrier, may or may not have prompted the mistake.

And So On

At and rate, Schwan, who didn't realize that the girl who left was the girl he had booked for the evening, felt that he had been stood up, so returned to the house. Milt took the girl to the Igloo Saturday night. Friend Schwan went to Portland for the weekend.

Another Pi Kap, John Todd, is about to plant his pin—on a girl, too—but he hesitates at the thought of being light-raced, because he can't swim. His girl can, and he wonders if they could throw her in, instead.

No Hair Now

Kappa Sig Jim Snyder formerly sported a Hollywood hair cut. The freshmen decided they didn't like Hollywood haircuts, so they eliminated his Hollywood hair cut and mailed him the remains. . . . Delta Gamma Bonnie Robin picked up a ring last weekend. . . . Chi Psi Manager Tom Houston warns members to sign out if away from dinner and then fails to sign out the next night when he is gone; he warns members not to leave lights burning, and then walks out of his room—leaving his light burning . . . We understand that assorted boomer boys are swinging their chains with both hands now—in order to develop both arms in proportion.
 Dang those cobwebs.

Lafayette college has been enriched by a collection of more than 500 volumes from the library of the late B. F. Fackenthal, Jr., famed industrialist-philanthropist and a member of the class of 1878.

CLASSIFIED ADS

Lost

LOST—Small red leather wallet—purse, containing keys. Phone 2218-W. Reward.

—Courtesy the Oregonian

LEADING THE UNIVERSITY BAND . . .
 . . . at the Oregon-Idaho game last Saturday was this trio of attractive band majorettes. From left are: Gale Motley, Mary Anderson and Dale Motley. Gale and Dale are twins.

From the Pulpit

By FLORA KIBLER

Eugene churches have up-to-date services planned for this Sunday. South America, the coming elections, the changing attitude toward religion in this war, are among the topics scheduled. Dr. Vance Webster at the Baptist church is speaking at 11 on "A Faith That Functions." Miss Enid Johnson, who for 22 years did Christian service in China, is speaking at the evening service. Sunday school will be at 9:45 as usual.

At the Congregational church Rev. Williston Wirt is preaching as usual. Sunday school will be at 9:45.

Dr. Victor P. Morris is speaking at the First Christian church at 11 and 7:30. Sunday school is at 9:45 and C.E. at 6:15.

"Everlasting Punishment"
 The subject for Sunday's services at the First Church of Christ, Scientist, is "Everlasting Punishment." Sunday school is at 9:45.

Masses at St. Mary's Catholic church are at 8, 9:30, and 10:30 as usual. Newman club, the Catholic Youth group, will meet at 7:30 in the YMCA. The topic for discussion is "Science vs. Religion."

"Saints Named and Unnamed"
 At St. Mary's Episcopal church Father Bartlett is speaking on "Saints, Named and Unnamed," appropriate because Sunday is All Saints' day. Communion is at 8 and 11; Young people's meeting from 6 to 7.

At the Evangelical church Rev. Speece is speaking on "Walking in the Light of Christ's Teachings, According to Ephesians" at 11, and on "The Home Which Jesus First Visited with His Disciples." Youth meeting (E. L. C. E.) is at 6:30. Also of interest to students is their Evangelical broadcast on KORE from 10 till 10:30.

The Lutheran churches are having their regular 11 o'clock worship services. The Lutheran Student association meets in the YWCA bungalow at 6:30. Helen Luvaas is in charge of the study group.

At Central Presbyterian church Dr. Tully's 11 o'clock subject is "The Continent of the Future," the second in a series of South America. The last one is the 7:30 subject, "Religious Conditions of Latin America."

Rev. Payne at the Fairmount Presbyterian church is speaking at 10:45 on "The Christian's Franchise."

At Westminster house on the campus there will be a morning discussion and evening forum group as usual. The morning group, led by Alice Golden and Doris Jones, discusses prayer.

Al Larsen is leading the evening discussion on "Where We Are Going and How," a continuation of an earlier discussion downtown which interested many campus leaders.

First group of 1,600 enlisted members of the WAVES will be trained at the University of Wisconsin, Indiana University and Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college.

Harvard university is the oldest men's college in the United States.

Save Your Energy for Midterms

Why waste your Saturday mornings in the laundry room.

We can do the job quickly and more economically. We specialize in white blouses and shirts.

Domestic
 LAUNDRY & CLEANERS Inc.
 Phone 252
 121 W. 7th

Glasses can be BECOMING

Let Dr. Mead fit your eyes attractively and economically. With mid-terms at hand and finals in the offing, eye hygiene is even more important.

DR. ELLA C. MEADE
 OPTOMETRIST

Phone 330

14 W. 8th