

Small Turnout Greets Hoyman In First Swimming Practice

Army Grabs Top Talent

By DOUG DONAHUE
With their ranks considerably thinned by the long arm of Uncle Sam, the Oregon varsity and frosh swimmers broke the ice on the Webfoot tank in the opening workout of the season under acting coach Mike Hoyman.

Familiar faces around the pool were lettermen Chuck Nelson, who swam both the free-style sprints and backstroke on last year's championship team, Ox Wilson, a diver, Ralph Huestis, breast stroke, Dick Smith, free-style distances and a former team captain, and Dick Allen, a free stylist.

'42 Winners

All of these boys were members of the '42 titlists who amassed more points in the Coast Conference northern division meet than all their opponents combined, and who handed the San Francisco Olympic club their first defeat in five years.

On the other side of the ledger is the '42 team's gift to the armed forces. Jack Robinson, who is the northern division 220 and 440-yard free style champ and record holder is serving in the radio division of the army.

UW 'Babes' Favored Over Frosh

With only six days in which to make final plans for the big test with the Washington Babes, Coach Anse Cornel is busy figuring ways and means of stopping Coach Roy Sandberg's red hot frosh team.

In contrast to the Ducklings' record of one defeat at the hands of the Rooks, the Babes toppled the Port Angeles Coast Guard 19-0 last week at Seattle.

Bruce Good

Star of the Babes was flashy Gail Bruce, rangy left end, who scored two of the three frosh touchdowns on long passes thrown by Larry Hatch, left half.

Also praised by Coach Sandberg were Fullback Bobo Moore, Guard John Harbottle, and Tackle Irvin Wehbe.

Last night's scrimmage with the second string varsity proved the frosh are taking the coming struggle seriously and even though the Babes are 4-1 favorites, odds on the game may change when halftime rolls around next Saturday at Seattle.

Joltin' Jurkovich Jolts Ducks; Roblin Terrific in 20 to 7 Loss

By FRED TREADGOLD

If Joltin' Jim Jurkovich, fragile California halfback, had picked last Saturday to reside in the hospital with one of his many injuries, things might have been a lot different. He didn't, though. So Oregon lost 20 to 7 in the Berkeley Memorial coliseum.

For it was this galloping, cape-cutting Golden Bear flash, safely encased in a steel-reinforced helmet and with a brace on a brittle knee, who single-handedly shoved the drowning Oregons under for the third time.

When Jurk was in, the Bear machine moved downfield ruthlessly, with ease. When Jurk was on the sidelines, Stub Allison's gang was about as colorful and formidable as a jellyfish.

Roblin Shows

"Terrible Tommy" Roblin, Oregon's great gammy, with a superhuman effort, almost spurred the Ducks on to victory and an upset. After Bill Davis was carried, battered, from the field at the end of the first half, Roblin was shifted to fullback, where he took it upon himself to put the Webfoots back into the running.

The score then leaned California-ward, 13 to 0, and it looked as if the Ducks would be buried beneath a tremendous touchdown flurry. Then "Terrible Tommy" started to function. Fifteen plays later Roblin (with Reynolds spelling him twice) powered with pure brute strength 66 yards to the lone Duck tally.

On three occasions time was called while the rugged Roblin rested a battered, bruised leg, but even this failed to daunt the intrepid Duck senior. He wasn't receiving any more blocking than his mates had gotten, was just bulling

Sigma Nus vs. All-Stars

By JOE MILLER

A glory-gang of Sigma Nu footballers will line up against an All-Star aggregation on Thanksgiving day, November 28, in the feature attraction of a headline group of events scheduled for Turkey day. The classic battle will be played on the turf of Hayward field and admission will be free.

The All-Stars, now under process of selection by the Emerald sports staff, will consist of 20-man combination Greek-Independent squad and will appear in tomorrow's Emerald. They will start an intensive training drive starting next week to meet the aggressive challenge of the White Starmen.

Aerial Battle

The game shapes up to be an all-out battle with the All-Stars facing the tremendous right arm of Rapid Richard Whitman, the strike-throwing Sigma Nu that explodes footballs to a couple of Eddies, Multy and Crane, while Jarrin' Johnny Bubalo and Rog Dick guard him against any oncoming linesmen. This combination has teamed up to complete over eighty per cent of their pass attempts this season.

The All-Stars will have some pass-crazy gentlemen around themselves—probably in the persons of Phi Delt Hank Burns, Pi Kapp Wally Still, Canard's Art Murphy, and DU's Jimmy Mann—and boys like skyscraping Fiji Earl Sandness, Phi Delt Johnny Kirsch, Sherry Ross' Dick Lawrence, and a host of other stars.

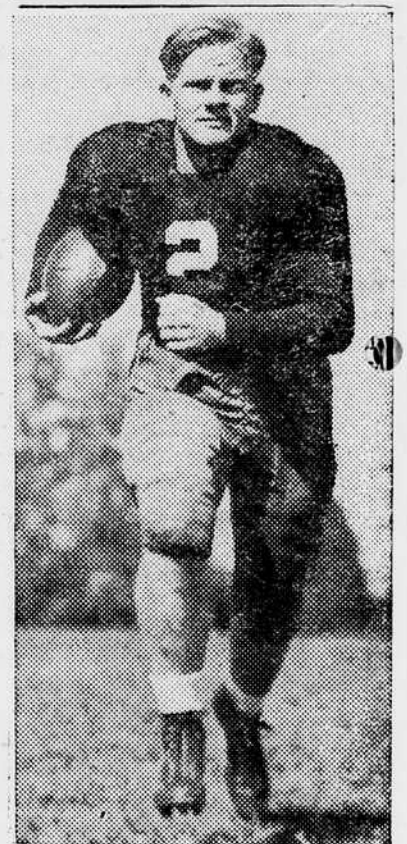

The Sigma Nu are undoubtedly the greatest intramural seven that has ever competed on the campus. Unstoppable in all their games, except when they bogged down in the mud against the Phi Delt and barely won 2 to 0, the Snakemen have been more than a point-a-minute team, rolling over the Chi Psis 68 to 0, Alpha hall 53 to 0, the Phi Psis 88 to 0, the Fijis 33 to 6, and bashing the Betas in the finals 34 to 0.

Sigma Nus Tops

The combined All-Star outfit will be faced with the problem of coordinating an attack to meet the double-barrelled attack of the Nus in the short time they have to practice. The two squads should rank even-Stephen with the edge, if any, to the Sigma Nus because of their longer experience working together.

As yet a coach has not been named to coach the All-Stars, but one will be chosen in the near future.

BOB KENNEDY . . .

. . . WSC fullback still holds the scoring lead.

Kennedy Still Tops Scorers

Bob Kennedy took things easy over the weekend but still retained the lead in the scoring race with his 44 points.

Kenny Snelling moved into a tie with Buck Fawcett for second place with 30 points, on the strength of a touchdown against Stanford.

Jim Jurkovich made himself known by 13 points against Oregon to take over fourth place with 25 points.

IM Volleyball Starts Nov. 4

Intramural volleyball gets underway November 4, according to Chairman Bill Morris.

Six games an afternoon is the proposed schedule which will pit fraternity and independent outfits together in a mutual combat for the coveted title.

Morris stressed that all students interested in officiating the games should contact him at once, as there is a shortage of referees at present.

The games will be played in activities courts 40 and 43.

through on sheer leg drive alone.

With the Oregon score, the Duck offense collapsed. A high Webfoot pass from center was nailed by Cal on the 15. After one Oregon repulse, the Golden Bears racked up another touchdown when Jurkovich leaped over the one.

Porto Potent

Proving a brilliant running-mate to the elusive, power-laden Jurkovich, was Frank Porto, an extremely hard one to pin on skirts through the line.

The expected passing threat of Southpaw Gene Pickett, Cal right half, failed to materialize. Pickett's aim and arm weren't coordinated, time after time the ball sailing yards over the receiver's head.

Oregon defenders were gallant in their stand, but lack of fresh reserves to spell the battle-weary
