There is still an ample number of balcony tickets for the Homecoming Tommy Dorsey dance Saturday, it was announced by Dick Williams, educational activities manager.

These are priced at $1.10 per couple and are for listening only.

Pedant Sends Solid Jive Stuff

Our modern jive of today is white man's adaptation of the original jazz which sprang from the negro race, according to Mr. Hoyt L. Franchere, University English literature instructor, in his talk to the AWS on "The Rise of Jazz," given Wednesday afternoon in the music auditorium.

According to Mr. Franchere, jazz has been "creeping up" all through the twentieth century.

River Boat Orchestras

"The darky 'true jazz' was played in its beginning by negro river boat orchestras," said the University instructor. He added that gradually some of these musicians moved north to Chicago where they played in south side dives.

After that white men's bands began to play this type of music, but their idea of jazz was a kind of symphonized, arranged music which didn't correspond to the negro idea of playing whatever he felt.

"Slightly Academic"

"In the '20s some musicians had a change of heart, for they made an attempt to re-stabilize jazz by calling it 'hot stuff.' This was a soft, slushy type of music contrasted with the typical swing of the '30s and the present jazz, which is a little academic and isn't honest or sincere," said Mr. Franchere.

The instructor played several records during the program to illustrate various types and stages through which jazz has passed.

"Our modern version of it doesn't come from the heart but is the product of a kind of mechanical pattern, while the old type is merely the expression of a simple people who may not even know how to read notes but who are honest and sincere in their desire to express that certain something that has been welled up inside of them," he concluded.

Workshop to Present Radio Play Thursday

"This Precious Freedom," a radio play by Arch Obeler, is the production of the radio workshop to be presented at 8 p.m. Thursday.

It is the story of a man who returns from his vacation to find that all his constitutional rights have been taken away.

Members of the cast are Dick Cohen, Bob Gillan, Larry Holden, Fred Beckurth, Dale Miller, Henry Huldal, Frank Watkins, and Jean Taylor.

Sound is being handled by Teddy Baird, Julie Swayne, Gloria Mallory, and Wilma Foster.

Physicals Required

Recalls for students who have not finished taking their physical examinations are being issued this week, according to a statement made by Dr. F. N. Miller, director of the health service.

All students who receive these notices and have not taken a complete physical examination will not be permitted to register for the winter term until they do so.

Former ROTC Instructor Dies

Lieut. Col. Roscius H. Back, infantry, formerly stationed at the campus ROTC, died in Eugene Tuesday.

The colonel came here in 1931 as an instructor in military science and tactics. During the campus controversy over the question of compulsory military training he was one of President Boyer's closest advisers and the military program was retained.

Born in Massachusetts in 1894, Col. Back grew up in Vancouver, Washington, and attended Washington State college until he enlisted in the army during world war I. He was commissioned an officer and received the decoration of the Purple Heart. Following the war he saw service in many parts of this country as well as abroad.

Col. Back was an active member of St. Mary's Episcopal church. Military rites at the funeral will be conducted by the University ROTC and American Legion.

USO to Hold Festivities

several misunderstandings have arisen. In answer to remarks that soldiers are able to buy cigarettes for half price while we still pay the regular charge, she pointed out that everything else is given soldiers at reductions in price, making the ratio the same.

Students will not be allowed to give 10 or 15 cents instead of the package because the money cannot be sent to the USO headquarters.

Today is the last day of the drive and the 3000-package quota will have to be reached before the collection of the boxes this evening, Miss Harkson stressed, or at least by the Homecoming dance.

'Do-Nut' Sales Garner Profit

Over $47 was cleared on the YWCA "do-nut" sale held last week, Chairman Bonnie Umphlette announced at the Tuesday afternoon cabinet meeting.

This amount was almost twice as much as the estimated total included in the Y budget and more than has been made before on a similar campus sale.

President Abbie Jane White suggested that the local YW would be in a better position to send more delegates to the annual Seabeck summer camp because the sale was so successful financially.

"Credit should be given to the luncheon club of the YW which helped more than any other single group to make the sale a success," Miss Umphlette declared.

The "do-nut" selling campaign was divided into two groups, the campus sale headed by Nancy Richards, and the house sale headed by Virginia Wells. The drive in the houses netted the sale of 200 dozen do-nuts and 165 dozen do-nuts were sold during the campus sale.

This year the drive in the campus living organizations was planned on a commission basis with Y members soliciting orders from the different houses and the bakery collecting the money.

"Do-nuts" still unsold after the drive were later sold in Susan Campbell hall.

Furnace fires glow and smoke surges from the stacks of thousands of industrial plants producing an ever-increasing quantity of planes, tanks, guns and other implements of war. That's the smoke that gets in the eyes of the Axis.

Raw materials and completed units are loaded on long rows of freight cars, go rumbling across country in a never-ending procession, hauled by gigantic locomotives followed by trails of smoke—smoke that smarts the eyes of Hitler and Hirohito.

Smoke 'em out!—that's our job. Union Pacific, the Strategic Middle Route connecting West with East, is doing its part by "keeping 'em rolling." Thousands of Union Pacific employees are working tirelessly—and buying War Bonds generously—for victory!
