

ASU Reserves To Play Part In Assembly

ice. Russell will read a eulogy in honor of these men.

Surprise Promised

One of the biggest events of the evening will be the "surprise quintet," who will really "wow 'em," according to Russell.

"Night and Day" will be sung by Marie Rogndahl with a background of tom-toms to accompany her.

Gridmen Featured

Football will play a big part in the show as Coach John Warren, Assistant Coach Manny Vezie and at least two members of the Oregon varsity plus Head Coach Babe Horrell of UCLA and special guest Noah Curti, assistant Bruin backfield coach, are all going to be on hand to give short pep talks.

The humor department headed by gagsters Keith Hoppes and Bob Mundt will keep things "rolling" assisted by a select group of campus "Zanies."

Seating Arrangement

A review in retrospect of the years 1900-1916-1928-1942, excerpts from the past, will also be presented by Earle Russell.

The University band will play throughout the program and five service songs will be sung by the enlisted students in the various reserves who will be seated in their respective reserve sections in front of the student body.

Bill Farrar, UCLA student body president, will be introduced by Les Anderson, ASUO president, and will speak at the rally.

Responsible for most of the continuity of the show are Ted Harmon, Joe Miller, Keith Hoppes, Bob Mundt, Fred Beckwith, and Earle Russell.

Training as volunteer nurses' aides is open to University of Michigan women students in a new course.

Spider "For a fee, that's me" Dickson's vocals.

"No one can wrinkle paper in the library like Sue Stater," quote all around her.

A Dee Pie, the house with the pigskin complex, went all-grid-iron at their house dance last week. At 12 o'clock they chose up sides, and using a pumpkin for a ball, staged a confined (by the ceilings only) scrimmage. Sig Ep Bill Yankee led yells for the winning team.

A certain frat attention! Clell C. Crane, indescribable extraordinary, is sporting twin key chains swung by an electric hand.

Coed Capers, the time when the girls gather to tell the latest moron stories, is approaching, their publicity agent keeps telling us. Wouldn't it be "cute" if Dr. Lesch went disguised as a Russian war nurse.

Order of the Buttered Artichoke: this week to "Carmen" Ann Beller, "Ace" Halling, and Al Larsen. Friendly folk.

At Second Glance

ARTICLE TWELVE:

Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
When it rains,
I think of you.

...drip!

ARTICLE THIRTEEN: We wonder how many midterm grades will be below the water line; or if you wish, the "C" level.

ARTICLE FOURTEEN: There's no use for a girl to be as fit as a fiddle without any bean and/or it is our pleasure to remark that no organization on this campus has back house dues. It's all modern plumbing, strictly.

ARTICLE FIFTEEN: He smiled at her and said, "I love you more than LIFE or any other ten cent magazine for that matter."

Two Pill Eaters Of Renown Escape

Saying farewell to thirteen days of blissful pleasantness today is Jim Sherbert, ex-infirm-ary patron. Leaving also this morning is Dick Anderson, his compatriot of the last nine days. Once again the antiseptic corridors are quiet and much-harassed Miss Henrietta Holcomb, sick bay guardian, believes in "justice" once more.

Those who are staying on in the quiet area are: Benny Whise-nand, Susan Schmeer, Jean Mur-ray, Stan Weber, John Bubalo, Morton Rickart, Howard Girdle-stone, and Reynell Parkins.

Jack Billings and Jack Landale were released Wednesday eve-ning.

Northwestern university's homecoming features a competi-tive pajama race in which each fraternity participating must pur-chase a war bond as an entry fee.
