

Ducks Welcome Oregon Alums

Are Burning," Cloud and his directorate started things rolling, beginning first with the announcement of the Homecoming alumni service contest by Chairman Uly Dorais.

This contest was a battle among the men's living organizations to see who could trace back as far as possible and compile the longest list of alums who are now in some branch of the service. The result was a tie between the Delta Tau Deltas and Kappa Sigmas, each having a total of 143.

Signs Typify War

Welcoming signs for visiting alums was the next big issue on the list, so the annual sign contest, headed by Bill Lilly, was started immediately. This year displays were carried out in the theme of the slogan and typified the world situation as it is today rather than the usual collegiate ideas.

High point in the plans was the announcement that Tommy Dorsey and his famed orchestra would play for tonight's dance in the Igloo. There has already been a complete sell-out of tickets and sitting room only is left.

Hello Girls

On hand all day to welcome alums who are arriving periodically are the Homecoming "hello girls," Carolyn Loud, Gaynor Thompson, Phyllis Horstman, and the official hostess of the weekend, Martha Jane Switzer.

At noon today is the Order of the O luncheon in Gerlinger hall for all alums who were lettermen in their day.

Post-Lunch Clash

Following the luncheon is the big game between Oregon Webfoots and the UCLA Bruins, the football field is being decorated by the senior class under the direction of Bob Jones and Eleanor Engdahl.

Plans for half-time entertainment have been formulated and there is to be a special dedication to all men in the armed forces who have been killed. This dedication will be presented by Scabbard and Blade, military honorary.

Rally Termed Huge Success By Spirited Ducks, Alums

By EDITH NEWTON

Homecoming spirit hit the campus with a bang last night as the biggest snowball rally of the year rolled into McArthur court to witness what popular opinion has marked as Oregon's biggest and best show in the history of the institution.

Plenty of pep was kept rolling as Ted Loud, yell king, led his new swing yell for both the preceding rally program and the radio show.

Humor was presided over by the capable Earle Russell, introduced on the radio by Ray Dickson.

Picked Talent

The hour and a half show was packed with talent picked after weeks of work by Chairman Fred Beckwith and his able script committee.

Surprise of the evening was the quintet that lived up to the expectations set by Russell when he said they would "wow 'em." Betty Wycoff, Ox Wilson, Don Kirsch, Eugene Cecchini, and Kress Phipps made up the group that sang songs to illustrate the various eras in campus life.

Service Contest Tie

Winners of the service men's contest were announced, and 143 was given as the greatest total number—making a tie between the Delta Tau Deltas and Kappa Sigmas. Since only one flag had been ordered it was necessary to flip for the house to receive the flag available at this time. Delta Tau Delta won the flip and the flag. Kappa Sigmas will receive their service banner as soon as it arrives. The second one will be ordered at once, according to Uly Dorais, chairman of the committee for the service men's contest.

Miss Wilson is stationed in Topaz, Utah, which, according to her letter is now the third largest city in the state. The rise in population is due to the stationing of Japanese in the community. The last contingent of Japs making the population 10,000.
