

House Wardens Aid UO Defense

(Continued from page one)
 on the campus and will be in complete charge of the protection for his particular organization.

Follow the Warden

According to the publicity director, all students must do exactly what their warden says, in order to avoid confusion and enable the defense system to run smoothly.

Duties of air raid wardens include being responsible for all protective equipment such as shovels, sand, axes, buckets, clothes, and stirrup pump; seeing that the windows of the blackout room, which each house must have, are heavily covered and protected from flying glass as well as being completely blacked out; and for taking charge of the equipment closest which no one except the wardens is allowed to enter.

First Aid Instruction

In addition all wardens will be instructed in first aid and will in turn teach what they have learned to members of their respective houses.

Oge Young, junior in law, is chairman of all campus air raid defense, being assisted by Jim Thayer, sophomore in journalism, who is in charge of men's living organization protection and Dick Igl, junior in law, in charge of women's groups defense.

Meeting Set

Mickey Mitchell, sophomore in liberal arts, heads the practical first aid division; and Doris Stein, senior in education, is in charge of air raid protection lectures.

Tentative date for inspection of all air raid equipment is December 1. This will be a double inspection, first by the defense committee and then by certain campus officials.

An important meeting of all air raid wardens is scheduled for 5 p.m. Thursday in room 105 commerce building.

Students Listed

The following students complete the list of living organization air raid wardens:

Emily Tyree, Alpha Chi Omega; Marilyn Marshall, Alpha Delta Pi; Watrine Spencer, Alpha Gamma Delta; Marjorie Ott, Alpha Omicron Pi; Bonnie Uhl, Alpha Phi; Florence Cooley, Alpha Xi Delta; Helen Mullen, Chi Omega.

Mary Jane Dunn, Delta Delta Delta; Mary E. Heron, Delta Gamma; Eleanor Engdahl, Gamma Phi Beta; Lee Montgomery, Hilyard house; Polly Gordon, Kappa Alpha Theta; Mary Robinson, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Maxine Tripp, Sigma Kappa; Jeannette McGuire, University house; and Evelyn Webb, Zeta Tau Alpha.

Bob Sell, Alpha Tau Omega; Warren McKibben, Beta Theta Pi; Ted Parry, Chi Psi; Pete Barnett, Delta Tau Delta; Warren Charleston, Kappa Sigma; Jim Burness, Phi Gamma Delta; Don Hoffman, Phi Kappa Psi.

Bert Shoemaker, Phi Sigma Kappa; Jack Du Long, Pi Kappa Alpha; Dick Burns, Sigma Chi; Max Miller, Sigma Nu; Chuck Herman, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Joe Wicks, Theta Chi; Bob Stanhurst, Canard club; Frank Tobie, Kirkwood co-op; Lee Ghormley, Campbell club; and Bob Gray, Delta Upsilon.

Praise the Lord . . .

"Praise the Lord and down with malnutrition!" describes the effort that nutrition experts at the University of Washington and the nation are making to impress students with the importance of well balanced meals to protect civilian and soldier health.

U. of W. Daily.

SOCIAL CALENDAR

Friday . . .

All-dorm dance
 Law school barn dance
 Frosh-Rook football game

Saturday . . .

Sigma Phi Epsilon
 Oregon-OSC football game at Corvallis
 Orange and Lemon squeeze at Corvallis

Sunday . . .

Ends all social events, i.e., closed weekends.

Dr. Kossack's Office Now Open Every Night

Dr. Carl Kossack, armed forces representative on the campus, will be in his office, 107 Deady, from 8 to 9 p.m. every night this week for the benefit of those men who wish to enlist in any reserve class.

Interested men may obtain necessary material from this office for all deferment classes. When enough men have papers complete a procurement board will again visit the campus to complete enlistment.

Reserves Close Ranks January 1

(Continued from page one)

Lists are being compiled in all living organizations, by Yeomen, and by the ISA, of all men in reserves who plan to enlist or who are not interested in any program, so that records of the office may be completed and each interested man be given all the assistance possible in completing enlistment.

All men who have papers completed for enlistment in any reserve class should see Dr. Kossack before going to Portland for final swearing in, because of the possibility of a return visit of the joint procurement board which visited the campus last week. If men will contact Dr. Kossack, the inconvenience of a trip to Portland may be avoided.

Pot, Quill Calls Entry Deadline

Today is the last day for contributions in the annual membership contest being sponsored by Pot and Quill, women's national creative writing honorary. Entrants should have their manuscripts in by 6 p.m., either at the news room of the Emerald or to any active member on the campus, as judging will begin this evening when the group holds its scheduled meeting.

The following form should be respected in preparing the manuscripts. The name of the author should be typed on a slip of paper and placed in an envelope bearing the title of the work. This should be attached to the manuscript so that judging will not be affected by knowledge of the identity of the writer.

A prize of $5 is being offered for the best writing accepted by Pot and Quill. Other prizes consist of memberships. Marjorie Major won the contest for 1940 and Mary Louise Vincent was last year's winner.

All active members will meet tonight at the home of Edesse Smith, 1386 Harris St. and the meeting will begin promptly at 7:30 p.m.

Before the war, China had 108 colleges.

'Pauline' Feels Crash Penalty

The long arm of justice reached out Monday to punish offender Paul McFaddin, freshman in liberal arts, who grew famous last week as Pauline, the gate crasher, who managed to be the only male witness of at least half of the annual Coed Capers in Gerlinger hall.

Penalty levied on McFaddin by the discipline committee at their meeting Monday afternoon was probation for the remainder of the fall term.

Committee policy has always been and must be to protect the privileges and rights of each organization and group, W. Dahlberg, chairman of the committee, said last night. Because the girls had almost tempted men to attend their function, the penalty was not made more severe, Mr. Dahlberg explained.

Waac Officer Speaks Today Of Enlistment

Lt. Hathaway, WAAC representative from Portland, will speak informally to University women interested in obtaining information concerning WAAC enlistment Tuesday afternoon at 4 p.m. in alumni hall in Gerlinger.

A previously scheduled WAAC-WAVE assembly to be held in the music building has been cancelled.

The discussion this afternoon will be Lt. Hathaway's only opportunity to tell about the WAAC's.

CAMPUS CALENDAR

Hui-O-Kamaaina will meet today at 4 p.m. in Gerlinger hall.

Episcopal communion service in men's lounge of Gerlinger at 7 Wednesday morning. Breakfast follows, over by 8.

The Christian Science organization will meet tonight at 7:30 on the third floor of Gerlinger hall.

Student Group Denied New Fraternity Grant

Men petitioning for a new fraternity to be organized on the Oregon campus were denied the privilege by the student affairs committee at their meeting Monday when it was decided that this would be an inopportune time to establish a new organization.

The committee also decided to

Co-op Solves Mail Worries

(Continued from page one)
 weighing, stamping, and mailing. A service charge of approximately 5 cents will be made on each package.

This "afternoon mail service" has been approved by the board to bring to the students a nearby post office in order that they may be saved the trouble and expense of posting their larger packages at the downtown post-office.

The University has been without the use of convenient postal services since Claypool-VanAtta druggists removed their contact station over three weeks ago.

Concert

Draper and Adler
 Wasn't so badler.

—J.W.S.

allow a house to give a dance that had not been properly scheduled, but the exception was allowed only on condition that the house not hold a dance winter term.

Order Your Christmas Cards NOW . . .

Get your greeting cards in the mail earlier than usual this year . . . but first get them from us. We have a complete selection that makes for merrier Christmas wishes—with a personal, quality touch.

Valley Printing & Stationery Co.

Phone 470 76 W. Broadway

WHAT?

"Well, By Gosh, I can send The Emerald home now for only 75c —rest of the term!
 The whole year for $2.25

One Christmas Gift even Santa would like to get!

OREGON  EMERALD