

(Courtesy of the Register-Guard)

LT. ROBERT S. CLEVER

... Ex-Webfoot who was killed when the plane on which he was navigator crashed near Versailles, Ohio, last Friday. ... Clever was one of the Flying Yank heroes who bombed Tokyo with General Jimmy Doolittle on his famous raid last spring.

Routine Flight Ends Life Of UO Tokyo Raid Hero

Robert S. Clever, University man who won fame all over the world last spring as a member of Jimmy Doolittle's bomb-dropping party over Japan, was killed last Friday in the crash of a medium bomber near Versailles, Ohio.

Lt. Clever was with Brig. Gen. James H. Doolittle when he led his 79 men in the raid which marked the first attack in the current war on the capital of the Japanese empire.

Routine Flight

The bomber in which Lieutenant Clever was flying as navigator Friday was on a routine training flight when it crashed and burned, killing the entire crew.

From 1938 to '41, Clever attended the University as an architecture and allied arts major. A member of Campbell club while he was here, he came from Portland where he had attended Franklin high school. His family is living there now.

High Honors

Clever was a member of Yeomen, and worked on the queen's float for Junior Weekend 1940. He was on the honor roll spring term 1940.

The Distinguished Flying Cross and the Military Order of China were awarded to the lieutenant for his part in the Tokyo air raid.

(Please turn to page eight)

New Year's Eve No. 4

I've heard that this early permission will stop the brawls and such. They say that with women in early. The boys won't get in Dutch.

If they think that will keep the boys quiet, well, we won't discuss their ilk. But they'd better not keep their roach powder so near their powdered milk.

—J.W.S.

Orides Lead Contest

The Orides were first in the Red Cross hours contest this week with 14½ hours, Alpha Delta Pi and Sigma Kappa tied for second with 9, and Alpha Phi was third with 8¼. Total hours for the week was 78 hours.

Jackets, Books, Shoes To Go On Block Today

"If weather permits," emphatically stated Florence Hamilton, chairman of today's AWS auction of lost and found articles, "haggling and feverish buying-up of rain, fair, and foul weather apparel, among other things, will be carried on in front of the Side today at 4." Effervescent auctioneers of the annual fall-term affair will be Ted Loud, yell king, and G. Duncan Wimpres, Emerald managing editor.

Especially appropriate items to go over the block today are four umbrellas, three Oregon jackets, four rain jackets, eight mittens, thirty-one scarfs, five raincoats, one green tweed sport jacket, one rain hat, and two men's hats.

Other Items

Other items to be critically bargained for include: a plaid vest, zipper notebook, ten loose-leaf notebooks, three pairs of tennis shoes, a green and red necktie, fountain pens and pen-

(Please turn to page eight)

Piggers Face Date Dimout As Term Ends

Preparatory to the last social fling before digging in for hibernation and finals, the office of the dean of women has released piggering deadlines for Thanksgiving and over the next two closed weekends.

Lights will blink Wednesday night at 12:15, Thursday, 10:30; Friday, 10:30; Saturday, 12:15; Sunday, 10:30. Choice may be between two of the three nights over the weekend, as more than two nights will not be allowed.

On the following weekend one date will be allowed . . . on Saturday night until 12:15.

Faculty Bills Piano Recital

The University of Oregon school of music presents tonight George Hopkins, pianist and professor of music, in the second of the faculty series of recitals. The program will be held at 8:15 in the school of music auditorium.

First on Mr. Hopkins's program will be a sonata by Azzolino Ciaia, a composer of the 17th century. The sonata was originally composed for organ and clavicembalo, and has been transcribed for piano by Bella Bartok. In contrast with this early music, Mr. Hopkins will play three preludes by Gershwin.

Phenomenal Pianist

"It is good for students to hear something which is strange to them and also something which is familiar so they can find stimulation in the studies they have been following in the school of music," stated Mr. Hopkins. Mr. Hopkins will also play a waltz by Levitsky, who before his death was a friend of Mr. Hopkins. Mr. Hopkins has described Levitsky as "a phenomenal pianist."

Probably the best known number of Mr. Hopkins's program is Beethoven's "Sonata Pathetique." Other works include the "Magic Fire Scene" from Wagner's Nordic drama, "Die Walkure," and "Spanish Caprice" by Moszkowski.

Turkey-Day Dance Brightens Weekend

Marking a wartime stay-on-the-campus Thanksgiving, plans have been made for a "Thanks-for-Giving" dance which will be held Wednesday night from 9 until 12 p.m. in Gerlinger hall, according to Don Broderick and Norma Trevor-row, publicity co-chairmen of the affair.

Besides a probable charge of 25 cents per couple, admission will include giving certain USO or salvage articles, the amount of which will be announced later.

Literary Topics Feature Series

Dr. Hoyt Trowbridge, professor of English, will present his lecture entitled "Pope and Recent Criticisms" at 7:30 p.m. in 207 Chapman hall in which he will discuss various aspects of poetry. He will speak on literary criticisms in the last 15 years and stress the importance of literary taste as well as poetic theory at the present time.

C. Valentine Boyer, English department head, refers to Dr. Trowbridge as an authority on Pope and Dryden, seventeenth and eighteenth century poets. On these subjects Dr. Trowbridge has contributed articles to many literary magazines.

According to Dr. Rudolph Ernst, in charge of the lecture series, everyone is invited, students and faculty alike.

Library Revises Hours

Because of the Thanksgiving holiday, the library has revised the closing-hour schedule for the latter part of the week.

Wednesday the reserves will close at 5, the browsing room at 5:30, and the rest of the library at 6 p.m. Thursday the library will be open from 2 p.m. until 6.

USO Items

Included in the needed items for service men are new dance records, decks of cards, sets of dominoes, pounds of paper, games and marbles for Chinese checkers, sewing kits, books, and new magazines.

Salvage articles include tin cans, old dance records, paper, and silk stockings.

According to the co-chairmen, it will be an orchestra dance, (Please turn to page six)

Sunday to See Yule Vespers

Christmas Vesper service on the campus will be held next Sunday at 4:30 in the music building. This will be the only campus-wide Christmas service this year.

Frances Oram, president of the Student Christian council, is in charge of the program. It will consist of Christmas music and meditations, in poetry and prose.

Hal Dallke will lead the meditations. Genevieve Working will give the call to worship. A quartet from the music school will sing several Christmas carols. Laurie Pratt is playing the organ background for the whole service.

WSSF Campaign Will Feed Eugene $39,000 War Chest

The University's contribution to the combined Community and War Chest will be made through the World Student Service Fund, Oge Young, co-chairman of the campus campaign said Monday when he explained that what students give will be counted towards the $39,000 goal set by the Chest for Eugene.

Although the WSSF contribution will aid Eugene in reaching its goal, the money collected on the campus will be kept separate from the Chest fund and will be used for a purpose decided on by the students.

During the campaign scheduled for December 1, 2, and 3, students can contribute whatever amount they wish to the fund for American prisoners of war and American students who are in need of aid.

Eugene citizens are being asked to contribute between $5 and $10 to the Chest drive, but students will not be directly solicited by the Chest, their contributions to be all made to the WSSF.

Tags reading "I've helped a fellow student, how about you?" will be given to each contributor in the WSSF campaign. Faculty members are being solicited this week for contributions and pledges.

(Please turn to page three)

(Photo by Kennell-Ellis)

OGE YOUNG

... World Student Service Fund co-chairman, who asks all students to give as much as possible to the fund and to "help a fellow student."