

Light, Classical Music Included in UO Recital

By ROSS YATES

Climaxing a program of both light and classical music, George Hopkins, professor of piano, played as an encore to a fine performance the opening theme from Tschaikowski's "Concerto in B minor, number 1." This work, arranged by Mr. Hopkins for a two-handed performance, has been perhaps the most popular musical theme in the United States for the past two years. Mr. Hopkins played the theme in its original rhythm.

Mr. Hopkins opened the first half of his program with Ciaia-Bartok sonata in G major. Arranged as it is from an early organ-clavichord composition, work displays distinctive organ-like qualities, which Mr. Hopkins skillfully brought out. The ease with which he played the fugue section was admirable.

Sonata Pathetique

Mr. Hopkins performance of Beethoven's "Sonata Pathetique," a standard recital work in every sense of the word, displayed to the full Mr. Hopkins's powers of expression.

Other well-played highlights include Chopin's fiery "Scherzo in C-sharp minor," a brilliant glissando passage from Ravel's "The Fountain," Wagner's "Magic Fire Scene," powerful and sonorous under Mr. Hopkins's fingers,

K. S. Wood Receives Defense Appointment

Kenneth Scott Wood, director of radio on the campus, has been appointed county radio director to act on the Lane county civilian defense council. The appointment was made by Judge Clinton D. Hurd. Barbara Hampson, a student in radio, will be Mr. Wood's assistant.

Mr. Wood is an instructor in the department of speech and dramatic arts, and, in that capacity produces two weekly defense programs over KORE; a round table discussion at 8:45 Tuesday, when community leaders discuss civilian defense problems, and the Lane family at 8:45 Friday.

and "The Musical Snuff-Box," by Liadow. This last is a work which stands almost alone among musical compositions for its picturesque bell-like quality.

Gershwin Preludes

Three preludes by Gershwin were well-performed but perhaps rather startling, marking a sudden change from classical to jazz.

Moszkowski's "Spanish Caprice" closed the scheduled section of the program. This brilliant work demanded a technical perfection which Mr. Hopkins fully supplied.
