Give Thanks!---1 A.M. Per

VOLUME XLIV

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1942

Thanksqiving--- 1942 Style

BOB BUCHWACH . . .

Photo by Bill Goldstein

. . . shows what the patriotic student buys this year instead of turkey . . . the four defense bonds are Bob's own.

Proteins Baffle Campus

Cooks Must Shuffle Menus Ducks to Aid As Meat Scarcity Grows

By JUNE TAYLOR

Stuffed turkey and cranberries on today's Thanksgiving menu still mean no more to the majority of University students than they did to the early pilgrims when game was available for the mere shooting, a meat shortage poll taken Wednesday shows.

A large percentage of living organizations are not as yet seriously affected by the impending scarcity.

Co-ops Comply

Women's cooperative groups are the only organizations observing two meatless days a week, along with a few fraternities and sororities. The dorms, en's co-ops, and most of the Greek-letter societies, however, did not have even one meatless day during the term, aside from the traditional fish on Friday.

Mrs. Genevieve Turnipseed, director of dormitories, commented, "There is no more beef, and pork and veal are erratic and not always available in sufficient quantity. We have had to change the menus often, but hope to continue having meat, even if its only a little."

Next Term?

She added that this may be (Please turn to page eight)

Thanksgiving Thot

You all can be grateful For what you prefer, But I'm giving my thanks For that one o'clock per.

—J.W.S.

Last Call Given To UO Enlistees

The navy-marine corps joint procurement board which will be on the campus December 3 and 4 will enlist only men who have had their preliminary enlistment papers checked by Dr. Carl F. Kossack, campus armed forces

Men are reminded to have their papers checked early because if there are errors it will be impossible to remedy them before the board leaves.

Parental consent papers for enlistment in the marine corps are now available at Dr. Kossack's

All eligible men are advised to take advantage of the opportunity for enlistment on the campus because of the closing of all reserve classes to all but incoming

(Please turn to page eight)

T.B. Seal Sale

Going on sale for the campus Monday will be the annual Christmas seals, said Hal Brevig, sophomore in business administration, chairman of the drive.

Because this is a war year, he said, there is an even greater possibility of tuberculosis and other diseases to spread. Threefourths of the money collected will be put toward preventing the increase and curing cases already started. It will go directly to the Eugene chapter of the American Tuberculosis association, and thence to needed points.

Brevig has appointed Phyllis Horstman, president of Kwamas, and Bill Huggins, president of Skull and Dagger, to head the committee in charge of the living organizations.

There is a possibility that a booth may be established in the Co-op for sales to Eugene students and faculty.

Feteless Juniors Grope for Ideas

With one term almost completed, plans for Junior Weekend are in their earliest stages, according to an announcement by Roger Dick, junior class presi-

As the canoe fete will not be held this year, a committee com-(Please turn to page eight)

OREGON EMERALD Committee Reverses New Year's Decision

By EDITH NEWTON

As the bells at midnight ring in 1943, University students can sing Auld Lang Syne with proper sentiment and celebrate the New Year in the usual manner, with closing hours set for 1 a.m., as a result of action taken Tuesday by the student affairs committee.

Praise the Lord,

Pass the Turkey

here will start at 11 this morning

as students, paired off by living

organizations, go to McArthur court for the first all-campus

Thanksgiving day service and

hear Dr. Victor P. Morris, dean of the school of business administration, deliver a sermon on "A

The program, under the spon-

scrship of the University YMCA

and ASUO, and with Jim Thayer,

junior in journalism, acting as chairman, will feature a special

choir of Pi Beta Phi and Alpha

Tau Omega members. Under the

(Please turn to tage three)

Men, Women Paired

For Holiday Services

women's groups at 10:45.

Houses will be paired for worship services in McArthur court Thanksgiving morning at 11 a.m. The men will call for

Following is the list of organizations and their partners: Alpha Chi Omega, Phi Psi;

Alpha Delta Pi, Chi Psi; Alpha Gamma Delta, Kirkwood Co-op

& Campbell club; Alpha Omi-

cron Pi, ATO; Alpha Phi, Sigma Nu; Alpha Xi Delta, SAE;

Chi Omega, Delta Tau Delta;

Delta Delta Delta, Theta Chi;

Delta Gamma, Phi Gamma Delta; Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa

Hendricks hall-Mary Spiller,

Sigma Alpha Mu; Highland

house, Pi Kappa Alpha; Hil-

yard house, Sigma Chi; Kappa

Alpha Theta, Sigma Phi Epsilon; Kappa Kappa Gamma,

Phi Delta Theta; Orides, Can-

ard club and Yeomen: Pi Beta

Phi, Beta Theta Pi; Sigma

Kappa, Phi Sigma Kappa; Susan Campbell, Alpha, Gamma,

Omega halls; University house,

Delta Upsilon; Zeta Tau Alpha,

Sherry Ross, Sigma, Zeta halls.

Sigma.

Thankful People."

Thanksgiving day celebrations

When the chancellor's executive committee scheduled classes for New Year's day the closing hour for New Year's eve was automatically set at 10:30.

Petitions

Announcement from Karl Onthank, chairman of the student affairs committee, that petitions for later permission would be considered brought action from the executive council.

The exec comm voted at their last meeting to recommend 1 a.m. closing hours New Year's eve instead of 10:30 p.m. permission to the student affairs committee.

Campus Leaders

Les Anderson, ASUO president, Marge Dibble, AWS president, and Ray Schrick, Emerald editor, were present at the student affairs committee's meeting Wednesday to present their petition for later permission under the unusual circumstances caused by students being present on the campus New Year's eve.

With only one dissenting vote, the student affairs committee passed the recommendation calling for later permission for the night which the executive confmittee had pointed out early, hours for closing would not contribute materially to the war effort or to special study.

This was the first official pro-(Please turn to page three)

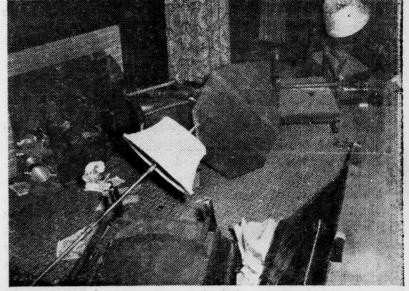

Bridle, Bit Replace Tire, Gas Shortage

People will no longer be able to talk about "the good old days" as though they were a thing of the past, because of the activities of campus Webfoots, according to a recent article in the Detrait Free Star.

HORSE AND BUGGY DAYS RETURN FOR STUDENTS

"Eugene, Ore.—(UP)University of Oregon students faced with President Donald M. Erb's decree against automobiles on the campus have gone back to the horse and buggy.

Farmers, it is reported, are swamped with requests from borrowers who gaily drive about town escorting dates in the old fashioned way."

SHERRY ROSS HALL.

. . . shown after vandals had barricaded the doors against hall members and turned over furniture, broken lamps and stolen phonograph records.