GEORGE W. SHEPHERD . . .
. . . well acquainted with situation..

China Lecture Set for Igloo

With 20 years of actual experience in China, six of them in close association with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, as mentioned in John Gunther's "Inside Asia," George W. Shepherd, who will speak at Thursday's assembly in McArthur court at 11 a.m., is well acquainted with the Far Eastern situation.

When Mr. Shepherd first went to China in 1917 he was a rural missionary in the mountain districts beyond Fukien province. He was forced to evacuate by anti-Christian invaders and later continued his service in the neighborhood of Foochow.

At that time Madam Chiang Kai-Shek challenged the Christian forces of China to develop a Christian program of service to the common people as deep and genuine as that professed by communist leaders. The National Christian Council of China accepted the challenge and asked Mr. Shepherd to cooperate with its Chinese rural work secretary in making a survey of the devastated areas in Kiangsi from which communist armies had been driven out.

A program of rural reconstruction with strategically-located centers was organized, and as a result of Mr. Shepherd's work at Lichwan, Generalissimo and Madame Chiang Kai-Shek asked the American board to led him to help vitalize the New Life Movement. Feeling that this movement, without political significance, was intrinsically Christian in ethics, the American board has lent Mr. Shepherd for this important work during the past years.

Eugene Gleemen Present Concert Thursday Night

The Eugene Gleemen will present their 85th concert on Thursday evening at 8:15 in McArthur court. Students are invited, since there is an extra concert offered on the student body card.

Featured on the Gleemen program will be a patriotic number called "America Awake," written by Percy Bentley, with words by G. E. Gaylord, both of Eugene.

Pettys Ready 'Punch' Pictures

Cartoonists with the Petty tendency (but not too great a tendency) get the chance to "show" in the Lemon Punch cartoon contest opening today, Charles Politz, Lemon Punch editor, has announced.

The contest, sponsored by the Oregana to provide new life to the Lemon Punch section, will be open to all Oregon students. Cartoons may be on any subject, but those dealing with campus life are particularly needed.

"Cartoons should be lively—but not too much so!", said Politz.

The ten best entries will be reproduced in the Oregana Lemon Punch section. Drawings should be done in black India ink on white cardboard, 8 inches by 11 inches or larger. Deadlines for all entries is February 5. Applicants are asked to send or present entries to Charles Politz at the Oregana offices in the journalism building.

The Lemon Punch will also contain the usual "over the borderline" jokes and a collection of the best JWS poems of the year.

Cartoons will be judged on the idea, not the drawing technique.

FDR Inspires Ball Theme

This year's annual Military Ball will not only celebrate the selection of a new Little Colonel, but will also celebrate the birth of the nation's number one man — President Roosevelt.

The theme of the dance will be in his honor with the traditional red, white and blue predominating the decorations, and Roosevelt's picture on the cover of the patriotic programs.

Highlights of the ball include a special dedication to the commander-in-chief of the United States armed forces, the election of the Little Colonel and her staff, the tapping of Scabbard and Blade pledges, and the grand march.

Decorating the dance will be members of the Scabbard and Blade accompanied by their new pledges, according to George Olson, chairman.

Patrons and patronesses asked to attend, according to Jeff Kitchen, chairman of the committee, are:

Governor and Mrs. Earl Snell. General and Mrs. Charles H. Martin, Chancellor and Mrs. Frederick M. Hunter; President and Mrs. Donald M. Erb, President and Mrs. A. L. Strand, Mayor and Mrs. Elisha Large, Colonel and Mrs. Charles L. Sampson, Colonel and Mrs. Robert M. Lyon, Colonel

The bishop, visiting the campus this week, is expected to give "a straight from the shoulder" talk that will interest all students, according to Frances Oram, devotional leader of the YW.

War Board Appoints Five Girl Office Helpers

He is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and is now a trustee of Whitman college and the University of Pennsylvania.

The assembly is scheduled for 4 p.m. Thursday in the YWCA bungalow and everyone is invited. Abbie Jane White, president of the Y, will introduce Bishop Remington. Frances Oram is in charge of devotions for the meeting.

'Sno Fun

I'm tired of throwing snowballs.
I'm tired of being pelted.
I'll be just as happy
When this doggone snow has melted.

Radio Report Misinterpreted; Men Allowed to Finish Term

Contrary to rumors which have been permeating the University campus since early yesterday, the status of the army enlisted reserve corps as well as that of all other army and navy reserves, has NOT been changed, according to a statement by Dr. Carl F. Kossack, campus armed forces representative, early yesterday evening.

BMOC Meet Today For Round Table

"In What Should College Students Put Their Faith" will be the subject of a round table discussion tonight at the Anchorage, when campus leaders meet at 5:30.

These leaders among the men on the campus will discuss the topic and make plans for holding similar discussions in all campus living organizations.

Chairman of the committee for the plan sponsored by the YMCA is Leighton Platt. Others on the committee are Dick Igl, John Buserud, Jack Robinson, Abbie Jane White, Genieve Working, and Petet Howard.

Orders to men in the ERC will be in the mails in the near future, but as yet, no indication has been given that the men will be called up before the end of the term.

The report which came over the air yesterday afternoon stated that the reserves would be called up immediately following "mid-year" exams. This statement applied to two-semester schools and meant exactly the same thing as the previous statement saying the reserves would be called up following the current term. As the University is a four-term school, the current term will not end until March. The report did not mean mid-term exams.

The status of the army air corps reserve, as well as that of the various navy classes is as yet unchanged with no indication of a new set-up in the future.

Bishop Remington Tells Experiences to Scribe

By EDITH NEWTON

Eager to tell of experiences varying from being the yell leader in university to being a chaplain in the first world war, Rev. William D. Remington, Episcopal bishop of Eastern Oregon, gave a brief review of his life Monday afternoon when he was interviewed in the dean of women's office.

REV. W. D. REMINGTON . . .

Bishop Remington arrived in Eugene Monday and will stay here for a week, holding conferences with students every afternoon from 3 to 4 in the men's lounge of Gerlinger hall.

Celebrating his twenty-fifth anniversary as a bishop, the eastern Oregon man has had a life full activity and work.

In 1897 the bishop started the University of Pennsylvania Christian settlement. He took a group of 21 boys from the Philadelphia slums on a camping trip to where the settlement is now located. When he visited the place recently it had grown into a camp with 600 girls and 900 boys attending. The 21 boys he started with honored him
