

ERC Status Again Clarified; All UO Men to Finish Term

cause of the possibility that they may be selected for further training after they are inducted and if they have nothing except, in Dr. Kossack's words, "Incompletes for the last term, they will be out as far as further training is concerned because the army will not consider them worthy of it."

Men must keep up their grades or face the induction call. If grades drop at mid-term they will be called up immediately whether the "khaki covering" at the end of the term would affect them or not.

Work has been started on compilation of lists which will include those men who are eligible to stay in school. As soon as these are completed they will be published in the Emerald. All men are advised to watch for them and to check carefully lest they be omitted for there is no recourse once they receive their induction papers.

Gleemen Honor Fighting Men

"America Awake," and "The Americans Come," two former Gleemen who are now in the armed forces, will be featured by the Eugene Gleemen in their 83rd concert, to be held on Thursday evening at 8:15 in McArthur court.

Students will be admitted to the concert on presentation of ASUO cards.

Five original arrangements by John Stark Evans, conductor, will be presented at the concert. Special arrangements include a spiritual, a Russian number, and two western songs.

The concert is being presented for the benefit of the Lane county drive to furnish 40 day-rooms at Camp Adair. The Eugene Elks lodge is sponsoring the drive and concert.

The Gleemen have sung at various points on the Pacific coast many times and in Canada twice. They have performed in Portland for 10 consecutive years and represented Oregon at the California Exposition at Treasure Island in 1940.

Allies Promised

The meeting was attended by prominent military and naval strategists of both nations, the official communique stated, remarking, "Nothing like this prolonged discussion between two allies has ever before taken place."

Dedicating the United Nations to swift total destruction of the axis, the convention drew up these four resolutions: to give all possible aid to Russia; to give all possible aid to China; to destroy German aggression; and to end forever the Japanese verdict to dominate the Far East.

Premier Josef Stalin and Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek were unable to attend the meeting because of the pressure of the Russian and Chinese campaigns, but they were fully informed of the progress of the conferences. Generals Charles DeGaulle and Henri Giraud pledged themselves to unite Free French forces in north Africa at a separate meeting.

Invite Cartoonists To Wield Pencils For Lemon Punch

Aspiring cartoonists who know nothing about drawing, but who have ideas for cartoons may submit their brain children to Charles Politz, Lemon Punch editor of the Oregana, and receive credit for them.

This innovation in the Lemon Punch cartoon contest, explains Politz, is to give students with "scintillating and sizzling" ideas a chance to participate in the contest and to contribute to the Oregana's success.

Students with ability to draw, who have ideas are also being paged by the Oregana. Cartoons dealing with campus life will receive particular attention. Ten outstanding drawings received will be reproduced in Lemon Punch.

Drawings should be done in black india ink on white cardboard, 8 by 11 inches or larger. Applicants are asked to present entries to Charles Politz at the Oregana office in the journalism building by February 6. Cartoons will be judged on the idea as well as on the drawing technique, Politz said.

This year's Lemon Punch will contain the usual jokes and a collection of the best J.W.S. poems of the year.

without sacrificing the virility of the hatless man.

"To maintain uniformity, SDX will also be worn in large letters across all trouser seats."

Oh well, pass the roach powder.

Heads of Houses Propose Pledges

Announcement was made to heads of houses Monday of a request by Len Barde, head of the campus war board, for $10 from each house to help supply recreational facilities at Camp Adair.

Each girl's house on the campus was also asked to contribute $18.75 a term for the service scholarship fund by Oge Young, head of the service scholarship fund committee.

Rev. William P. Remington, Episcopal bishop of the Eastern Oregon district, spoke on the subject, "The meaning of fraternity relationships in later life."

It was announced at the meeting that DeLorraine Markwardt, senior in business administration, will serve the rest of the term as treasurer to replace Barbarajan Tuttle who graduated last term.

Florence Cooley, senior in sociology, will finish the term as secretary in place of Eleanor Engdahl, senior in architecture and allied arts.

Piano Student Gives Recital Next Thursday

Everett Fulton, pupil of Mrs. Jane Thacher, professor of piano, will be presented in recital on the evening of Thursday, February 4, in the music building auditorium, at 8:15.

Fulton is a soloist with the junior symphony orchestra, and has played over the radio several times. This is his fourth recital.

His program will include works by Bach, Beethoven, Delius, and Debussy. The major work on the program is the Rubenstein D minor concerto.

The public is invited. There is no admission fee.

Must Check Fast Break
Main problem confronting Hobby's boys will be to keep at bay the vaunted Washington fast break which was responsible for several tallies last week.

Last year at Seattle Oregon took a couple on the jaw, one on a close verdict, 40-39, which wasn't decided till the final minute of play, and the other by a more definite decision, 53 to 42.

120 students from foreign countries are enrolled at the University of Texas.
