

Late Permission, No Flowers Set Pace For Little Colonel At Saturday's Military Ball

Military Ball dancers were assured extra dancing time by action of the student affairs committee Monday in granting 12:30 permission to all women's living organizations for the affair.

Clint Childs, general chairman of the ball, announced that no corsages are to be worn.

Today is the last day to buy tickets for $1.25. Absolutely all tickets will be $1.50 beginning Friday.

These are available at the University Co-op or can be purchased from any advanced ROTC member, or member of Scabbard and Blade.

Dancing and voting for the Little Colonel and her staff will begin promptly at 9 o'clock and all ballots will be picked up at the door at 10 p.m. No ballots will be accepted after that time.

No military insignia will be permitted given to the Little Colonel and her staff as this is against military procedure. However, gifts have already been purchased for the five military misses.

In accordance with the present world situation, the theme of the dance will be strictly military.

(Please turn to page three)

Air Raid Head For UO Named

Dorrie Stein, senior in education, has been appointed head of the air raid protection division of the war board, Len Barde, chairman, announced Wednesday. She will succeed Roger Dick who resigned last week.

Miss Stein was formerly in charge of the air raid protection lectures under Dick, and will continue to have charge of them.

Miss Stein is now working out a plan whereby members of the Lane County civilian defense board will give talks on the various phases of air raid protection to campus living organizations. These talks will be of a practical nature so that each house will obtain first hand information on the measures needed to be taken for air raid prevention, Miss Stein said. The talks are now being arranged.

DORRIE STEIN . . .
... replaces Rodger Dick on war board.

Bring Back My Torso To Me...

Well . . . er . . . a . . . we hate to mention it, but Edie Onthank has lost . . . er . . . a—well, a black torso, and she needs it badly. You see, it's this way:

Last term at the art school, Edie sculptured a beautiful . . . ahem . . . torso in black plaster, and it was either lost, or someone "borrowed" it. At any rate, Edie wants it back, at least long enough to enter it in the Odeon creative-talent-in-arts contest.

"The person who has it now can have it after the contest is over," said Miss Onthank. "I only want it long enough to enter in the contest."

The person who has Miss Onthank's black torso is requested to return it to the Theta house some time before the contest starts Wednesday.

Oregon Bishop To Address YW

The winter term assembly of the YWCA will hold the attention of the campus this afternoon at 4 when Bishop William P. Remington of eastern Oregon will be presented as the speaker at the program in the bungalow.

Janet Farnham will introduce the bishop, who will speak concerning college life, according to

(Please turn to page three)

Gleeman Set 83rd Contest

As a benefit performance for the Lane county drive to furnish 40 day-rooms at Camp Adair, the Eugene Gleemen will present their 83rd concert Thursday evening at 8:15 in McArthur court, under the direction of John Stark Evans, piano professor.

Students must show their ASUO cards to be admitted to the concert.

Original Arrangements

Five original Gleemen arrangements by Professor Evans will make up the program, the first including "The Star Spangled Banner"; "Prayer of Thanksgiving"; "Oh, Rejoice Ye Christians Loudly," a choral; and "Exaltation," a choral grace.

"Come Along and Dance," a bolero; "Sounds"; "A British

(Continued on page eight)

Greek Women Initiate Coeds in 15 Nationals

"Courtesy Week" is over and "Betterment for Pledges" is a thing of the past, as the 15 national sororities on the campus announced their new members this week, as follows:

Alpha Chi Omega: Peggy McGinnis, Peggy Keating, Elaine Wilson, Barbara Isaac, Lois McConkey, Jeanne Briggs, Patricia Ring, Mary McCandless, Delores Hewitt, Doris Hoiland and Barbara Blair.

Alpha Delta Pi: Zoa Quisenberry, Amy Pruden, Marelle Wilber, Doris Chapler, Dorothy Rogers, Audrey Lynds, Shirley Leis, Jenny Lou Flynn, and Winnie Scroggie.

Alpha Gamma Delta: Rosemary Boyd, Nancy Ray Dunkelberger, Bernice Gulick, Irene Jolivette, Nancy Richards, Marian Saltness, and Fenna Van Gelder.

Alpha Omicron Pi: Alison Aya, Roberta Boyd, Alice Chapman, Altha Paul, Betty Perry, Loimae Rodenbough, Gladys Stevenson, and Mary Louise Uhls.

Fees, Chi O

Alpha Phi: Barbara Bell, Julie Carpenter, Colleen Collins, Clover Jean Cox, Helen Crawford, Helen Diersh, Janet Harney, Sally Holden, Dorothy Hopping, Phyllis Lacey, Petite Latourette, Jean Loomis, Adrienne Moffat, Marilyn Morris, Dorothy Pryor, Doris Schwarz, Carol Smith, Marie Louise Sutton, Phyllis Wisting, and Barbara Morrison.

Alpha Xi Delta: Mildred Herrling, Dorothy Manville, Frances Smithson, and Betty Ann White.

Chi Omega: Sarajane Kendrick, Janet Settle, June Johnson, Barbara Blasingame, Virginia Guiness, Betty Jones, Barbara Kor-

(Please turn to page eight)

Scrap Drive Finally Set

The long awaited scrap drive will take place Friday afternoon, Marge Curtis, co-chairman, announced Wednesday. Tin cans, records, new and old, and silk and nylon stockings will be picked up.

Miss Curtis has requested that the tin cans be flattened and the labels removed. They should be placed in a well covered box.

The names of the living organizations must be placed on the outside of the box because the amount each living organization contributes will be published in the Emerald, Miss Curtis said.

The shellac from one 12-inch record can be used in water proofing over 200,000 30-caliber shells.

One hundred silk stockings will furnish enough silk for one parachute.

Tin cans can be processed so that they can be used again to ship food to our allies and the armed forces.

Military Ball

"Roosevelt's Birthday" theme is great.

But they'd sure be up a creek, If he should suddenly decide To move it up a week.

—J.W.S.

Missionary Shepherd Tells China's Fight for Freedom In Igloo Assembly at 11 a.m.

Rev. George W. Shepherd, the man Time magazine called the adviser to Madame Chiang-Kai-Shek in her organization of the New Life Movement in China, will tell students and townspeople of China's fight for freedom when he speaks this morning at 11 in McArthur court.

Rev. Shepherd will conduct a forum at 3 p.m. in alumni hall at Gerlinger instead of at 4 p.m. in Chapman as originally planned. The change was made because of conflict with the YWCA assembly. The forum will end in time for students to attend the Y program.

A Congregational missionary in China for twenty years, Rev. Shepherd was enlisted by Madame Chiang Kai-Shek in her New Life Movement. The plan was started by Generalissimo Chiang to puritanize the Chinese people, and to fight superstition, ignorance and corruption.

At the time Japanese were marching on Nanking in fateful 1937, Rev. Shepherd was sent on a special mission to England and America by the Generalissimo. He was recalled to China a few months prior to the fall of Canton and Hankow.

As the Japanese broke through the outer defenses of Hankow, China's First Lady asked Shepherd to assist in the evacuation of thousands of women workers and their families. With Colonel J. L. Huang, he helped transport the women to Chungking and other centers of Free China.

James Abbe Set As Dads Speaker

By EDITH NEWTON

Principal speaker at the Oregon Dads' Day luncheon February 13 will be James Abbe, KGW news commentator, who for nearly a half century has been associated with news—written, spoken, and pictorial.

This announcement was made by Pete Howard, program chairman of the Dads' Day celebration.

Abbe's performance will be a highlight of the wartime program planned to entertain those

(Please turn to page three)

Art Censored By Punch Board

The Order of the Half-Shut Eye, notoriously liberal and specially chosen Lemon Punch censor board, will blue pencil entries in the Lemon Punch cartoon contest, Charles Politz, section editor, announced yesterday.

The exclusively chartered campus subsidiary of the Hays office will pick the 10 best cartoons in the Oregana-sponsored contest, while keeping its one good eye for "overly liberal eccentricities," Politz said.

The board, composed of J. Wesley Sullivan, Oregana editor; Roy Paul Nelson, managing editor; Jack Billings, ex-Emerald news editor; Bob Linde, freshman in business administration; and Politz, will meet this week in secret session to decide on a "rubber band policy—very flexible."

Aspiring cartoonists should make their drawings in black india ink on white cardboard, 8 by 11 inches or larger and present entries to the Oregana offices in the journalism building by noon, February 6. Cartoons will be judged more on the idea than on the drawing technique.

Students who have the ideas but no drawing ability may combine talents with cartoonists and apply for the prize—which is reproduction of the drawing in the Lemon Punch section of the Oregana.

Boss Deadline Nears For WAA Banquet

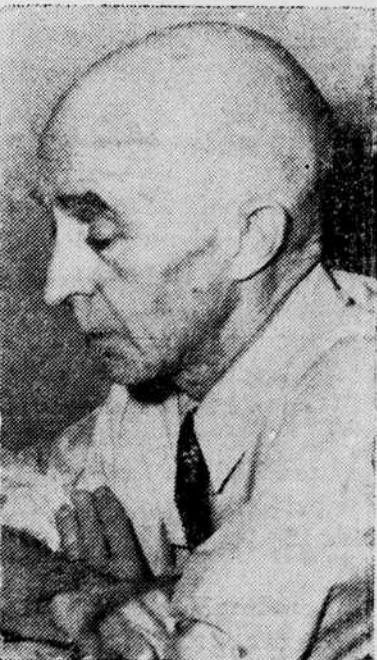

Petitions for chairmanship of the annual WAA banquet must be turned in to Goldie Puziss, WAA president, at Hendricks or Gerlinger halls before 6 this evening. The banquet will be held February 18 in Gerlinger hall.

Oregana Sections Hit the Inkpaths

J. Wesley Sullivan, editor of the Oregana, announced Wednesday that the school division of the Oregana has been sent to Portland, making over half of the yearbook now in Portland.

The military department has the same status as a school this year, Sullivan stated, and the college of liberal arts, because it is new, is being given a much larger section.

Emphasis this year is being placed on how the University is aiding in the war effort. In this connection, the tail pieces at the end of each section, consisting of Donald Duck cartoons drawn by David Stone, sophomore in architecture and allied arts, will stress the correlation between college and the war.

JAMES ABBE . . .
... father who will address fathers at Dads' Day luncheon.