Red Cross Unit Needs Helpers

Because the government has issued a call pleading for more bandages and surgical dressings, the University Red Cross unit has enlarged its facilities and is asking for as many more girls to help as are already giving their services.

Newly-trained surgical dressing instructors have been put on the job to train new comers. Chapman hall has accommodations for 100 workers. However, in order to increase efficiency, girls are asked to work in two-hour shifts—1 to 3 p.m. or 3 to 5 p.m. on Fridays and 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. or 10 to 12 m on Saturdays.

White shirts, white bandanas, and wash dresses are the only uniform required of the girls. Wool dresses and skirts are not in order.

The new instructors, as announced by Red Cross Secretary

Sullivan Appoints Two On Year Book Staff

Dan Mindolovich, freshman in journalism, has been appointed Oregon art editor to replace Fred Gong who has been called into the army. Adele Riggs, sophomore in business administration, has been named executive editor in charge of captions, J. Wesley Sullivan, Oregon editor, announced Wednesday.

Miss Bertha S. Adkins, is now dean of residence at Bradford junior college.

Five of Univ. of New Mexico's 1,200 students are from foreign countries.

Univ. of Texas has 120 students enrolled from foreign countries.

Dads to Hear James Abbe

Dads who can attend despite the troubles caused by food, tire, and gas rationing.

Abbe will speak at the Saturday luncheon in John Straub Memorial hall.

The billiard-ball radio commentator came to KGW in April last year after traveling all over the world. He has crossed the Atlantic ocean twelve times, and speaks six languages. He has eight children and three grandchildren.

Abbe's oldest child is 30 years old, and the youngest one a year-and-a-half. His three youngsters, Patience, Richard, and Johnny, won fame and fortune in 1936 when they wrote the best-seller of that year, "Around the World in Eleven Years." With their profits they purchased a ranch in Colorado and Abbe tried his best to be a gentleman farmer, but discovered that he'd been a newsman too long to turn his back on such an interesting profession.

Since he has been broadcasting on KGW, Abbe has incurred both the wrath and admiration of people in Oregon and Washington. He loves nothing more than to stick out his neck, as he calls it when he makes rash statements and comments on the news.

Bill Moyes, radio columnist of "The Oregonian," has described "Jim" Abbe as "a screw-ball who has made good."

Abbe has done everything from farming to movie directing. In between times he became a newsman and traveled about Europe taking pictures of notables such as Stalin and Hitler.

He has a pet comparison he likes to make between Hitler and Stalin.

He says: "Of the two of them, I'd much rather go fishing with Stalin. Stalin has a sense of humor, and is down-right human; Hitler is too egotistical to even be good company when you are on speaking terms with him."

Miss Kendall Resigns

Miss Lois Kendall, instructor of education at University high school, has resigned her position because of the illness of her father. Miss Kendall will be replaced at the end of the current semester by Miss Martha Koons, who is now teaching at Rock Springs, Wyoming.

Late Permission

with decorations in honor of President Roosevelt's birthday. The selection of the Little Colonel and taping of the new Scabbard and Blade members will also be featured.

A large attendance is expected from Camp Adair, according to Bob McKinney, ticket chairman, who sent approximately 100 tickets to officers stationed there.

Dancers Get Extra Time

Military Ball dancers were assured extra dancing time by action of the student affairs committee yesterday in granting 12:30 permission to all women's living organizations for the affair.

Dancing and balloting for the Little Colonel and her staff will begin promptly at 9 o'clock, according to Ball Chairman Clinton Childs.

Advance sale tickets are now available at the University Co-op store for $1.25 per couple, it was revealed by Bob McKinney, ticket chairman. All advanced military men will have pre-sale cards until Thursday night. After this time tickets will sell for $1.50.

A general committee meeting will be held this afternoon at 4 p.m. in the ROTC barracks to put finishing touches on plans for the traditional affair.

Oregon Bishop

Frances Oram, junior in business administration, will read the devotions for the assembly today before the bishop gives his speech. Music will be furnished by Marjorie Junor, freshman in architecture and allied arts. She will sing the Lord's Prayer, accompanied by Maxine Cady, freshman in architecture and allied arts.

Bishop Remington has led a busy life, graduating from the University of Pennsylvania in 1900, acting as a chaplain in the first world war, being a Suffragan Bishop in South Dakota, and coming to Oregon as a bishop in 1922. Abbie Jane White, president of the Y.

Bishop Remington visits the campus every two years to consult with students and speak at various meetings. Friday afternoon he will hold conference with students in the men's lounge of Gerlinger hall, and Sunday he will be on the program of the vesper service in the music building.

Parade of Opinion

this super-thriller is still underway. And the head Allied coach has formulated definite plans for using all of his substitutes long before that final gun.

Teachers are obviously having a difficult time in keeping students interested in training primarily for civilian life when military training seems so much more important.

But even if this war lasts for years, there will be people who will emerge from it. The odds are in the soldier's favor that he will come back, despite the innumerable dangers of military life in the trenches. Of course, people will die. People are killed annually in appalling numbers in automobile accidents. Most men will be back. Then how can college students afford to waste valuable time now when they could be amply fitting themselves not only for war but for life?—Eastern (Ill.) Teachers News.

CAMPUS CALENDAR

Bishop William P. Remington of eastern Oregon will speak at the YWCA winter term assembly this afternoon at 4 in the "Y" bungalow.

Westminster will hold open house Friday night from 8 to 12, with refreshments, dancing and games included in the program. All those interested are invited to attend. Campus clothes will be in order.

All women scholarship chairmen are asked to meet with Dean Schwering today at 4 o'clock, third floor of Gerlinger.

"This Thing Called Swing" is the topic for a Westminster discussion tonight led by Phil Hunt. The discussion will follow a pot-luck dinner scheduled for 6 p.m. at the Westminster house.

Concert Features Russian Records

Russian music will be featured at the fifth recorded concert in the browsing room of the library, January 31, from 4 to 4:45 p.m.

The library committee represented by Miss True Morris and Miss Doris Hack, members of Mu Phi Epsilon, music patroness group, will be in charge of the program.

Records which will be loaned by the University school of music include Berodin's Symphony number 2 in B Minor, Stravinsky's Firebird Suite, and Prokofiev's Piano Concerto number 3. Request numbers will be played at the close of the program for those who care to remain.

Hostesses assisting with next Sunday's concert will be Mrs. Theodore Kraft, Mu Phi Epsilon; Mrs. Samuel Haig Jameson, University alumna; Miss Dorothy Stevens, Eugene Active group; and Miss Doris Hack, library committee woman.

"Writing From Observation," a freshman textbook, is announced by Harcourt, Brace & Co.
