

Huskies Annex 46-31 Victory

DIMINUTIVE GENERAL . . .

. . . Don Kirsch, whose coolness is indispensable to the Oregon squad

Orides Cinch League Title

By MARY ALDERSON
Orides, Pi Phi, ADPi, and Sigma Kappa remain undefeated, as girls' intramural basketball moves into its third week of competition. Orides has practically cinched their league title with three victories against no defeats and only one game remaining to be played.

Led by versatile Shirley Higgins, the Orides sextet puts one of the strongest defensive units on the floor. To date their offensive has tended to be weak but improving. Orides uses a zone type defense that has kept opposing forwards' scoring down.

With "Blitz" Gordon scoring points galore, the Pi Phis have a team that is worth watching. They scored the biggest upset of last week in defeating the strong University house, 21-1. As the score indicates the Pi Phis have a good defensive combination. The score is even more amazing since the 20 tallies were scored in spite of Marriame Blenkinsop's stellar play—Miss Blenkinsop being considered the strongest defense player on the campus when using a zone defense.

Pat Carson and Pat Howard team up for Sigma Kappa to form the flashiest forward combination on the campus. Both have accurate shots—both long and under the baskets. Miss Carson's fake passes have been very successful in pulling the best of guards out of position. The Sigma Kappas have capable guards, but have had trouble placing a complete team on the floor because of girls leaving school and illness. Providing the non-interested members keep a complete team on the floor, the Sigma Kappas will be a hard team to beat.

ADPi upset the strong Highland Hoopers yesterday afternoon and gave indication that they are out to win their league
(Please turn to page six)

Oregon Ducks Bow Down For Third Straight Defeat In Washington Series

By FRED BECKITH
Co-Sports Editor, Emerald
Led by their high-scoring offensive center, "Chuck" Gilmur, the Washington Huskies last defeated Oregon 46 to 31 in a northern division basketball game played at Seattle. The win, the third consecutive victory for the "Hec" Edmundson-coached men, came in the first of a two-game series with the Ducks.

As has been the case in the previous Washington-Oregon series the Huskies turned on a second half power attack, pulling out in front to win easily. Last night's margin of victory was the greatest the Huskies have enjoyed so far.

Gilmur Leads Huskies
"Chuck" Gilmur was high point man for the winners, catching some 15 points. Captain Don Kirsch led the Ducks in scoring. At the half time Washington clung to a three point lead, 19-16. But the basketball wizardry of Gilmur, Morris, and Ford began to pay dividends for the Seattle crew. Oregon substituted to no avail. The win kept the Huskies firmly entrenched in first place.

The defeat sent Oregon below the .500 mark with a seasonal record of three wins and four losses. The teams battle again tonight. From advanced notices it would appear that Washington will have a definite edge over the Ducks, in this, the fourth and final game of the series.

Oregon Frosh Dunks Rook Aggregation

As unpredictable as their big brothers on the Oregon varsity, the Frosh squad ran down a Rook aggregation from the halls of Corvallis on the courts of drafty McArthur Friday evening by a run as you score, 51-43 total, in favor of the Ducklings.

The type of play which went on during the course of the contest could easily typify the fast playing that took place in the Igloo last weekend between the University of Oregon and Washington.

Fast and aggressive guards were the great factor in the extensive scoring by the two squads in the first minutes of last night's game. Johnny Miller ran almost completely unhindered by the Rooks to start the scoring for the Frosh and then Franky Roelandt, the boy who broke up the game in Corvallis the other evening by his tricky offensive, started playing offensive that kept the Rooks in the running for the entire length of the tilt. But the superior backboard artistry on the parts of Joe Coenenberg and Kenny Hume was as masterful as has been seen for this past season.

Designed for something other than just an ordinary basketball hopeful, young Mr. Roelandt completed more astute scores than the ordinary roving guard on a hoop team usually can find time to make. During the first half, this Orange star was almost untouchable, and then a reserve was put into the Frosh lineup, who competed score for score with the Rook sensation for the final minutes of the initial period. This reserve, Bob Hodgins, dunked a total of nine points through the hemp during the second quarter, by some sort of bewitchery with which he was using to drive a wedge through the Rooks' defense to score time after time.

The score at the end of the first half was 24-19, with the Frosh holding an advantage they never relinquished.

The second half of play opened with the Oregon yearlings again taking the ball into their exclusive possession for the first few minutes, which apparently caused the Rook mentor, Luke Gill, to substitute quite freely until he found a suitable combination. After finding this set of boys which were made up of the various parts of the Orange roster, the Rooks then began to edge up on the Frosh, with "Whitey" Konstad and "Red" Widmer challenging the Oregon lead.

Comparative caution on the part of either team was thrown to the wind during the last two periods, and as a result of this one Mr. Roelandt of the Rooks and an equally "naughty" Mr. Miller of the Frosh, were expelled from the contest, depriving the contest of two outstanding players. After this moment the Frosh were in command of the game with Bob Caviness and Bob Hodgins holding their own before the aforesaid Konstad and Widmer.

High point man of the evening was Oregon's Joe Coenenberg, with 13 points, who played a magnificent game taking the ball off the backboard. The second in line
(Please turn to page five)

Initial Aquatic Scrimmage Finds Beavers, Ducks Set

By ROLLIE GABEL

This afternoon at 2:30 at Corvallis the Oregon State Beavers will get their first opportunity to bite into the bark of the Ducks' aquatic strength, while the Ducks are just as eager to find out how much spray the Beavers can take from their webbed feet.

The Oregon team is going to Corvallis via automobile and a probable squad of 11 men will make the trip. Chuck Nelson, who just got up from a case of influenza is in the lineup, but will not be able to carry a full load that would have been placed on his shoulders had he not been sick.

The strength of the team is built around Ralph Huestis and Chuck Nelson, and today's meet will show whether the team has 11 men or just the two who have been showing very well in the time trials that Coach Mike Hoyman has been putting the team through every Saturday. These time trials that have been conducted have not only made the boys anxious to get into actual competition but has put them under the actual atmosphere that they will have to get used to. Also Coach Hoyman knows who will be the men to get the points and knows the men who he will use in the shorter races.

Last Saturday's time trials were rather elevating as compared to the trials of the previous Saturday, at which time Coach Hoyman was feeling rather disgusted as were members of the squad. But the boys, as a whole, are waxing strong and powerful as previous teams and the outlook looks rather bright. The boys are filled with a determination to win and to uphold the record set down by last year's team.

The 11 men who are making the trip to Corvallis are: Nelson, Allen, Smith, Huestis, Prowell, Hoffman, Tugman, McAuliffe, Pennington, Houston and Gautier.

Following is the schedule and the probable men who will swim the events.

300 yard medley: Backstroke, either Nelson or Prowell; breaststroke, Huestis; freestyle and anchor man, either Gautier, Hoffman or Huestis.

220 freestyle: Smith, Allen, or Hoffman (2).

50 freestyle: Nelson, Gautier or Hoffman (2).

Divings Pennington.

100 freestyle: Gautier, Smith, Hoffman or Nelson (2).

150 backstroke: Nelson, Prowell, Tugman (2).

200 breaststroke: Huestis, McAuliffe, Smith (2).

440 freestyle: Houston, Smith, Allen (2).

400 freestyle relay: Nelson, Smith, Allen, Hoffman, Gautier, Houston. (Four of these six, each swimming 100 yards.)

HEAD MENTOR . . .

. . . Howard Hobson will watch all proceedings with a careful eye.