

Guild Theater To Play Elkton

Guild Hall Theater members are leaving Wednesday for a trip to Elkton, Oregon where they will entertain a group meeting in connection with the development of a station of the ground observation office of the army air corps.

This is the second entertainment given in cooperation with this group. The first was given last term at Crawfordsville, Oregon. Residents appreciated the affair so much that a second was believed worth while.

Students were scheduled to go to Westfir, Oregon earlier and were prevented by the floods. At present Westfir is snowed in.

The trip necessitates a break in rehearsals of "The Whole Town's Talking," scheduled for February 12, 13, 18, and 19.

Guild Hall players participating are James Bronson, Ray Dickson, Bob Farrow, Marjorie Quigley, Vivian McNamee, Maxine McNeil, and Louise Rossman.

Four others are also asked to participate. They are Merlin Dow, Grace Dillard, Nelda Rohrbach, and Bill Neder.

Eugene, Klamath To Hear Speakers

Symposium schedule for the following week includes appearances in Eugene and Klamath Falls.

Monday Miss Alice Harter, sophomore, and Jack Robinson, junior, discussed "What Should Be Done at the Next Peace Table," before the Eugene Kiwanis club.

Today Miss Esther Quier and Jack Caldwell, freshmen, talk to the Eugene Rotary club on the topic, "How May We Lighten the Shock of Transforming a War Economy Into a Peace Economy."

"What Should Be Done at the Next Peace Table," is scheduled for David Waite, sophomore, and Harold Rhea, junior, as follows:

February 2 — Klamath Falls Lions club.

February 3 — Klamath Falls high school.

February 4—Klamath Falls Kiwanis club; Bonanza high school.

February 5—Klamath Falls Rotary club.

Various Articles Found

A biology kit, one pair of shoes, and a box of kleenex have been left at the radio lab by University students during the past few weeks. Owners are asked to claim these articles at the lab as soon as possible.

Two ROTC Promotions Replace Ensign Short

The military department has announced the promotion of Robert E. Kendale from first lieutenant to captain and Horace B. Fenton from second lieutenant to first lieutenant. These promotions are the result of the appointment as an ensign in the navy of Cadet Captain Ernest L. Short, whom Kendale is replacing.

Male Job FallstoGirl

The man-size job of seeing that University alumni records are kept up to date has fallen into the hands of Doris Hack, Oregon graduate of '41, since Elmer Fannett, alumni secretary, has been called into the navy.

"We welcome information about former students, because there are about 50,000 names in our file which makes it hard to keep contacts with them all up to date," Miss Hack said. "Since they are scattered in so many different parts of the world it becomes an even bigger job," she added.

The new secretary is a graduate of the school of music and a member of Mu Phi Epsilon. She taught English and music for one year after being graduated from Oregon and then became secretary to the University librarian last September. She held this position until January 18.

"I have been doing my new job for two weeks but had experience in this type of work, since I worked here in the alumni office during the summer of '39-'40," she continued.

Indicating that her work is by no means a one-man job, Miss Hack said, "We have one regular secretary and another part-time girl besides NYA help."

Major Averill Speaks On Speech Importance

The relation between speech training and officer training is the subject of a radio conversation between Major W. S. Averill, assistant professor of military science, and Kenneth Scott Wood, instructor in speech, on tonight's "Higher Education in War Time" broadcast.

Major Averill will discuss "Why Officers Need Speech Training" and Mr. Wood will outline the type of training offered by the speech division.

The broadcast is at 8:30 p.m. over KOAC.

Worcester Polytechnic institute recently opened its new Higgins mechanical engineering laboratories.

'Please Read' Beg Pill Givers

Contrary to popular opinion, infirmiry nurses believe that reading and understanding the English language is not a prerequisite to entrance into the University.

"Either that, or the only people left on the campus, according to one nurse, "are 4-F men with defective vision, because the students just ignore our 'no visitors' signs."

Discharged from the infirmiry over the week-end were Nadine Bellinger, Everett Franks, Marjorie Leask, Richard Jackson, Frank Peterson, Dick Atiyeh and Ross Yates.

Admitted during the weekend: Bob Gillen, B. J. Fuller, Nan Sheffer, Clarence Horton, Bill Sherman, Berry Merritt, Dick Brown, Bob Gray, and Ray Heidenreich. Carryovers from last week include Bill Bloomquist, Bill McLennan, Bill Wharton, Eileen Brenneman, and Don Seeley.

Quotable quotes from infirmates-of-the-weekend:

(1) Nadine Bellinger, weekend woman's ward occupant: "Only three girls in the infirmiry, and nine men—what the dickens am I doing in this room?"

(2) Ross Yates, crack Emerald reporter, "You may quote me as saying 'BRCKK,' unquote."

ROTC Rifle Team Matches Yale

The University of Oregon rifle team held competitive tryouts last week in preparation for a postal match with Yale university. The system used to determine the team to compete in intercollegiate matches is that the ten men scoring highest in tryouts will fire the following week.

Those who will fire in the Yale match are Allan Wood, Robert Corkin, Don England, Don Foster, Bob Henderson, Keith Claycomb, Lee Ghormley, Bill Spies, and Maurice Drenkle. Allan Wood was the high scoring man of the week with 379 out of 400. The results of the first match will be announced the middle of next week.

Carey to Play Dorm Formal

Dorm residents will be their own guests Saturday night at the annual interdorm formal in John Straub Memorial hall from 9 to 12. George Carey will furnish music for the mythical knight's ball, Carl Peetz, chairman of the dance, announced Monday.

Since there was no dorm dance last term, this one should be twice as good, Peetz said. Decorations for the mythical knight's ball are a deep secret, according to the committee members, but it definitely is no secret that flowers are out for this affair.

Social chairmen from each of the dormitories are working as committee heads. Howard Bankus is in charge of programs. A special cover for the programs has been designed by Allen Wong.

Dick Lawrence is in charge of decorations, Norm Manheimer is in charge of music, and chaperons are being invited by Bea Gay and Jean Pager.

Hall presidents are in charge of arranging for the clean-up committee.

Orchestra Plans Concert Sunday

The first orchestra concert of winter term is set for Sunday, February 7, at 3 p.m. in the school of music auditorium, according to Rex Underwood, director and professor of music.

Everett Fulton, Eugene high school student, and Leone LaDuke, senior in music, will be soloists. Fulton will play Rubenstein's piano concerto. Miss LaDuke will play the first two movements of MacDowell's Piano Concerto in D minor.

Works by Russian composers, "Russian Easter" by Rimsky-Korsakov and "A Night on Bald Mountain" by Mossourgsky will also be presented.

Income Tax Auditors Arrive in Eugene Today

State income tax auditors will be in Eugene ten days during February and six days in March for the purpose of filing annual returns, according to a bulletin received from the state tax commission Monday.

Auditors will be in the Lane county court house February 2-6 inclusive and February 23 to March 6 inclusive. Office hours during week days will be from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., and auditors will be available Saturday from 8 to 12 noon.

Students Injured In Car-Truck Crash

Four University students received minor injuries when their model "A" coupe collided with a truck at the intersection of Broadway and Alder streets Sunday morning. Driver of the truck was Olaf S. Manerud, 750 Sixteenth avenue East.

Bob Koch, and Jack Warrens, driver of the auto, were treated at the Sacred Heart hospital for facial cuts received when their heads went through the windshield. The other two students, Paul D. Beard and Craig Norton, were uninjured excepting for head bruises.

The four students were on their way to church about 10:30 Sunday morning when the accident occurred.

Grad Takes Library Job

Mrs. Elaine Holmes Miller is replacing Miss Doris Hack, who is now acting alumni secretary, as secretary to W. C. Warren, acting librarian at the library. Mrs. Miller attended the University from 1939 to 1941 and has recently been employed at the Consolidated Lumber company.
