

Stars Honor Service Dead On Flag In Johnson Hall

(Continued from page one)
in red. The whole flag is bound in gold braid.

A plaque, made by Clell Crane, sophomore in art, will be mounted beside the flag to tell the men's names and their class. More names can be added to the plaque, and space has been left on the flag for additions to the stars.

Money which remained from the Penny Parade after the purchase of the service flag will be donated to the service scholarship fund for post-war scholarships, according to Ray Schrick, Emerald editor.

Death List

Following are names of the deceased service men and causes of their deaths:

Major Thomas H. Taylor, '41, who was squadron commander of heavy bombardment, was killed in a raid in Lille, France in January, '43.

Captain Dale Lasselle Jr. '38, of the air corps was killed in the British Isles, October 3, '42.

War Victim

Another man to die in the eastern hemisphere was Air Corps Lieut. Robert C. Havens, '41, who was killed in an attack on Tunisia. Havens had been prominent in dare-devil low-level attacks on the Tunisian port of Sfax. Jens H. Hansen Jr. '40, air corps lieutenant, was also killed in the African area on October 29, '42.

Plane Crashes

Kent Stitzer, '41, of the air corps, died in a plane crash in South America in 1942, while Earl C. Williams, '39, rank unknown, was killed January 20, '42, while serving under General MacArthur in the Philippines.

Second Lieut. Edwin Morene Jr., '43, died in the Hawaiian islands, September 6, 1942, as did Lieut. J. Edward Thomas, '39.

South Sea Death

Air Corps Lieut. Jack N. Levy,

HEILIG
SERVICES INCORPORATED

Now Playing!

"HI, NEIGHBOR"

Jean Parker
John Archer

also

"Bandit Ranger"

with TIM HOLT

We Keep Precious Woolens Dust-Free and Color Bright!

Smart spring suits will look newer . . . longer . . . if you have them frequently dry cleaned. Put the forces of dust to rout without harming the life of the precious fabrics. Colors, too, retain their own true brightness — so important now that you are wearing dye-conserving pastels.

Domestic
LAUNDRY & CLEANERS, Inc.

'Town' Farce Makes Debut February 12

"The Whole Town's Talking," a typical farce on the home town boy, opens February 12 with performances also on 13, 17, and 18.

Complications arise when Mr. Simmons tries to marry his daughter to Chet Binney, his business partner, in order to keep the business in the family. Binney, played by James Bronson, is not attractive to women and so the daughter falls for a romantic European, Roger Shields, played by Merlin Dow.

The plot thickens as Mrs. Simmons, Marge Quigley, becomes jealous over an evening purse found in a cab used by Mr. Simmons.

The cast includes James Bronson as Chester Binney, the shy little farm boy; Marge Quigley, playing Mrs. Simmons, the typical jealous wife; Maxine McNeil as Ethel Simmons, the frivolous daughter; Bob Farrow as Mr. Simmons, the big business man in the small town; Louise Rossman plays Letty Lythe, the typical movie actress with a Katherine Hepburn voice; Ray Dickson is the ex-welterweight champion, Donald Swift; Merlin Dow is Roger Shields, the hand-kissing European; Vivian McNamee is Sadie Bloom, who leaves the purse in the taxi; Nelda Rohrbach, Lila Wilson; Grace Dillard, Sally Otis; Vivian McNamee, maid; and Bill Neder, taxi driver.

The box office opens Tuesday from 10-12 m. and 1-5 p.m. Tickets are 55 cents and all seats are reserved.

Carey Plays

(Continued from page one)
fiscated, but wait till you see our secret decorations!"

Social chairmen from each of the dormitories are working as committee heads, while Allen Wong and Nelson Sandgren are in charge of the special program covers.

The dance is scheduled to begin at 9 p.m., and "Goodnight Ladies" is set for midnight. The patrons and patronesses will be handled by Bea Gay and Jean Page; the decorations by Dick Lawrence, and the programs by Howard Bankus.

Guests of honor for the occasion include Chancellor and Mrs. F. M. Hunter, Dr. and Mrs. Donald M. Erb, Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Schwing, and Dean and Mrs. V. D. Earl.

The evening's patrons and patronesses will be Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Schumaker, Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Dedrick, Dr. and Mrs. V. P. Morris, Mrs. Genevieve Turnipseed, Miss Janet Smith, Mrs. Bertha Fulwiler, and Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Miller.

'40, was another alumni to perish in the southwest Pacific battle area, although the records do not have the actual date of his death.

Leonard H. Ballif Jr., '43, was killed in a plane crash in Bakersfield, California, on April 9, '42, as were Leonard G. Gard, '42, and Air Cadet Herbert A. Jones, '43.

With Doolittle

Robert S. Clever, '42, who was with Brigadier General Doolittle in the famous Tokyo bombing raid, was killed November 20, '42, in a plane crash in Greensville, Ohio.

Major Don S. Gidley died at Fort Lewis in July, '42, just the day before the papers appointing him major came. Flying Cadet Charles F. Goettling Jr., '43, died of meningitis in the hospital at MacDill field, Florida, after two months of service, on April 26, '42.

Air Corps Victims

Lieut. David B. Griffiths, '42, of the air corps, was killed in a plane crash in Roswell, New Mexico, in September, '42, while Harold C. Jeverson, '41, pilot, was killed November 6, '41.

Edmond L. Labbe, '36, was killed in an automobile accident in the East on December 20, '42, on the day that he would have graduated from the air corps school at Camp Davis, North Carolina.

More Fatalities

Colonel James A. Meek, '24, died in a hospital at Vancouver Barracks, December 13, '41. Second Lieut. James O. Reed, '39, died on January 22, '42, although there is no other information available about his death. Thomas E. Swan, '29, of the army died November 2, '42 in Albany, Oregon, while Captain Edwin E. Swanson, '31, of the dental corps died in '41.

Army Air Corp Second Lieut. Ernest W. Robertson, '39, crashed in a plane April 29, '42 in Orlando, Florida. Byron F. Vandenberg, '43, of the air corps, also died in a crash in California, April 9, '42. Lieut. Edgar Wrightman Jr., '28, also crashed in Florida in December of '42.

One Marine Dead

Marine Flying Cadet Donald H. Rockwell was another alumnus to die in a crash on October 29, '40. Air Cadet Lyle V. Selleck, '43, died November 6, '42, in Corpus Christi, Texas, after an 11-week illness.

Verdi Weyerstrom, '42, and Elton P. Syman, '41, both perished in the Pearl Harbor raid on December 7, '41, on the U. S. S. Oklahama.

The only marine to die was Captain Harry Q. Findley, '40, who succumbed to wounds received in the Solomon island attack and was buried at sea on August 20, '42.

STUDENTS' ADVISORY SERVICE

Our advisory service is at your disposal when you have financial problems that require consultation.

EUGENE BRANCH
OF THE
UNITED STATES NATIONAL BANK OF PORTLAND

(Member—Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation)

Women's PE Program Stresses Body Fitness

By ANNE CRAVEN

Emphasis in the University of Oregon's physical education program for women has shifted from one of training for better use of leisure time to one of body building and keeping fit, Miss Helen Petroskey, assistant professor of physical education, said Thursday.

"Previous to the present war emergency, the physical education program was designed primarily as a recreational program," she stated. "Leisure time had become a problem and we felt that it was essential to give girls the necessary skills to cope with the leisure time problem in a wholesome, stimulating, and vigorous way."

The war has made physical fitness and not leisure time the main problem that the physical education department has to work out, Miss Petroskey said.

Many Girls Weak

"Many college girls are pretty weak and have little endurance," she continued. "They don't know how to relax, or the first elements of body mechanics, or how to lift and carry things efficiently. Most of them don't even know how to walk properly."

In order to correct these defects, the University coed is required to take one term of body building or conditioning, must learn to swim, and engage in a vigorous team sport.

"We are insisting on a team sport because we feel it is necessary and important that women learn to play and work together as a group." Many of the less vigorous individual sports have been eliminated such as archery, bowling, riflery. This is not because these sports are not useful, but because there is no longer room for them in the physical education program under the present emphasis.

Never Return to Old

Miss Petroskey felt that the physical education program will never go back to the old way—purely recreational emphasis.

"Because," she said, "people are generally of the belief that any civilization can preserve itself only by keeping fit. History has proved that civilizations that have fallen ill as a result of disease or idle living have disappeared."

Experiments

At the present time, members of the physical education staff at the University are engaged in experimental work leading toward establishment of physical fitness standards. These standards will determine whether a girl is fit or not and just how much body building and conditioning she will need to become physically fit. This is being done by testing representative group of physical education students as to their skills, abilities, and endurance.

In line with this policy, the physical education majors—future high school physical education teachers are receiving training which emphasizes gymnastics, exercises, apparatus and tumbling.

Econ Problem Eyed Sunday

Speakers at Westminster house Sunday night will be Jack McClement and Al Larsen who will speak on the debatable question "Should Competitive Enterprise Be Reestablished after the War?"

The meeting will start at 6:30. Both speakers will be allowed ten minutes for the opening presentations. After the exchange two questions from each of the panel members, the topic will be opened to group discussion.

The timeliness of this subject was emphasized by the discussion last Sunday at Westminster house on the subject, "The Transformation to a Peace Economy" led by Esther Quier, Jim Thayer, and Jack Caldwell, members of the University symposium team.

PLAN NOW

- for ★ Banquets
★ Group Parties
★ House Dances

Phone 2000
EUGENE HOTEL

Quartermaster . . . of the KITCHEN

• Let us help you plan your ration meals so that your shares will go farther. Come to us for helpful hints on meat saving foods that will make it easier for you to set a satisfying table . . . and always at reasonable prices.

VISIT OUR NEW GROCERY DEPT.

Eugene Packing Co.

675 Willamette

Phone 38