

KOAC Plans Concert Band

The University concert band, under the direction of John Stehn, professor of music, will present its first concert of the year Sunday, February 21, in the school of music auditorium. The concert will begin at 3 p.m.

The band will play Beethoven's "Egmont" overture, "Bourree" by Bach, "French Military March" from the "Algerian Suite" by Saint-Saens, "Marche," op. 12, no. 1 by Prokofiev, "Nordic Rhapsody" by Kenneth Hjelmervik, and the overture "1812," by Tschai-kowsky.

Kenneth Hjelmervik, composer of the "Nordic Rhapsody," is a native of Montana and a graduate of St. Olaf's college. He now directs the Grays Harbor symphony orchestra in Washington. His rhapsody was originally written for band, and has been presented both in Oregon and Washington.

The concert band is at present composed of 47 members. There will be no charge.

Debater Places In Speech Final

Jack F. McCliment, junior in law, yesterday was notified by telegram that he is one of the finalists in the second series of the National Intercollegiate Radio Prize debates, announced Kenneth S. Wood, instructor in speech and dramatic arts.

McCliment will be one of four finalists from the Pacific coast area to appear on station KGO in San Francisco March 7. If he is chosen one of the four best speakers in San Francisco, he will be sent to New York, expenses paid, to appear on the "Wake Up, America!" radio forum heard April 18 over the Blue network.

Nationally, McCliment was selected one of thirty-two finalists from 261 participants.

Subject for the debate open to all universities and colleges in the United States is "Should American Youth Support the Re-establishment After the War of Competitive Enterprise as Our Dominant Economic System?"

The debates are sponsored by the American Economic Foundation in conjunction with the Blue network.

Art Bazaar Due Friday

"The number of tickets for the Beaux Arts bazaar is limited, and they're going fast," warned Don Hoffman, president of the Allied Arts league.

Price of tickets for the bazaar, which is set for Friday from 8 to 11:30 p.m., is 25 cents for members of the Allied Art league who have paid their dues and 50 cents for everyone else. It is for all students who have classes in the art school.

Committee members stressed that it is preferably a no-date affair.

Paper money will be issued at the door and will be legal tender at all the concessions. Marguerite Campbell, member of the concessions committee, promised that games of chance and a food bar would be included.

"Camouflage" is the theme for costumes as well as decorations. The decorating committee will practice the art of protective concealment in the west end of the drafting room for the event.

To the Winners

Prizes will be presented to faculty members and students for costumes.

Andrew M. Vincent, professor of drawing and painting, will call square dances.

Don Hoffman announced the members of the clean-up committee, as follows: Dorothy Ellingsworth, Marilyn Campbell, John Lincoln, Bill Cox, Nelda Christensen, Malcolm Almack, Virginia Atchison, Chuck Colburn, and Americo DiBenedetto.

Hollywood Reporter

"Gentleman Jim" is Errol Flynn's next film, opening tomorrow at the Rex theater.

Rumor bulletins heading out from Hollywood flood the desk again. Important on the long list is the rumored marriage at some future date of Ann Sheridan and Errol Flynn. Of course you can't believe all you hear, but how did the couple both turn up in Mexico for vacations, and in the same vicinity?

Linda Darnell may have married Alan Gordon by the time this goes to press. Latest reports have the couple altar-bound by the end of the month.

Alice Faye Back

With the return to the screen of Alice Faye, 20th may again stand a chance of making musicals with their old appeal. Recent films from the Zanuck barn haven't had much of the old fire which brought nation-wide praise to "In Old Chicago," "That Night in Rio," and "Alexander's Ragtime Band." Welcome back, Alice Faye; we hope you will bring with you some more of the old 20th fire.

Autry Back, Too

Sergeant Gene Autry of the army air corps is learning to stab Japs, but fans need not miss him for eight of his early films, many better than later issues, are to be re-released by Republic soon.

Production Briefs

Major studios bid for rights for Doolittle's Tokyo raid story. . . . MGM launches Canada search for girl to star in "National Velvet," but still combing the U.S. . . . Jack Benny slated for camp appearances in Canada and Mexico, wants to go to Britain, too.

Mae West Back

Mae West, who has been absent from the screen for two years, has been signed for Gregory Ratoff's "Tropicana," a lavish Columbia musical set in South America. William Saxton and Hazel Scott will have important roles in the film.

Late Flashes

Because of his work in "Air Force," Charles Drake gets an important role in "Night Shift" . . . Greer Garson next for "Madame Curie" and "Valley of Indecision" . . . Humphrey Bogart, Walter Huston, and John Garfield teamed for Warner's "Treasure of Sierra Madre" . . . Monty Wolley will do "Gone Are the Days," 1867 musical . . . George Sanders gets male lead in "Appointment in Berlin" . . . Brian Donlevy slated for top role in "America" . . . Betty Davis finishes "Old Acquaintance," and starts army camp tour.

Trains Relocated Across Mill Race

The noise of slow freights passing by the north buildings of the University on Franklin boulevard will soon be a thing of the past. Southern Pacific trains will in the near future be using the new route north of the mill race.

Over the weekend the last spike on the new relocation job was driven by J. Ed Turnbull, chairman of the chamber of commerce highway committee. A test run was made over the new section Monday and soon all traffic will be routed there.

The new tracks follow the mill race along its north bank east to Judkins point where the new highway overpass is being constructed.

UO Awaiting

The University was designated by the war department last Saturday to receive army men for technical training in special courses. The nature of the courses was not indicated. The telegram announcing the appointment was sent to Donald M. Erb, president of the University of Oregon, by Congressman Harris Ellsworth.

The telegram did not mention when the program will take effect or how it will change the status of present students at the University.

Outstanding Writings

On the journalism display will be clippings from: Fred Beckwith, Mildred Wilson, John Mathews, Roy Nelson, Bill Lindley, J. Wesley Sullivan, Jack Billings, Rollie Gabel, G. Duncan Wimpers, and Ted Goodwin.

The program will also feature original musical compositions and art exhibits. Several notables in these fields have been invited to attend.
