

Career Gal . . . Kinky Coed Rallies To Bid ERC Farewell

By BETTY ANN STEVENS

"Well, let's see," mused Betty (Kinky) Kincaid, recently, appointed rallyist, with a brisk rubbing together of palms.

In a booth at the College Side, Kinky shook a dark naturally-curly head and explained about her nickname, "I don't know if it's because of my hair or my name."

A past Kwama, Betty Coed, and now a member of Phi Theta Upsilon, junior women's service honorary, she stayed out for almost a year working, thereby retaining her sophomore standing, "but once initiated in Phi Theta, always a Phi Theta."

ERC Gal

Kinky was "one of three chairmen" on the ERC send-off rally Tuesday night.

"No, I didn't kiss the boys goodbye," she smiled. "I've gone with a fellow from home in the navy air corps for six years."

Home, incidentally, is in Cucamonga, California . . . "Do you know where Pomona is?" she questioned.

Mmm . . . vaguely."

"Do you know where Riverside is?"

"Well . . ."

"It's on a sort of triangle with Long Beach and L.A. . . . south. It's between March field and L.A."

Bull Sessions

Concerning passions and peevs, "I like to stay up real late and get involved in the philosophy of this and philosophy of that." She observed, with a nod, "You get to know people, too."

With her ready smile, she verified a statement that "I like to meet people and get to know them."

Glancing at the paper on which her interview was being scribbled, she giggled, "Just say I cough gaily over your jokes."

Career Gal

"Do you want my major?" she

AWS Notes

Tied for spotlight holders of AWS affairs at present are the WAVES assembly today at 11 a.m. and the last Nickel Hop of the year scheduled for Wednesday from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

"For women only," the WAVES assembly will be held in alumni hall of Gerlinger with Ensign Mary Elizabeth Harper as speaker.

The Nickel Hop will afford one last chance for girls to dance with a selection of partners as well as to wear down more than a little shoe leather.

Sally Spies and Lois Winsley, co-chairmen of the hop, expect plenty of competition between women's houses as well as men's living organizations, one of the latter which will be crowned with the coveted title of "Den of the Wolves."

Fifteen freshman women with a GPA of 3.5 or over—were honored Tuesday night at dinner at the Kappa house by Phi Theta Upsilon. It seems that the theme of the affair, typified by the place cards of little worms crawling through books, couldn't have suited the occasion better!!!

asked, "It's architecture and allied arts. . . . I want to go into production illustration. It's a very new field. It's perspective drawing, instead of flat drawing . . . in engineering."

The clock pointing to "two minutes of," Kinky shook her pen back into her notebook and brought the interview to a close with, "I have some mechanical drawing to do, and I'll never get it done unless I do it at home."

Good Taste Misplaced

By MARY ANN CAMPBELL

From here on, for the duration AND six months, it's going to be up to the women to manage the campus doings, to see that there is a University for the men to return to, and to accept the responsibility that the masculine half (or, more nearly three-quarters, to be statistically correct), of the campus population has dominated until this term.

During the recent deluge a fashion note sprang into prominence: the effect of a rain hat perched on top of a bandana resembles the Wife of Bath most astonishingly.

MEMO from the Department of Confidential Information, Precipitation Division:

At Dorothy Maynor's concert the other night, three women in the audience who were sitting well down towards the front suddenly felt something damp hit them when Maynor was in the middle of one of the spirituals. It seemed to be RAIN, splashing on their programs, their new spring bonnets, and down their necks.

All this dampness was coming through a ventilator which was directly above them, and when one of the rained-on trio reached for her umbrella, the whole row burst into the giggles.

Add Oddities: Seven hopeful characters clambering over the Pioneer Mother in frantic search for pennies one noon. Apparently they were on their way to a class and, being a little early, stopped to see if they could pick up a few shekels on the way. . . .

Critical Note: Heard at Dorothy Maynor's concert: The women two rows over and three seats back decided they didn't care for the singer because she "didn't make the rafters ring." No small feat in the Igloo, to get those rafters ringing away like bells. . . .

But they were the same people who didn't care for Paul Robeson, in the same breath with their comments on Miss Maynor, because he "lacks dramatic effect."

D'ye suppose that the people who were dancing on the roof of the library Tuesday night were giving way to a long suppressed desire and decided this would be the last chance they would have
