

ASUO to Nominate at 11 a.m.

OREGON Daily EMERALD

VOLUME XLIV UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, THURSDAY, APRIL 22, 1943 NUMBER 114

Help Needed To Hoe Crop

Maybe the thought of spinach doesn't appeal to the average student, but a chance to aid in the war effort and earn 60 cents an hour at the same time will be offered to everyone who wants to hoe spinach next Saturday, Len Barde, chairman of the campus war board said Wednesday.

Thirty students are needed for the hoeing job Saturday to aid farmers near Harrisburg. Transportation will be provided for the students who want to go on the all day work trip that is under the auspices of the student agriculture aid committee of the campus war board.

Hoping that students will come in groups and plan to make it an all day picnic affair, Barde said each one should make arrangements for bringing his or her own lunch. Each person should also bring a pair of gloves.

Those planning to go should meet promptly at 8 o'clock Saturday morning in front of the United States Employment bureau on Willamette street next to the city library at 11th and Willamette streets. Those wishing to go should notify Ruth Collins, chairman of the committee, by noon today.

This special call for students has been made because of the acute shortage of farm hands. Farm workers have either been drafted or left for war work.

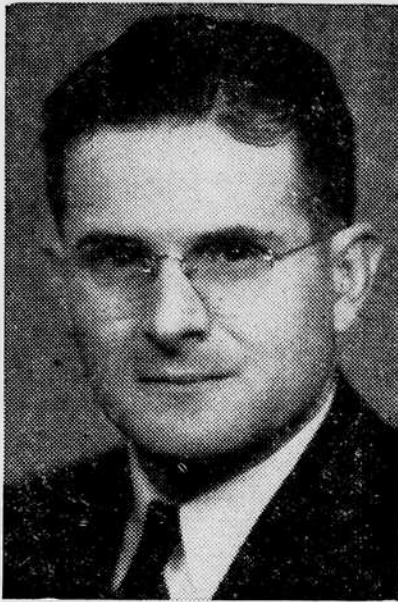

'Eileen' Beats City Slickers

"Eileen," blond beauty portrayed by Nelda Rohrback, and her sister, "Ruth," played by Dorothy Weygandt will show the first night audience of the latest University theater production, "My Sister Eileen" on Friday evening, just what hilarious complications two small town girls can manage to become tangled in when they move to a big, strange city like New York.

Probably the last University production in which boys will appear until after the war, "My Sister Eileen" boasts a large and talented cast, which includes, besides the two female leads: Bob Farrow, Mr. Appopclous; Ralph Stover, Jensen; James Bronson, The Wreck.

Violet, Helen Holden; David Jahn, Frank Lippincott; Edwin Mickel, Robert Baker; Ken Griffith, Chick Clark; Bill Wood, Captain Fletcher; Jack Leonard, Lonigan; Betsy Steffen, Helen Wade; Ethan Newman, Walter Sherwood; Marie Hewitt, prospective tennant; Robert Over, consul; Jimmy Toner and Bobby Joe Quigley, street Arabs; Gordon Cochran and Frank Loomis, the drunks; and Chic Chaloupka, Jack Titus, Bill Wood, Gordon Cochran, Charles Politz, Frank Loomis, the six prospective admirals, and the dog Otto Strasser, in person.

The play will show four nights, April 23 and 24; April 27 and 28 at the University theater.

REV. WALTER J. FISCUS . . . who will speak at the Easter Sunrise service in McArthur court Sunday at 6:45 a.m.

UO to Hail Wartime Easter Sun

"The Appealing Christ" will be the subject of the address by Rev. Walter J. Fiscus, pastor ad interim of the First Christian church this Easter Sunday at the sunrise service for University students and townspeople at 6:45 in McArthur court.

Everett Fulton will play the prelude of the program and the Eugene a capella choir will sing the call to worship, "Cherubim Song No. 7," by Borniansky.

Others Preach

Other local ministers taking part in the program include Rev. Earle Parker of the Methodist church, Rev. Norman Tully of the Central Presbyterian church, and Rev. Vance Webster of the First Baptist church.

Congregational singing will be led by Glenn Griffith, and the scripture will be read by Hal Dallke. Gloria Clotner will be the soloist with the a capella choir.

Students Play

Irene Clare, Dorothy Lenhart, Gladys Stevenson, and Jim Gibson, members of the University string quartet, will play at the service.

The Eugene Hi-Y clubs and Girl Reserves will usher with Charles Roff, Juanita Johnson, Jerine Newhouse, and Dunbar Norton acting as head ushers. The sunrise service offering will be contributed to the World Student Service fund.

Advisers for the program are Mrs. J. D. Bryant, A. F. Holmer, and Rev. Kenneth Tobias. The publicity committee is headed by Boy Scout troops are helping James Working, and the local with the furniture arrangements.

'Nother Shortage

If you don't get your Easter eggs, Be brave, don't let it get you down

With rationing in full effect There's just one rabbit left in town.

Assembly Set for McArthur; Coalition Switches Lineup; Putnam Nomination Illegal

By JACK L. BILLINGS

This morning at 11 in McArthur court Greek bloc and Coalition candidates will be "nominated" for ASUO offices. The lineups are about the same as published in Wednesday's Emerald except that the Coalition has been forced to switch Helen Holden and Jean Page so that now Miss Holden is running for senior representative and Miss Page is running for the No. 2 position on the executive council.

Reason for this action was that Miss Holden was declared ineligible to run for any of top four positions by the judiciary committee yesterday afternoon on a technical point which denies her a junior certificate, necessary for eligibility.

Greek, Coalition Candidates Listed

Requirements Differ

The same requirements do not hold for eligibility for senior representative; therefore, the Coalition had to make the change.

Bob Mueller is running on the nated for a senior class position by an unpredictable Theta Chi group Tuesday night in the junior class nominating assembly, had not turned in his declaration of intention to run or certificate of eligibility before the assembly. Therefore his nomination was not legal.

If the nomination is to stick he must present these papers along with a petition signed by 10 members of the junior class to the class president not later than 5 p.m. today.

Bob Bueller is running on the Greek ticket for sophomore representative rather than Stan Williamson as was stated in Wednesday's Emerald. Williamson was nominated Tuesday night for a sophomore class position.

Juniors Sign Solid Senders

Too Late

The Coalition party had intended to run a dark horse candidate for a junior class position, but the bigwigs of the party were confused about the fact that the deadline for late petitions, according to the sophomore constitution, was 5 p.m. yesterday.

Les Anderson has asked that those who intend to make nominating speeches sit near the front of the Igloo so that they may be recognized immediately. Anderson will start the ball rolling this morning with election instructions and procedure of nominations. He will also present a short summary of activities for the year.

Speeches Scheduled

All candidates for the four top positions on the executive council will make short campaign speeches, Anderson said last night. Those running for senior, junior, and sophomore representatives will not make speeches.

If either party intends to run dark horse candidates for ASUO offices they must have a petition signed by 50 members of the ASUO turned in to Les Anderson not later than midnight Friday and these must be accompanied by the usual declaration of intention to run and certificate of eligibility.

Members Dress

In keeping with the "South American Way" motif of the dance the band members will be clad in traditional costumes of our neighbors to the south.

Included on the dance program for the evening, will be a conga line and a few tango and rumba numbers, but according to Chairman Farrell, "not enough to become firesome."

Late Per

The dance is traditionally for- (Please turn to page three)

SISTER AND SISTER . . .

. . . Ruth McKinney, as played by Dorothy Weygandt, and her sister Eileen, played by Nelda Rohrback, will be presented by the University theater, beginning April 23.

—B.L.