

Five Houses Schedule Dances at Year's End

By LOIS HULSER, Society Editor

The last week-end of the year for house dances finds five organizations slated for social events. Saturday evening Ray Dickson's band and routine will be featured at the Alpha Phi formal. The theme? The freshmen don't talk about that. Alpha Chi Omega's Easter Parade is formal also.

Alpha Tau Omega's informal will carry out the Arabian Nights theme. Pi Beta Phi's theme is undisclosed but the dance is informal.

Grides and their dates will dance in Gerlinger.

Exchanges for the week are Sigma Phi Epsilon-Gamma Phi Beta; Sigma Alpha Epsilon-Delta Delta Delta; Kappa Sigma-Alpha Delta Pi; Alpha Chi Omega-Delta Tau Delta; Sigma Nu-Delta Gamma; Alpha Omicron Pi-Delta Upsilon; Phi Delta Theta-Alpha Gamma Delta; Highland house-Canard club; Campbell club-Hillyard house; Phi Kappa Psi-Kappa Alpha Theta; Sigma Chi-Susan Campbell; and Kirkwood co-op-University house.

Chi Omega and Beta Theta Pi exchange dates yesterday were preference.

Inside WAA

The Amphibian club is getting in the swim and pooling their talent for their annual pageant, which they have been practicing for since the beginning of the term.

"This is war," sez Pres. Roosevelt, and don't the Amphibians know it, as this year the pageant will be given for the first time without men. The women are going to have to carry things off on their not so broad shoulders.

A few men may be drafted for diving exhibitions, if Uncle Sam doesn't draft them first.

Bev Goetz, president of Amphibians, promised this pageant to be a good substitute for the absent Canoe Fete. The theme is centered around the WAVES, with a lieutenant commander giving directions.

AWS Notes

AWS activities have more or less "cooled down" this week—giving way to much discussion and controversy over a "ticklish" but, nevertheless, important subject to most UO students—politics.

It will be interesting to note whether or not these class and ASUO election results will feature an especial majority of coeds in top positions—which couldn't help but incline these organizations toward the "AWS" side—and give the University more than its share of AWSs.

There is one special activity—partially cast under AWS, because it includes all girls—which is not only going on this week but has been in operation ever since school started, and that is Red Cross sewing and surgical dressing work.

In the surgical dressing department the University's minimum of 8,000 dressings per month have always been turned in, and sometimes as many as 10,000 per month have been made, according to Carolyn Holmes.

There is no definite monthly quota set for the Red Cross sewing, but "our share" of necessary articles are being made. At present girls are making 25 foot warmers and 20 pairs of children's rompers.

The Red Cross center—next to the Side—is open every day except Sunday—(which is a good hint!).

Speaking of a perennial AWS activity, the AWS auction is a good chance to pick up some usable items for practically nothing??—unless we are wrong about the auctioneering abilities of both Roy Paul Nelson and Fred Beckwith. They will show their "stuff" in front of the Side next Tuesday at 4:30 p.m.
