

Junior Prom Sees Decorations Carry South American Theme

Decorations as lavish as any used for a University dance in years are being planned for Saturday night's Junior Prom at McArthur court, Dave Stone, decoration chairman, said Thursday.

All the color and gaiety of South America have been incorporated to lend a distinctive, haunting atmosphere to the dance.

The bandstand will be converted into an antiquated temple—symbolic of ancient Latin America—with a staircase leading to the top of the temple. Colored lights will play on the temple, with yellow blending into orange, orange into red, red into blue, and so on, until the colors fade out into darkness.

Rising some 40 feet in the background is a black back-drop, with a map of South America superimposed in sparkling white. On either side of the temple, palm trees lend a charming jungle flavor to the scene.

The rest of the building will be decorated with the flags of the twenty-one Central and South American republics.

Queen Mary

As a climax of the evening, spotlights will pick Junior Weekend Queen Mary Bentley and her court out of the darkness as they appear at the top of the staircase. Queen Mary will then welcome the dancers to "South America."

Music will be furnished by Bob Platner's "Aristocrats of Rhythm," a Corvallis band.

Tickets for the dance, selling at $1.40 per couple, are still being distributed by house organization salesmen, Bill Farrell, general chairman of the prom said.

These salesmen are:

Alpha Tau Omega, Tom Oxman; Beta Theta Pi, Dick Igl; Chi Psi, John Busterud; Delta Tau Delta, Bill Hoyt; Delta Upsilon, Bob Gray; Kappa Sigma, Dick Brown; Phi Delta Theta, Jim Griswold.

Phi Gamma Delta, Marty Conlin; Phi Kappa Psi, Dave Stone; Pi Kappa Alpha, Ross Withers; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Jerry Vawter; Sigma Alpha Mu, Len Barde; Sigma Chi, Chick Chaloupka; Sigma Nu, Stan Skillicorn.

Sigma Phi Epsilon, Americo DiBenedetti; Theta Chi, Bud Putnam; Canard club, Fred Breidenstein; Kirkwood co-op, Elwood Peterson; Campbell club, Bob Hall; men's dorms, Jack Robinson and Norm Mannerheim.

Corsages will not be worn at the dance, it was announced, and any couple with a corsage will not be admitted. Formal attire is in order, tuxedos or white coats, or dark suits.

Momsto View Fun Parade

A tour of the campus, not the official excursion with a guide to hurry everyone along from place to place, but an informal appraisal of the campus, is being planned for parents here at Mothers' Weekend, Mary Bentley, hospitality chairman, announced.

Students can take their parents to the buildings which are of interest to them between 3 and 5 Saturday afternoon, when they will be guides in each building.

Buildings to be open Saturday for inspection include the student health service, men's physical education building, library, department of home economics, the art museum, art school, women's physical education building, and the men's swimming pool.

Assisting Miss Bentley on arrangements for the informal tour are Mary Mercier and Nannette Holmes.

At the same time the campus is open for inspection, mothers' are invited to the tea in alumni hall, Gerlinger. Students are urged by Miss Bentley to bring their parents to the tea and introduce them to faculty members there, as well as at the Junior Prom.

Miss Bentley, campus social chairman, has stated that short silks will be in order for the tea.
