

Jeff Kitchen Awarded Public Affairs Training

Jeff Kitchen, business manager of the Oregon and senior in political science, has been awarded a fellowship by the National Institute of Public Affairs for training and internship in various governmental departments at Washington, D. C., Dr. William C. Jones, head of the political science department, said Thursday.

Kitchen is one of 40 outstanding seniors selected from United States colleges and universities on a competitive basis by this Rockefeller-endowed institute. Only one other student has previously been selected from Oregon.

Two hundred students chosen from 450 applications are interviewed personally by the president and the educational director of the institute. Forty are selected from this group to take the training. Kitchen was interviewed in Portland along with students from the University of Washington, University of Idaho, and Whitman college.

Liaison Training

He will take his training in the war and state departments with special emphasis on the war department.

"The army needs trained administrators," Kitchen said. "There is an excellent opportunity to do liaison work between the state and war department in the field—such work as rebuilding in occupied areas."

The students work with chief administrators in governmental offices and if they wish can take graduate work at Georgetown university or George Washington university. Meetings are held twice a week at which various government executives speak and answer questions. Heads of the various departments, ambassadors, and other government officials speak before these seminars held at the Brookings Institute.

Student Choice

Besides working in the ten presidential departments, the students visit corporations and commissions, independent government agencies, meetings of the senate and house of representatives, and committee meetings of the senate and the house. At the end of the first four or five weeks the student writes a brief concerning the department he likes best. This is checked by the educational director of the institute. He then goes into the department of his choice and can study the department either through research work or by working from desk to desk.

At the end of seven months, neither the student or the government is under any obligation but 99 per cent of the students take non-competitive exams when they finish their training and go into government administrative work.

Direct Training

The institute has a regular staff in Washington, D. C. to conduct the work. The purpose of this organization is to get well-trained students into government offices instead of having them enter business offices. In this way they hope to get better and more efficient men.

Kitchen plans to leave Oregon the last week in June and go to New York before he goes to Washington, D. C.

Kitchen was co-chairman of the Frosh Glee, assistant manager of the educational activities office in 1940, vice-president of Sigma Delta Chi, one of the founders of Druids, junior men's service honorary, member of Friars, senior men's service honorary, and is listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Dr. Cahill Receives Second 'Loeey' Rating

Dr. Fred V. Cahill, instructor in political science at the University in 1941-42, has been given a second lieutenant's commission at officer's candidate school in Fort Washington, Maryland. He was inducted in the army as a private in June, 1942, and went to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, then Shepard field, Texas, and Chanute field, Illinois, for meteorology training.

Honor Groups To Arrange Co-Initiation

Dr. A. R. Moore, research professor of physiology in the University of Oregon, has been selected as the speaker at the joint meeting of the University chapters of Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic society, and Sigma Xi, national science honorary, on the occasion of their spring initiation of new members Saturday, May 15.

Announcement of the neophytes of Sigma Xi is expected early next week, Dr. Fred N. Miller, president of the local chapter, said Friday. The Oregon Alpha chapter of Phi Beta Kappa elected 28 members at its meeting Thursday afternoon.

Dr. Moore's address, which is sponsored by the museum of natural history on the campus as well as by the two honoraries, is to be open to the public. Further details regarding the address, details of the initiations and of the joint dinner, are to be announced by the program committees of the organizations within a few days.

Phi Betes

Following is the complete list of the members chosen Thursday by the Alpha chapter of Phi Beta Kappa:

Clinton Paine, business administration; Mary Vincent, English; Paul Lee, business administration; Stanley Robinson, biology; Arthur Berg, medical school; Frances Montag, business administration.

Mary Earl, English; Paul Callahan, classics; Eathel S. Barger, business administration; Clara Hering, general science; Armin H. Gropp, chemistry; Abbie Jane White, Romance languages; Jeanne Parker, Romance languages; William Maltman, business administration; Ella Anita Simons, economics; Mildred Wilson, journalism; Leone LaDuke, music.

Mary Alderson, physical education; Lila Furchner, English; Dorothy Oshanic, business administration; Dora Jane Huston, English; John Busterud, economics; Merlin Nelson, political science; Kathryn Yount, psychology; Helen Moore, business administration; Francis P. King, sociology; Tyra Hutchens; and Hugh Muir, business administration.

Art Magazines Given To School Collection

Back issues of 12 art and architecture magazines were presented to the school of architecture

Photo by Ted Bush

SOUTHERN NEIGHBOR . . . Charles Politz exemplifies the South American way.

ture and allied arts as a gift by John V. Benes, retired Portland architect.

Some are to be catalogued and included in the art library's book collection. Others will fill gaps in the bound volumes of the respective magazines.

The magazines are American Architecture and Building News, Architect's and Builders' magazine, Architecture, Architectural Record, Architectural Review, Brickbuilder and Architectural Monthly, Inland Architect and News Record, The Craftsman, International Studio, New York Architect, Theater Arts Monthly, and Western Architect.

Infirmary Prisoners Miss Prom; Still Happy

Despite Junior weekend activities, some people wanting to get away from it all have kept the infirmary quite busy. On Friday LeRoy Groshong and Robert Sabin were admitted to join the gang at the pill palace. The other patients are Hollis Johnston, Shirley Hicks, Herb Grant, William Maltman, Jack Crocker, Glenn Lay, Bill Northcroft, Robert Partridge, Jim Elgin, Betty Ann Stevens, and Wallace Lee.

Rodger Tetlow, Connie Grabb, and Robert Campbell were discharged the same day.

HI MOMS!

It is nice to see you, Mothers. Drop in and make your annual Junior Weekend visit.

- Banana Splits
- Sundaes
- Malted Milks
- Jumbo Cones

JOHNSON'S

1/2 Block West of the McDonald Theatre
Phone 3801

HEILIG

TWO HITS!

'Great Gildersleeve' with Harold Peary

also

'After Midnight' with Boston Blackie

MAYFLOWER

THE ACE COMEDIAN!
BOB HOPE
DOROTHY LAMOUR
'They Got Me Covered'
also
Donald Duck
'Der Fuehrer's Face'

Welcome Mothers

It has been our pleasure to serve your sons and daughters during the past years . . . and we pledge to you continued efficient service in the future.

EUGENE BRANCH
OF THE
UNITED STATES NATIONAL BANK
OF PORTLAND
(Member—Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation)

HI--YA MOM!

WELCOME TO THE WEBFOOTS COLLEGE

We're glad to have a part in helping to make your son's or daughter's life at college an enjoyable one.

Shelton-Turnbull-Fuller Co.

32 East 11th

Phone 1663