Measle Patients Hit Zero Point

Once again the impossible has happened. There wasn't a single measles patient at the infirmary on Monday. However, staff members at the pill palace are keeping their fingers crossed.

Yesterday there were only seven patients to watch over and worry about. They were Peggy Heitschmidt, Mary Jane Terry, Roslyn Terry, Elizabeth Stevens, Robert Partridge, Glenn Laly, and LeRoy Groshong.

Jack Crocker, Bill Maltman, and Hollis Johnston were discharged on Monday.

YWCA Meeting Today

The last cabinet meeting of the YWCA for this term will be held this afternoon at 4 in the bungalow. The meeting is extremely important, according to Y President Beverly Padgham. Things to be discussed include the ice cream sale, Junior-Senior breakfast, the final tea and forum, Seabeck plans, and the desert the advisory board is planning for both the old and new cabinets.

were welcomed by various faculty members. Dean Karl Onthank pointed out that while dormitories may be used for military students, there will be sororities and many fraternities opened next year for the use of students.
