

Final Call for Tobacco Money Sounds; Forces Overseas To get American Cigarettes

By MARGARET MCGEE

Collection of money to send packs of American cigarettes to service men overseas will be climaxed today in campus living organizations with a final call for donations, Barbara Younger, co-chairman for the drive, declared Tuesday evening.

Contributions are requested from all members of living organizations plus Orides and the Yeomen, with the deadline for collections set for this afternoon.

Students managing the drive wished to make it clear that donations are to be made in money and not in cigarettes.

Ad Honorary

Gamma Alpha Chi, women's advertising honorary, is in charge of the campaign that is being carried on in connection with the all-campus War Board. Co-chairmen for the drive are Miss Younger, Charline Pelly, sophomore in liberal arts.

After collection, funds will be sent to the Raleigh tobacco company, Miss Younger explained, where for every 4½ cents donated, the company will send one pack of cigarettes to men overseas. With each carton of 200 packs will be sent a card, bearing the name, "University of Oregon."

Scarcity

The scarcity of good American cigarettes overseas was expressed recently in a cable from the commanding officer in Australia, who declared, "This command ap-

Oregana Heads Named at Banquet

Major editorial staff positions for next year's Oregana were announced Tuesday night by Helen Johnson, new editor of the yearbook, at the traditional staff banquet held at the Osburn hotel Tuesday.

Achievement

Jeff Kitchen, retiring business manager, presented certificates of achievement to members of the business staff, while Roy Paul Nelson, retiring managing editor, presented them to members of the editorial staff.

Entertainment was provided by Flora Kibler who sang, "In the Usual Way," and by the house of characters members Roy Nelson, Jack Billings, and "Scotty" Mindolovich, assisted by Charles Politz and Adele Riggs; singing, "There's a Star Spangled Banner Waving Somewhere in F Sharp."

Special guests invited to the affair were: J. Warren Teter, Betty Biggs Schrick, Elsie Brownell Sullivan, Jack Billings, Helen Angell, Les Anderson, and Dick Williams.

Miss Torgler 'Aid For Vets' Group Head

Yvonne Torgler, junior in architecture and allied arts, will lead the campus committee on scholarships for returning service men and women next year, replacing Oge Young, chairman of the committee during the year.

Work on the fund has been continued through this term with living organizations contributing bonds and Co-op receipts, and the Oregon Dad's committee doing special work to add to the fund.

Reports of the committee composed of Alva Granquist, Leslie Brockelbank, Gerd Hansen, and Edith Newton reveal that living organizations are generously giving bonds this term to the fund. Each group listed below is giving $18.75 to the fund to be invested in a war bond. Deadline for turning in the money for these bonds, which is to be turned in at the educational activities office is May 15.

Each of the following organizations have pledged to give $18.75 for a bond this term: Sherry Ross hall, Susan Campbell hall, Orides, the three women's co-ops together, Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Gamma Delta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Alpha Mu, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Theta Chi, Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Delta Pi, Alpha Gamma Delta, Alpha Omicron Pi, Alpha Xi Delta, Delta Gamma, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Alpha Theta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Pi Beta Phi, and Sigma Kappa.

Hendricks hall has pledged to give a bond every month and the Alpha Phis plan to give one full scholarship which is $120. Delta Delta Delta has decided to give to the fund, but the exact amount has not been decided.

Co-op receipts were turned in at the Co-op store or in the individual living organizations, and the refunds was placed in the scholarship fund.

Oreganas Unloaded At Co-op 8 A.M. Saturday

Oreganas will be distributed from the Co-op store starting May 21 at 8 a.m. The book will also be given out Saturday at the Co-op until noon when the store closes.

The 1943 edition of the Oregana was previewed by the staff last night at their annual banquet, but the book will not be generally distributed until May 21.

LEN BARDE . . .

. . . leaves his post on the campus war board to some successor who will be appointed at a meeting of the executive council Thursday afternoon. Applicants will be interviewed in person at the meeting.

War Board Petitions

Petitions for chairmanship of the campus war board must be submitted to Jean Page at Susan Campbell hall, before 4 this afternoon. No petitions will be accepted after that time.

Twin Exercises Set for Seniors

The 66th annual commencement at the University will be held Sunday, May 30, according to an announcement from Dr. Donald M. Erb, president of the University. Both baccalaureate services and commencement exercises have been scheduled for the same day, according to the custom of recent years.

The twin exercises will be held in McArthur court on May 30. Dr. James H. Gilbert, dean of the college of liberal arts, and chairman of the commencement program announced.

Dr. Wirt

Dr. Williston D. Wirt, minister of the First Congregational church, now an army chaplain at Mather field, Sacramento, California, will return to Eugene to give the baccalaureate sermon Sunday morning. In the evening Dr. Erb will speak on "War Also Teaches," as his subject for the commencement address.

Dr. Gilbert indicated that close to 650 students have made application for graduation. After term examinations about 600 are expected to have the necessary qualifications. A war-time twist has added to this year's commencement with many graduating seniors receiving degrees who are now in the armed forces and war work. Their awards will be made in absentia.

ADPi Tops Houses

Working harder at the campus Red Cross this week than any other organization, Alpha Delta Pi folded 49 hours worth of bandages. Gamma Phi Beta placed second, with 35½ hours, and Alpha Chi Omega came in third, with 17 ¼ hours.

Men Find Dorm Atmosphere Contrast to Utah Dry Dust

By JACK L. BILLINGS

Early Tuesday afternoon about 30 pre-meteorology students arrived at the University, unloaded their barracks bags, and lined up for their new commanding officer, Lieut. Charles D. Cable, who returned Tuesday morning from California, where he was conferring with army air corps officials about the contract with the University.

After the roll call the students were assigned to their rooms in the girls' dormitory which the training detachment had previously taken over. Bug-eyed with amazement, they looked over their roomy quarters, their wide beds, the carpets. They walked down into their "day-room," formerly the girls' living room.

ISA Elections Set for Friday

Top independent leaders for next year will be determined Friday, following the opening of annual independent student elections in the men's lounge, Gerlinger hall. Polls will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 Friday evening, with all independent students eligible to vote in the election.

Nominations, made Tuesday at a meeting in 207 Chapman hall, include: representative at large, Chuck Politz, Jane Webster, Doris Jones, and Marie Nichols. Students are asked to vote for two candidates for this position, as the ISA presidency will go to the highest nominee, and vice-presidency going to the runner-up.

Senior

Candidates for senior representative, nominated Tuesday, are Marianne Blenkinsop and Margaret Schon. Nominated for junior representative were Betty McRadden, Jean Mellies and Adele Riggs. Three freshman women students chosen to run for a position as sophomore representative are Doris Horton, Betty Lawrence, and Inez Potwin.

Any independent student wishing to run for an office and not having been nominated, may submit a slip of eligibility for the desired office to either Leighton Platt, Campbell club; or to Al Larsen at Westminster house, any time before 12 this evening.

Said one boy (like the others at least a high school graduate with a "B" average), "This is a heaven on earth." They had just left Kern Field, Utah, where dust and heat take the place of Oregon's grass and cool breezes.

Veteran

The first student to arrive was a veteran by this time. He pulled into Eugene last Friday night at the height of Mortar Board. His name is Private Paul Madiger of Indianapolis, Indiana, by way of Fort George Wright, Washington (near Spokane).

The consensus seemed to be that Oregon and the University of Oregon were "plenty O.K." The boys came from all sections of the country—one from Buffalo, one from NYU in New York City, one a Sigma Nu from Minnesota, others from Tennessee, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Syracuse, and Hoboken. One was already to go—even had a physics book under his arm when he climbed down from the truck that brought the boys up from the station.

Come'n Get It

Later on some of them remembered that they hadn't had their lunch yet and began to ask how long it was before dinner or "chow" or "mess," depending on their degree of army saturation. But first of all they plied the ser-

Sally Spiess Red Cross Prexy As Gavel Changes Hands

By CAROL COOK

Succeeding Carolyn Holmes as campus Red Cross chairman, Sally Spiess, sophomore in liberal arts, will assume the generalship of the campus projects, and automatically step into a voting position on the campus war board.

In the past year Miss Holmes as instigator and organizer of the campus Red Cross projects, saw the completion of 25,000 surgical dressings. Under her leadership, the surgical dressing unit was expanded, and moved from Chapman hall into the empty store next door to the College Side.

Winter term the monthly quota for bandages was raised by Miss Holmes from 2,000 to 8,000. Since then 10,000 additional bandages have been folded.

With the expansion of the surgical dressing unit, the sewing unit, under the direction of Ruth Van Buskirk, still in Chapman hall, continued its sewing projects.

Helping Miss Holmes throughout the year were Mary McCandless, executive secretary, and Carol Wicke, Patricia Lynch, Virginia Locke, Pat Warren, Bethsy Wooton, Mrs. Spiess, Kathy, Dunn, Marty Wood, Jeanne Smith, Emily Tyree, June Grantz, Marian Schaefer, Betty Ann Keup, Gerd Hansen, Leslie Brockelbank, Marian Clark, June Johnson, Carol Wicke, Charlene Pelley, Doris Hoiland, and Florence Cooley.

Mrs. Spiess, who has supervised the house schedules, was appointed to her position by the campus war board on the recommendation of Miss Holmes.
