

Seven Dorms Rented---

 as a dormitory unit is being given a new name so that there will be no confusion in the telephone listings between the new groups and the army personnel stationed in the former dormitories.

The dormitory units will be under the supervision of the University group, each of the women's groups having a house mother as usual, and each of the men's groups having a sponsor. Each unit will probably have its own dining room facilities and cook.

The Phi Kappa Psi house has already been rented by the Sacred Heart hospital for use as a nurses' home.

If the number of civilian students is larger than anticipated and more space is needed, more of the fraternity houses may be opened by the University as dormitories.

Merv Vater, representative of the Bresee Warner accounting system, is now on the housing committee as assistant to Mrs. Genevieve Turnipseed, dormitory director. He is in charge of renting the fraternities for use as dormitories. The fraternities and the University have signed the same type of contracts for the use of the buildings as the army uses when arranging for the use of fraternity buildings for housing of soldiers.

Besides the dormitories and cooperatives, sororities will be operating as usual at the University.

Campbell club, one of the men's cooperatives will be open from the beginning of the year and there is a possibility that Canard club may open if there are enough men to warrant this extra housing space. Kirkwood Co-op has definitely been closed.

According to the action of the state board of education the price of room and board in the dormitories has been slightly increased which will make board $31 per calendar month and rooms will be $15 per month. Board and room in the cooperatives is expected to be approximately $25 per month.

Reservations for staying in either the dormitories or cooperatives should be made as soon as possible. A $5 deposit is required from students planning to move into the dormitories and this should be sent as soon as possible to the dormitory director at the University.

Students interested in moving into the cooperatives should contact the membership chairman of student cooperatives at the University. Students will be notified as to which dormitory they are to move into after their applications and deposits are received.

Regardless of where students are planning to live, they should be sure to bring their food ration books with them.

The endowment of Northwestern university totals $30,000,000, as compared with $5,633,000 in 1920.

Emerald Announces Meeting, Names Editor

First of the fall term Emeralds will be published September 27, according to Elizabeth Edmunds, business manager of the student publication.

Meetings for new and old members of the staff will be held during the first week after registration. Any new student wishing to work on the Emerald during freshman week may contact members of the staff at the journalism building.

Anne Craven, junior in journalism, has been appointed assistant managing editor for the school year by Managing Editor Marjorie Young.

Univ. of Minnesota's outlay for instruction and research in the last fiscal year was $6,286,439.
