

Libe Seating Capacity Adequate For Civilians

Although two of its four large reading rooms will be available for military use only, the University library will continue to seat about the same percentage of civilian students as in past years, Willis C. Warren, acting librarian, said Tuesday.

The sharp drop in civilian enrollment this year will balance the decrease in library facilities, Mr. Warren explained, so that non-military students will find themselves no more crowded than before the new program went into effect. Formerly the library has been able to seat approximately 20 per cent of the student body at one time.

Still unoccupied by pre-meteorology, engineering, and foreign language groups are first floor reserve and reference reading rooms, in addition to smaller study and class rooms on other floors. The browsing room also remains, "for everyone interested," Mr. Warren stated.

Hours for circulation and reference rooms will be from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturdays, and on Sundays from 2 to 10 p.m., with the first floor reserve open from 8:30 a.m. to 10 p.m. Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays and 2-10 Sunday evenings. Open shelf reserves will be closed during the noon hours and from 6-7 in the evenings.

Sunday browsing room concerts, popular last year, are scheduled to begin within the next few weeks under the direction of Bernice Rise, Ella Carlick, and True Morris of the library staff in cooperation with J. Everett Harpham, representing Phi Beta associates.

PARKER Quink

THE ONLY INK CONTAINING SOLV-X

Solv-x roots out the causes of most pen failures. It fights off the metal corrosion and rubber rot always caused by highly acid ink. It ends clogging and gumming... cleans your pen as it writes!

For steel pens, too, Quink is ideal. The Parker Pen Company, Janesville, Wisconsin, and Toronto, Canada.

1. Protects rubber...lengthens the life of sac or diaphragm.
2. Dissolves sediment and gum left by other inks. Cleans your pen as it writes.
3. Prevents clogging of feed.
4. Safeguards base metal parts...
5. Assures quick starting and even flow at all times.

AAA Senior Enlists, Waits Call to WAVES

Another recruit for the WAVES has been drawn from the women on the campus. Miss Marilyn Heartwell, a major in architecture and allied arts, has enlisted and is awaiting assignment to the WAVES indoctrination school at Hunter college of Columbia university, New York City, it was announced recently by Chief William E. Bell, in charge of the Eugene U.S. recruiting substation for this area.

Miss Heartwell attended the University of Oregon from 1941 to 1943. She was a member of the Architecture club and was assistant in the college library.

Error Made in Schedule Book

Philosophy department officials announced Tuesday that Philosophy 414, the development of scientific thought, will meet Wednesday evening at 7:15 in room 202 of Chapman hall for two hours. This course was incorrectly listed in the class schedule book as meeting on Tuesday and Thursday.

Speech Group Sets Meeting

All students interested in public discussion and speaking before actual audiences are invited to attend the first meeting of the symposium group Tuesday, October 12, in 107 Friendly.

They should bring with them a 2-3 minute talk on any topic of current interest.

All students, including freshmen, are eligible, and need not be registered in speech courses or have any previous experience. Fall term will be spent in preparing the topics and winter and spring terms in presenting them before service clubs, special audiences, and high school groups interested in the subjects to be discussed.

Symposium groups present over 100 engagements throughout the state. They are an extracurricular activity sponsored and financed by student body funds. The group was begun ten years ago.

NOW signalmen can wear helmets with this new headset!

SIGNALMEN formerly saw action without helmets because sold-style headsets were too bulky. Now miniature receivers with earplugs are being used for both radio and telephone work.

Fitting snugly under the helmets they give better reception by keeping out battle noise... they are cooler, more comfortable.

Signal Corps engineers working with Western Electric and Bell Telephone Laboratories developed this new all-purpose military headset.

Here is another instance of Bell System service to our nation at war.
