By WILL LINDLEY

"Experience is a great teacher" a wise man who didn't have all his time cluttered up with coaching football once said, and he hit the nail on the head, according to thousands of people who class themselves as graduates of the school of hard knocks.

But Coach John Warren is hoping that the proverb is wrong; he is hoping that his green but heavy team can crawl over the speedy Willamette Navycats here Saturday in order to tip the tally in ASTU's favor.

We talked with Al Lightner of the Salem Statesman over the phone the other night, and the said Mr. Lightner emitted an audible whistle when told of the weight of the army team, which averages 200 on the line and 160 in the backfield.

"That's just about what the Navycats run in weight," he said, evidently having expected the ASTU men to average like a girls' softball team. He whistled again when we mentioned some of the talent which Warren is offering this season.

Over and Over

Warren is now concentrating on a few plays, but he is giving them to the men continuously so they will have an idea as to what the score is when the Willamette team opens up with their "power play" tactics.

"Honest John" seems to be up on all the tricks of his seagoing opponents, but he'll have to go some to train his men to combat a team which is a threat whether passing, kicking, or smashing through the line.

Could Be

But although the outcome of the game is the subject of wide speculation, the nature of the battle is certain. It will be a junior edition of the big army-navy clash which highlights the eastern season every year. It will be a great game with action every minute of the way.

This year the Tufts College Medical school is celebrating its fiftieth anniversary.

Colby college at Waterville, Maine, is the eastern most institution of higher learning in the U.S.

Confusion resulting from a previous Emerald article seems to have been responsible for the appearance of several nose-drop seeking patients at the infirmary during the hours of 5-7 p.m.—visiting hours and nothing more, according to a harrassed infirmary staff. The infirmary would like to make this clear—dispensary hours from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. the afternoon, visiting hours from 12 noon to 1 p.m. and from 5:30-7 in the evening.

Iowa Wesleyan, founded in 1842 is the oldest college west of the Mississippi.
