

From the Pulpit

BY NORMA AALVIK

Among church groups meeting on the campus this Sunday evening are the Lutheran students at the YWCA bungalow at 7:30 and the Newman club at the YMCA. A social evening is planned by the Lutheran students, featuring a fireside sing, worship services, and refreshments. Newman club invites all Catholic students to their meeting. A social tea is being given at Westminster house at 6 p.m., followed by a forum at 6:30 on "Soldier Student Relationships on the Campus," led by Beverly Padgham.

Of special interest will be a speech at the Canterbury club meeting at St. Mary's Episcopal church Sunday evening at 6, by Dr. L. S. Bee, professor of sociology at the University. His discussion will be based upon his experiences with German youth.

Dance

Saturday night Wesley foundation of the Methodist church, invites everyone to a street dance starting at 8 p.m. in front of Wesley house.

College Group

The Congregational college group will meet at 7 p.m. with Rev. Wesley Nicholson leading the discussion on "What Is a Religion For?"

Sunday morning at 11 a.m., Dr. Vance Webster at the Baptist church will preach on "Christ, Youth and This Swing Age." Walter J. Fiscus at the First Christian church will give his sermon on "The Answer to Life's Problems."

At the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Twelfth and Oak, the 11 a.m. lesson sermon will be "Probation After Death."

Celebrates Centennial

The text of Father S. Bartlam's sermon at St. Mary's Episcopal church Sunday at 8 and 11 a.m. is "Why I Ought to Be a Christian."

The Lutheran church is celebrating its centennial this Sunday. Rev. Aalblue's sermon will be "Faith Through a Hundred Years."

The Presbyterian church is observing for the fourth Sunday the Foundation of the Westminster assembly. Dr. Norman Tully's sermon will be "Liberty of Conscience," which is one of the standards for which the assembly is organized.

White Multitude

(Continued from page one) who lived near the beach level, recalls the sound of shells going over their home. Her quiet comment, "It kind of dented in the pineapple cannery and a couple of chickens in a tree . . . shrapnel, you know."

Food rationing is no hardship for the pair. "Fresh food," marveled Charlotte, "I can't see how they crab about rationing here. We have only tropical fruits. The boat space is only for important things, and only a certain amount for civilians. We hardly ever get poultry, either."

What impressed Charlotte and Doris most of all their new experiences were street lights. "We were expecting it, but oh, it was so good to see lights again . . . and oh, the neon signs!" Partial blackout is enforced at 8 p.m. in the islands, with complete blackout at 10 p.m.

Oregon weather hasn't proved too discouraging yet. "We think Oregon's beautiful, but it's too cold for us. Our noses, they freeze."

Coed Affair

(Continued from page one) aged to crash the Capers. Similar events may occur this year, but the regular strong-arm guard of Caper Cops will be maintained, it was announced.

Mary Bush To Head USO Student Committee

Kwamas have been appointed to handle the USO student committee, Jean Frideger, general chairman of the campus war board, announced Friday. Mary Bush will act as chairman of the group.

The campus committee will work with the downtown USO board to help furnish entertainment and hostesses, mostly for Sunday afternoons, and to sponsor drives for servicemen's benefit. All girls will be able to take part in the activities, which will be announced soon.

The sophomore honorary had planned to work with the emergency air raid warning service, until the army canceled civilian aid in many defense areas on the west coast.

Any Veins in Elbows?

(Continued from page one) given blood before, will be accepted from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. "Bleeders," those who have made previous contributions, may go from 2:30 to 4:30 in the afternoon. The bank, at the offices of Dr. E. D. Furrer, in the Miner building, is open every day except Thursday and Saturday.

Anyone 18 years old and weighing 135 pounds or more may contribute a pint of blood. The veins in the elbow must show. Donors are requested to wait eight to ten weeks between visits to the bank.

Mortar Board is in charge of the program.

Michigan State ASTs are getting out their own newspaper.

Scribes Meet Tuesday

All Emerald reporters are requested to meet in the sports room of the journalism building Tuesday evening at 7:30, Anne Craven, news editor, announced. It is necessary that all those who now have beats and anyone who wishes to be assigned a beat attend the meeting. Any reporter who cannot come to the meeting should call Miss Craven and make a special appointment.

Formal dental education began in the East 104 years ago, and nearly thirty years elapsed from that date until Harvard university established the first university dental school.

Work Shop Open For Army Artists

The Allied Art league will open a studio Sunday at 2 p.m. especially for soldiers interested in continuing their art work while on the campus. At that time the art co-op store will open to provide men with materials. Regular students will be present to acquaint newcomers with the school.

Edith Onthank, president of the Allied Art league, emphasized that this is an experiment, designed for the soldiers, and could only function through regular enthusiastic participation.

For rainy fall days
when you want to go home
to a warm, wholesome lunch

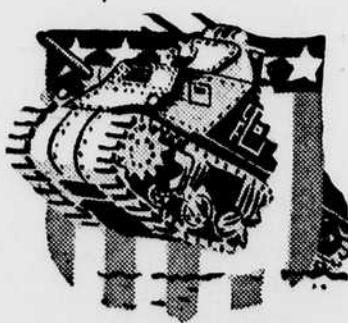

Drop in at Elliott's and look over our steam table full of hot dishes—baker beans, Swiss steak, chili con carne or spaghetti with meat balls. We also have salads, maple bars, butter horns, and other pastry. The demand for our old fashioned Salt Rising Bread tells us that it's good to eat.

Elliott's Grocery

13th & Patterson

Phone 95

Yes Students . . . We Sell Tanks, Planes, Jeeps

- 1 BUY BONDS AND STAMPS to help give our boys the tanks and guns and ships they need to fight this war. This is our part in victory.
- 2 GIVE TIME TO THE RED CROSS. Bandages are needed on the battle fronts of the world. Keep the supplies coming.
- 3 DONATE YOUR BLOOD TO THE BLOOD BANK and save a man's life.
- 4 MAKE THINGS LAST LONGER on the home front, this freeing critical materials needed for the manufacture of fighting implements.
- 5 BUY ONLY WHAT YOU NEED. Share the supplies and there will be enough for all. Put your surplus into Bonds and Stamps.

Buy Bonds and Stamps
at the

University 'CO-OP'

EUGENE HOTEL

Presents

ART HOLMAN
AND HIS ORCHESTRA

in the Persian Room

75c per person
Dancing 9 'til 12

Every Sat. Nite

The BEST
BUYS
FOR POINTS AND PENNIES!

Come in Today

—We are cooperating with the government by giving you the finest product possible under the point plan.

Our service is unexcelled
as always.

EUGENE PACKING CO.

675 Willamette

Phone 38