WSS Fund Drive Hits $258 Mark

Casablanca, Alpha Phi, and Birch lodge are leading in contributions to the World Student Service fund drive, according to the returns tallied last night at the YMCA for the semi-final report.

Approximately $258 has been turned in, with half the houses making reports by last night. Deadline for the drive, which started October 26, is November 9, and all money must be in by then for the final count. Anyone may turn in money at any time.

We haven't nearly reached our goal yet. Most of the houses which have reported haven't made 100 per cent contributions yet, but further funds may be turned in to Nancy Boles at the Kappa house before November 9, explained Dorothy Rogers, chairman of the campaign.

Soliciting of the faculty started yesterday. Each member of the faculty committee has been assigned a department and will contact all the members of the faculty of that department.

Four Enter ASUO Race For Council

Four seniors will be considered by the executive council Thursday for the position of senior representative which was left vacant after the officer elected last year was declared ineligible.

Lee Montgomery, Yvonne Torgler, Charline Pelly, and Harry Skerry were the names given to the council as seniors interested in the position. These were gleaned from an all-campus nomination procedure which allowed anyone to suggest names of possible seniors.

The council will choose the new representative instead of having an all-campus election. The other candidates will be kept on file to give some idea of which seniors are interested in positions in case there are other offices to be filled during the year.

Announcement of the new representative will be made in Friday's Emerald.

Soldiers Swing Out Sunday With Serenade for Campus

By DON DITTMAN

Owen Bailey's all-army dance orchestra comes to the fore again, this time with an answer to the problem of what to do on Sunday. For this coming Sunday the boys will present their first concert in swing at a place to be announced later. The time will be 3 p.m., and there will be no admission charge.

The theme of Sunday's entertainment will be "Campus Serenade," which is the title of an original melody being prepared by Bailey especially for this performance. The program will be

Fag Drive Takes Off Today to Meet Goal

With a goal of 1800 packages of cigarettes, the war board-sponsored cigarette drive starts today and will continue through Friday. Part of the cigarettes will be sent to the local USO to be given to the draftees, three different groups of which are scheduled to leave in November. The rest of them will go to the Camp Adair hospital.

In order to reach the goal it will be necessary for every student to buy at least one package, Phyllis Horstman, chairman of the drive, said.

Put in Boxes

Members of Kwama will take care of the collection in the various houses and will report the amount each house has contributed each day. Boxes have been placed in the Co-op, Side, Villard hall, Friendly hall, and the newsroom of the journalism building for contributions by male civilian students and members of the faculty.

Assembly Gets Last Touches

Final work on the production of "Out of This World," one of the most original, informative, and amusing assemblies to ever hit this campus, started Tuesday night as the 29 members of Phi Theta Upsilon got to work on the last touches of the program.

The script for the program, which will reveal to campus women the true facts of the campus situation, was written by Adele Riggs and Betsy Wootten Howard. Scenery for the "Out of This World" production has been made especially for the occasion by Velita Estey.

Plans are being made for a snow ball rally to lead the campus to the assembly Friday night at 7:36 in Gerlinger hall. The rally squad will lead this snowball and all women on the campus are invited.

The Phi Theta assembly is an annual affair on the campus, but this year it is quite different from those of past years. Last year the program was in the afternoon and was planned chiefly to introduce BMOCs to freshman women. In the past the program has been planned chiefly for freshmen, but this year it is very definitely including all University women.

Jack Cairns Wins ISA Cabinet Spot

Jack Cairns, junior in pre-medicine, from Steiwer hall, was chosen vice-president of the independents at the election yesterday afternoon in Gerlinger, Doris Jones, ISA president, announced.

"I am very happy about the results, but I haven't had time to formulate any plans yet," he explained.

Alice Buckingham, University house, was elected freshman representative on the ISA cabinet.

The next cabinet meeting will be Thursday at 4 on the third floor of Gerlinger. The new officers will be introduced, and Cairns will preside. All senators are requested to attend and to bring the activity cards for their house members and the dues which will be collected this week.

"A larger number turned out for this election than we have had at any previous election," Doris Jones revealed.

The office of vice-president was vacated this fall by the resignation of Charles Politz, associate editor of the Emerald, who was chosen at the ISA elections last spring.

Every fall a member of the incoming freshman class is chosen to represent the frosh in ISA activities.

With the resignation of the senator from Spencer hall, Walt Graham was chosen to represent the house.

Oregana Deadline Week From Today

Oregana pictures for members of honoraries who do not belong to living organizations may be taken anytime until November 12, Helen Johnson, Oregana editor, said Tuesday. No special appointment is needed for these pictures.

Unaffiliated seniors should have their pictures taken on November 10, if possible, Miss Johnson added. If this is not convenient they may be taken any time before that date.

War Children Speech Topic

Dr. S. H. Jameson, professor of sociology, will be the featured speaker at a lecture tonight sponsored by Pi Lambda Theta, education honorary society. His topic will be "Children in a World at War."

The meeting is open to all students and faculty members and will be held in the YWCA bungalow beginning at 8:15 p.m. All education majors and students interested in education are especially invited.

The campus chapter of Pi Lambda Theta will convene at the YWCA at 7:45, immediately before the public meeting.

Mrs. Lucia Leighton, secretary of the school of education, commented that the lecture is of an important and interesting nature, and that all hearing it will spend a profitable evening.

At One Time

I won't buy a pack for a buddy, I'll just give the army man mine, And then perhaps some of my roommates Won't "borrow" from me all the time.

Coeds Help Buy Bomber

Capering this year in order to help purchase a bomber, Oregon coeds will have their annual frolic on November 19. Buying a bomber is the November project of the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs, of which the Associated Women Students group is a member, it was announced Tuesday.

When the bomber is bought, it will have "Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs" painted on its nose. The federation must raise $300,000 for the bomber, and has
