

Skerry Wins Election

Harry Skerry, senior in law, was elected to the position of senior representative by a majority vote of the ASUO executive council Tuesday.

This position became vacant when Kay Jenkins, senior in liberal arts, was declared ineligible. Skerry was one of four candidates nominated from the campus at large, whose petitions were considered by the council.

His activity record, as stated in a nomination sent in by Peter Howard, junior in law, includes vice-presidency of the law school student body, chairman of the wartime fraternity coordinating committee, and presidency of Phi Kappa Psi.

The council also discussed the question of the formation of a civilian band on the campus which would be available for large dances at McArthur court. At present, no orchestras are available, since the army swing band cannot play at campus dances organized on a profit basis.

Jean Page, chairman of the student coordinating committee, presented a report on the new Wednesday night swing mixer plan. The plan was later approved by the student affairs committee. The appointment of Phyllis Horstman as a member of the student affairs committee was approved.

Fags Dribble in to Coffers; Alpha Phis Lead Donations

Only 639 packages of cigarettes have been collected so far in the war board sponsored cigarette drive, Phyllis Horstman, chairman of the drive, announced Thursday. The Alpha Phis are still leading the campus with a total of 87 packages donated by the end of the second day of the drive.

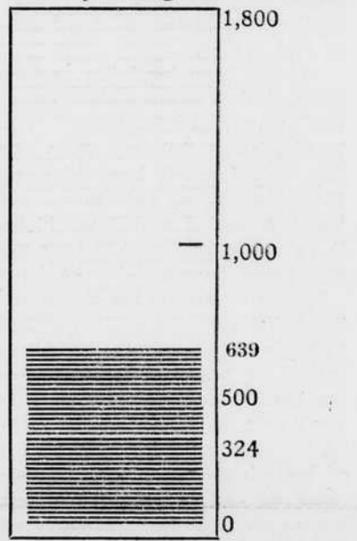

The larger portion of the cigarettes will be sent to the American Red Cross station hospital at Camp Adair, Miss Horstman reported. Carl F. Forsman, Major, FA, special service officer, in a letter to Miss Horstman, said that the cigarettes sent to Camp Adair would be "for the use of hospital patients." He added that "the generosity and patriotic spirit of your organization will be appreciated by the disabled men." The men in the hospital do not get cigarettes unless people bring them in to them, he emphasized.

Around four dozen packages will also be sent to the USO to be given to draftees.

Houses which have collected over 30 packages are: Alpha Chi, 44; Delta Delta Delta, 43; Alpha Delta Pi, 40; Casablanca lodge, 39; Hillcrest lodge, 39; Pi Beta Phi, 38; Alpha Gamma, 32; Alpha Xi Delta, 33; and Kappa Kappa Gamma, 31.

House representatives should turn in the contributions to Phyllis Horstman by Saturday noon.

Today's Cigarette Total

Child Study Chosen by Symposium

Members of the University symposium have voted to use "Juvenile Delinquency in the State of Oregon," as their discussion topic, Director Robert D. Clark, stated Thursday.

Work will be started at once to find the nature and extent of the problem in Oregon through correspondence with officials in the state and through material already printed, Clark said. The group plans to attempt to discover the relationship between juvenile delinquency and the war.

Studies are to be made of various plans, for both long and short term remedies, presented by authorities in the field.

(Please turn to page four)

Versatile Artist To Appear Here

That the challenge of a difficult part acts as a stimulant to Marie-Louise Lawrence, soprano, is indicated by several experiences in her career.

Her flaming portrayal of Oscar Wilde's unpleasant heroine in Salome thrilled audiences in Paris and New York. In previous performances one of the ballet girls had performed the Dance of the Seven Veils, a difficult, emotional work, but when Miss Lawrence took the part, she decided to dance herself. She studied the dance under Yeichi Nimura, great Japanese dancer and teacher, and thus gave a complete interpretation of the heroine.

An outdoor girl all her life, she had early learned to ride horseback. When it came time during a "Götterdämmerung" at the Metropolitan in New York for the

(Please turn to page four)

Campus Mixers Back Again; Coeds Adopt Schedule Change

Next Wednesday night the oft-tried, oft-cancelled swing mixers will again grace the campus social calendar, according to Jean Page, chairman of the student coordinating committee.

The mixers will follow a new "divide 'em" up schedule which the committee believes will distribute the actual mixers held, and the campus male population, in a more satisfactory way.

Since an estimated 650 men, civilian and army students, attend these mixers, and since the coeds are about 1200 strong, the committee has worked out a semi-monthly scheme to smooth out the uneven distribution.

This is the plan: Every week a mixer will be held. Girls' living organizations will be divided into two groups, and men students will be assigned to group "A" one week, and group "B" the next. Each women's organization will thus hold a mixer every other week, and the civilian and army men may attend every week.

The student executive committee approved two mixers for the remainder of this term at its Thursday meeting. If the plan is a success, the same idea may be continued for the rest of the year.

The student coordinating committee will meet Monday to draw up a schedule, which will be announced in Tuesday's Emerald.

Assembly Tonight

Vital statistics:

Who: Everyone on the campus. (Men and women.)
 What: Phi Theta Upsilon's annual assembly.
 When: 7:36½ p.m., exactly.
 Where: Gerlinger hall.
 Why: For entertainment.
 How: By following the snowball rally.

With these vital statistics as its guide the whole campus is invited to the Phi Theta assembly tonight in Gerlinger hall to see the premier showing of the campus production, "Out of This World."

Also featured on the program will be the introduction of campus members of Mortar Board, senior women's honorary; Kwama, sophomore women's honorary; and the rally squad.

All 29 members of Phi Theta have been working on this assembly for the past week, and even long before that work had begun on the script which was written by Adele Riggs and Betsy Wootton Howard.

The snowball rally will start from Lombardy lodge and Highland house, and the two groups will meet at the library and join to go on to Gerlinger hall. The rally will start at 7 p.m. and is scheduled to reach the library by 7:30.

In the past the assembly has been for a strictly feminine audience, but this year everyone on the campus is invited, according to Phi Theta, Prexy Holliday.

'Campus Serenaders' Slate Soldier Singer

The newest addition to Sunday's "Campus Serenade" program is Joseph Dongarra, foreign area and language student. Dongarra will appear as guest soloist with the orchestra. He sang with the band at their Wednesday night rehearsal and was invited by Owen Bailey to participate in the Sunday swing concert. Shortly before his transfer to this unit, Dongarra sang with a soldier band at the Stanford ASTARU.

Due to lack of opportunity for a sufficient number of rehearsals before this weekend, the ASTU glee club will be unable to appear in the program. However, the organization will be prepared to take part in future entertainments. In the meantime, an effort is being made to find a substitute for this week's show.

The scene of the "Campus Serenade" has been set for Gerlinger hall at 3 p.m.

Plans are being made for the presentation of weekly programs similar to the one this week. Attendance at this first show will determine the continuation of the Sunday afternoon serenades. A request for talent volunteers is being circulated among the soldier-students and it is hoped that civilian students may also participate in future shows.

Student Aid Quota Under Half Mark

Still far from the proposed goal of $1000, the World Student Service fund campaign to date has collected $335. Kappa Alpha Theta has turned in the highest number of contributions, with Casablanca and Alpha Phi right behind.

Faculty and church organization reports have not yet been turned in, and some houses still have funds on hand.

The world-wide quota set this year is $200,000, which will go toward books, clothing, and food for students continuing their studies under war conditions in Europe, Asia, and Russia.

Last year Oregon made the lowest contribution of the state schools in the Northwest.

Examination Today For Pre-Med Hopefuls

Pre-med aptitude tests will be given today from 2 to 4 o'clock in room 105 of the journalism building. Since this test is considered one of the normal requirements for medical school entrance, everyone who is interested or planning to enter medical school should take it. A $1 fee is required before this test can be taken, and should be paid before 2 o'clock today.

This test is being taken by all pre-med students all over the country today. So far about 60 persons have signed up to take it on the campus but more are expected.

Sunday Program To Present Choir

Beginning Sunday, vesper services will again be held on the campus. Eleanor Scott, head of the student religious council, announced Thursday. The services will be held at 5 p.m. in the music auditorium.

Featured for the first time will be the newly organized 30-girl vested choir led by Helen Luvaas, junior in music. Mary Etter, will assist as organist and Dr. Robert Cushman, head of the religion department, will give the meditations for the service.

All student and faculty members are invited to attend, Miss Scott said, with special invitations to Mu Phi Epsilon, music honorary, the religious workers' fellowship, the Eugene ministerial association, and the soldier-students entrained on the campus.

The vespers will be held monthly and will feature different types of music and a variety of programs. Music for this Sunday's service will largely consist of Bach chorales.

Caroline Hines is in charge of decorations with Velita Estey, Louise Rickabaugh, Betty Jean Taylor and members of the Canterbury club helping her. Heads of houses are assisting in the program as usherettes. Mrs. Bryant, director of Westminster house, is adviser for the program.

All students and service men are extended a cordial invitation to the service.

Oregon Pix Schedule:

Friday—
 Kappa Alpha Theta
 Monday—
 Campbell club
 Rebec house