

Coeds Caper at Annual Frolic

Sports Events Slated

Initial Casaba Tilt Tonight at Igloo

Tonight at 8 p.m. the strong Fee's Music Makers independent team will attempt to hand Coach Hobson's boys a pre-season shel-lacking as the Oregon team makes its 1943-44 debut.

The Webfoots will place a good deal of hope on the sharp-shooting qualities of three or four freshmen who are likely to see action during most of the game. These are Luke Baccelleri, chunky 5-foot 10-incher from Roosevelt high of Portland, William Phillips, 6-foot guard who also hails from Roosevelt, Edwin Allen, and man Henwood.

The "shorties" seem to have it this year, which may be why Hobson has stressed speed and ball handling in working out his offensive combinations.

A bit of good news for the squad was the fact that George Bray, towering 6-foot, 4-inch center, who sprained his ankle rather badly early in the week, is getting around on it quite well in practice, and will probably be ready to start in the game. Bray transferred here from Southern Oregon College of Education.

Other probable starters will be Bob Caviness, southpaw sophomore from McMinnville, and Kenneth Hays, who frequently alternates with Bray at center.

Saturday night the Oregon five will play the Medical school quintet here.

Rally Squad Sets Pep Serpentine For Saturday p.m.

Plans for a snowball rally at 2:15 p.m. Saturday climaxed the football game preparations that were decided in two hurriedly-called meetings of the rally squad Wednesday and Thursday afternoons.

It was also settled that coeds should be seated in a solid block with soldiers on either side of them for the game. Cheering will be organized, and over 2,000 mimeographed yells will be distributed throughout the crowd by members of Phi Theta, junior women's honorary.

Lieutenant R. G. Davis, ASTU athletic officer, announced at the meeting that there would be at least two, and probably three bands performing for the game—the ASTU band, the air corps band, and a high school aggregation. There may also be a half-time show put on by a corps of drum majorettes.

The rally will start at the corner of Thirteenth and Onyx and pick up as many people as possible as it goes along, the squad decided.

Beet Pickers Needed

A large number of agricultural workers will be needed Saturday to pick beets. They are to meet at the Eugene employment agency at 7:45. The trip will be canceled if it rains Friday night.

Salt Lake Team Invades Campus

The Salt Lake City air base, football team, one of the most powerful aggregations to hit the campus, arrives today at noon. This team includes University of Michigan's 1941 all-American, Bob Ingalls, who heads an array of former big time stars.

This game winds up the football on the University campus for 1943 season. Although it is impossible to have a Homecoming game because of transportation, the game will have much the same atmosphere and color. Two military bands and the Eugene high school band will be on hand with the high school's majorettes. There will be special cheering sections for the air corps and the engineers.

One of the things probably overlooked by the general public is the matter of the officials, one of the finest staffs in the Northwest conference, according to Lt. R. G. Davis. George Minnaugh, official referee, has been used by the Pacific Coast conference colleges. Dick Reed, Dick Ashcom, and Shy Huntington, all well-known former gridiron greats of the University, complete the list of officials.

The GI Ducks have come a long way since the first game of the season with the Willamette Navy Cats. The game two weeks ago with the Marshfield cavalry team showed that the G.I. boys are ready for this game. Because of the former "greats" on the Salt Lake air base team they are the favorites for the game.

Student Religion Confab Begins

The state conference of the Methodist Student movement will open tonight following registration and a fellowship dinner at the First Methodist church. Sessions planned on the theme "To Serve the Present Age" will continue Saturday and Sunday.

Members of the Student Youth movement at Willamette university and Oregon State college and the Wesley foundation on the Oregon campus will explore methods and technique in worship, recreation, and world-mindedness as they relate to college life.

Dr. James Chubb of the Methodist board of education will be the guest speaker at the conference. Discussion groups will be led by Leslie Brockelbank, junior in liberal arts, Stella Spears of Oregon State college, and Paul Jaquith of Willamette university.

The leadership training session will begin at 7 p.m. Friday with a mixer followed by a message by Dr. Chubb. Sessions resume Saturday at 8:30 a.m. with a discussion period and a speech by

(Please turn to page four)

Men Barred from Gal Affair As Women Peer into Future

Weeks of hectic preparation, sudden conferences over cokes, and several nights' late permission for skit actors will culminate tonight in the production of Coed Capers, annual women's frolic at the University.

Beginning at 7 p.m. and lasting until 11, the Capers will feature skits by the various classes, by the faculty, and by "activity girls."

Army Ork Plays Sunday

By DON DITTMAN

Owen Bailey and the army dance orchestra will present the second in their projected series of campus serenades Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m. in Gerlinger hall.

The orchestra is slated to present a number of tunes which they consider to be the most popular among soldiers and students here on the campus. In addition they will offer several melodies new to their repertoire. Songs which will definitely be included are "Southern Fried," a Glenn Miller arrangement of "St. Louis Blues," Bailey's "Bivouac Bounce," and the theme, "Campus Serenade."

Several novelty acts have been prepared, headlined by Sy Klempner, who has promised to present another of his skits. John Witty will return to the stage with a song narrative similar to those he did at the last show.

Sue Welch and Joe Dongarra will offer the lyrics of several tunes. The ASTU glee club will make its first public appearance, and the "band within the band" will present another jive session.

Chairs for the audience will again be set up by soldiers. This week the detail will be made up of a group of volunteers from B company.

The various women's living organizations, Orides and other un-affiliated women's groups will attend in costumes in fitting with the general theme of "Women of the Future" and the slogan, "When Women Reverse the Universe." A prize will be awarded to the group carrying out the idea of the theme in the best manner. Reports have leaked out that one house is coming as a football team and another as a group of shipyard workers.

Food will be sold on the sun porch and in the little dance room in back of the main gymnasium, according to Connie Fullmer and Lorraine Davidson.

Decorations will carry out the theme of the Capers, and are under the supervision of Polly Gordon. Cleanup will be taken care of by a committee headed by Irene Jolivette.

Monday Brings Magic-Maker

Mysteries seemingly beyond the average person's comprehension will be demonstrated by the Great Virgil when he brings his mystic show to McArthur court next Monday at 8:15 p.m.

Billed as the greatest magician in the country, he has been compared to Houdini, with whom he once traveled, for his facility for getting into and out of tight spots. His three-hour show in-

(Please turn to page four)

Second WSSF Drive Commences In Conjunction With Chest Fund

Students of the University will be given a second chance to donate money toward the help of their fellow students in foreign lands when the second World Student Service fund drive gets under way Monday, November 22.

The drive has now been amalgamated with the campus war chest fund, and will have the backing of local civic and community leaders. The goal has been set at $1,000 and it is hoped that the students as well as the people will contribute 100 per cent.

Three Day Run

The drive will run through three days, ending Wednesday. Students living off the campus will be contacted by Phi Theta, junior women's honorary. All donations should be turned into the campus war chest headquarters to be forwarded to the WSSF.

As part of the war chest, the money donated will go not only to struggling college men and women in other lands, but also to the War Prisoners' aid, United Seamen's Service, the USO, the United States committee for care of European children, the Ref-

(Please turn to page four)

Tomorrows Emerald will contain information, and the challenge on an issue vital to student welfare. Five hundred extra copies of this edition will be sent to alumni all over the United States, and to interested persons in the State of Oregon. It is important that all students read and discuss information which it will contain, and that they keep their copies for future reference.

Nancy Ames, ASUO President
Marjorie Major, Emerald Editor