In one scene, "Weird Execution on Mars," he fires an examined and marked steel bullet apparently through the body of a young lady. In "Dematerialization" he literally changes places with the leading lady in a fraction of a second. In an original version of "sawing a Woman in Half," members of the audience are allowed to bind and hold parts of her body. Other features are "The Girl Who Lives Without a Head," "Chinatown After Dark," and "Escape from a Locally Built Box."

Virgil is a Eugene boy, who attended Eugene high school and the University. In a performance here three years ago, he played to an audience of 4000. Students will be admitted with their activity cards.

Girls Ask for Later Hours

Action on a student-circulated petition asking for an extension of hours to 1 a.m. on Saturday nights will be considered at the next meeting of the student affairs committee, it was announced Thursday by Dean of Personnel Karl W. Onthank.

The petition, started by Patty Van Hoosear, sophomore in architecture and allied arts, was signed by heads of various houses, executives of organizations and other campus leaders.

The student affairs committee, having no set meeting time, meets about once a month on a three-day notice, unless in case of an emergency. The present case was not considered an emergency and will be brought up in the next meeting.

The petition will probably be considered before the end of fall term. Dean Onthank stated, but any changes in the present 12:15 Saturday night permission will not go into effect until next term.

Just a G.I. Seamstress?

If you're forever getting out the needle and thread, here are some tips:

When a button comes off, sew it on well the first time. A slipshod job just means you'll have to do it over again soon.

Make your next shirt an Arrow. Arrow buttons are attached with a patented stitch, which "anchors" them to a shirt.

Check your size—you may be wearing too small a shirt and therefore causing too great a strain on the buttons and seams. The Sanforized label in an Arrow shirt guarantees shrinkage no greater than 1%—no danger of an Arrow ever getting too small!

Thanksgiving

It's up to everyone of us to maintain the tradition of this Holiday... the kind of tradition which we're now fighting to preserve for all time.
