Hop Petitions Due

Petitions for co-chairmen for the Nickel Hop should be turned in to Maryln Campbell at the Alpha Chi Omega house by Friday noon. One freshman and one sophomore will be chosen.

Ducks Resume Ball Workouts

Workouts were resumed Monday for the Oregon basketeers as Coach Hobson began pointing them towards the first game of the conference season, with Washington at Seattle January 7.

Despite the vacation layoff some of the boys are beginning to find themselves. Dick Humphreys, Bob Caviness, and George Bray are among those who have been improving, according to Coach Hobson, and the brunt of Oregon's attack this season may well rest on these three.

Hobson is hard put to fill the shoes of Luke Baccelleri, versatile guard-forward who joined the armed forces during vacation, and Ken Hays and Ted Holmes, who are temporarily out due to grade trouble.

Despite the slipperiness of the floor, which has hindered workouts, drill will probably be intensified throughout next week, with emphasis paid on accurate shooting and perfection of play.

Ad Manager Job Open

Petitions are being received for advertising manager of the Emerald for this term and should be given to Elisabeth Edmunds, business manager, at the Emerald business office before 5 p. m. Friday.

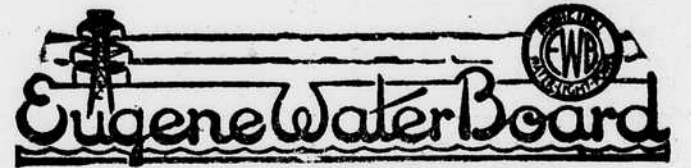

Winter Rushees

(Continued from page one) ping out, all pledges can be accommodated. However, not all of them may be able to move into the houses.

After the Friday dinner date, rushees are to return their preferences to the dean of women's office up to 9 p. m. Houses preference lists must also be turned in by that time. Rushees will get their replies at 9 a. m. Saturday at the dean's office.
