

'Bonds Away' Queen To Assist Campaign

From January 15 to January 22 living organizations on the campus will have a chance to buy bonds to boost their candidate for "Bonds Away Girl" and at the same time help the fourth war loan drive. Bonds bought by individuals or the living organizations will count as votes for their candidate at the ratio of 25 votes for every $25 bond. The men on the campus may buy bonds and vote for the girl of their choice, also, and pictures of the contestants will be placed in the Co-op to help them make their decisions.

Each women's house should select a candidate and turn her name in to the educational activities office by 5 p. m. Wednesday, January 12, Jean Frideger, head of the campus board which is sponsoring the contest, said. Rules for selections of contestants follows:

1. She may be from any class.
2. In order to enter a candidate, the house must purchase a $25 war bond to be contributed to the memorial fund. The girl is not considered officially entered until a member of her house has taken the receipt to the educational activities office. This bond may be counted as 25 votes. All other bonds may be kept by the purchasers.

All bonds must be bought at the Co-op where special receipts will be given out. These receipts along with the bonds should be taken to the educational activities office where the votes will be taken. Any bonds bought in December and January may be used if they were bought at the Co-op and the person buying them received a receipt.

Soldiers who are already buying bonds may use these bonds to vote for a candidate by getting a receipt for them at the Co-op, Miss Frideger stated. The man, soldier or civilian, who buys the largest bond will get a date with the "Bonds Away Girl." In voting for his candidate, he should sign up at the educational activities office at the same time for the amount of the bond he has bought.

The memorial fund, to which the first bond is contributed, was created to start a fund for a suitable memorial to the Oregon students who have been killed and will be killed in the war. The late Dr. Erb was very active in getting this fund started.

Speech Group Slates McMinnville Program

First speaking engagement of the University Symposium will be before the McMinnville chamber of commerce, Monday January 17, Robert D. Clark, director of the group announced. Topic for discussion is "The Juvenile Delinquency Problem in the State of Oregon."

The panel will make a number of appearances from January 24 to 26 in Coos county under the auspices of the county schools.

Mrs. Martha E. Mulkey, county superintendent of schools, is arranging the schedule, which includes a public meeting in Coquille Monday night, and one in North Bend Wednesday. Besides these meetings the group will hold discussion programs in the schools of the county.

Conclave Started For V-5 Hopefuls

A meeting for all boys between the ages of 17 and 18 interested in the Navy V-5 program will be held in Chapman hall at 11 a. m. Thursday, according to a letter sent to Dr. C. F. Kossack, by Lt. F. A. Bartlett, USNR. Lt. George Griffith, USNR, will conduct the meeting and show the navy technical film, "Eagles of the Navy."

Dr. Edward Wishropp, USNR, will accompany Lt. Griffith so that students wishing to apply for V-5 will have the opportunity to take both the mental aptitude examination and the preliminary physical examination in the physical education building. Lt. Griffith and Dr. Wishropp will be on the campus through Friday, January 14.

Odeon Conference Planned for Tonight

All students and members of the faculty who are interested in Odeon, the annual campus creative art shows, are urged to attend an important meeting tonight at 7 in Room 107, Friendly hall.

According to Norris Yates, chairman of the event, committee heads will be appointed, a date will be set, and the program in general will be discussed.

Dog Likes G.I.s; Wrecks Routine

Something must be done about Rodney! It seems, he showed up one day at the barracks without any special orders and has been more or less attached unassigned ever since.

Resembling in part a great dane and in another part something else, Rodney has started a one-dog panzer movement in the ranks. He never misses reveille and is usually right on time for other formations, where he runs the sergeant plenty of competition when it comes to roll call. As a result of his barking, orders for the day are often all mixed up. During the day he sets as his main objective tying up traffic and as a side line, frightens coeds, roars at innocent civilians, and sets a bad example for all peace-loving, well-mannered University dogs.

According to Capt. F. W. Beckman, Company A commander, Rodney is a personality problem that must be taken care of. If his owner does not take steps to see that he is painlessly removed from the army, he is very apt to become eligible for something resembling a dishonorable discharge. Will Rodney's owner please cooperate so that the army can proceed with the war?

Hours Changed By Red Cross

Beginning this week, the Red Cross room on the third floor of Gerlinger will be open from 4 to 5 p. m. on Monday and from 3 to 5 p. m. the rest of the week, except on Saturday when it will be open from 9 to 12 a. m., Carol Wicke, head of the Red Cross, announced Monday.

Each month awards will be made to the house and the girl earning the most hours working for the Red Cross, Miss Wicke said. A weekly report of the names and hours of the three houses most active will also be published.

Since the output of machine-made dressings fills only 6 per cent of the army's needs, Miss Wicke stressed the great need for making surgical dressings, which are sent to army camps on the continent or to outposts overseas. Only 1800 dressings were made

'Cellist Finds Time For Many Side Activities

In addition to the demands made on Gregor Piatigorsky, concert artist to appear here January 19, in his position as concert 'cellist, he has managed to find time for many other activities.

He took his final oath of United States citizenship on August 29, 1942, at Elizabethtown, New York, where he and his family make their home. He heads the chamber music department of the Berkshire Music center, is a trustee of the Koussevitzky Music foundation, and plays regularly as soloist under Koussevitzky. Piatigorsky is also head of the 'cello department of the Curtis institute of music.

Born in Russia April 17, 1903, he found fame in Europe before coming to the United States

Overseas and on UO Campus Plans Set for Alumni Return

While Oregon students are preparing to welcome returning alumni on January 15, other alumni now in service overseas are holding celebrations where they are stationed.

News of these meetings come from replies to news letters sent out by the alumni office. In England, Lt. W. W. Everett, '37, has arranged for a meeting with a friend. He writes, "Since

Duck Hoopsters Defeated, 67-25 By U. of W. Five

In contrast to the close game Friday night, the Washington Huskies went all-out Saturday to defeat the Webfoots by the lopsided score of 67-25. The margin of 42 points is one of the worst defeats ever suffered by a team in this conference. At one time the Huskies led by 51 points.

The first few minutes of play show the general trend of the game. It took the Ducks eight minutes to make their first basket, whereas by this time the Huskies had a 12 point lead.

Washington at half-time was on the long end of a 29-11 score. During the first minute of the second half the Huskies again poured it on and ran up eight points against none for Oregon. At one point during the second half the Webfoots were held scoreless for 16 minutes.

The Washington team was composed of a mixture of the best of all the teams at the disposal of Hec Edmundson.

The greatest individual performer of the game was Bill Taylor. He ran up a total of 22 points by getting 10 baskets and two free throws.

Hamilton and Borrevik of Oregon had injuries that greatly handicapped the playing of the team.

Players and scores were:
For Washington: Nelson, f, none; Akins, f, 6; Nichols, c, 7; Taylor, g, 22; Morris, g, 8; McMillan, f, 2; Mallory, f, 5; Grohsdahl; O'Neil, f, 7; Brown, c, none; Sutherland, c, 2; Detaz, g, 2; Marr, g, 3; Robinson.

For Oregon: Danner, f, none; Bray, f, 2; Borrevik, c, 5; Hamilton, g, 8; Phillips, g, 1; Caviness, f and g, 6; Huff, f, 3; Henwood, g, none; Humphreys, f, none; Allen, c, none.

The Ducks play Oregon State Friday night at McArthur court. The game will take place after the Nickel Hop.

coming here to England, (It's been over a year now) I have never run across anyone who hailed from the Webfoot campus, but I did succeed in establishing contact through the mails with a fraternity brother of mine, and we have made arrangements to have our own homecoming "Oregon style" just as soon as the opportunity presents itself." The fraternity brother is Allen Palmer, M.D., '31.

Lt. Joseph Downey, '43, writes from China, "There are quite a few Oregon boys here in China and we heartily agree Oregon will see its greatest homecoming when it's all over."

In addition Francis Fallister, '34, Roy Craft, '35, and Del Bjork and Ed Bail, both '37, have gotten together.

On the campus the main events for returning alumni will be the business meeting in Guild hall at 3 p. m. Saturday, the informal get-together following it, and the Oregon-OSC game in the evening.

A special program for the intermission has been planned and the band will play.

Frills Vetoed In ISA Hop

Campus clothes will be in order for the ISA Canteen Mixer next Saturday night. All independents and soldiers are invited to go to Gerlinger hall immediately following the Oregon-OSC basketball game, Doris Jones, ISA president said. It will be informal, with exchange and tag dances led by W. R. Baker, assistant professor of physical education.

Owen Bailey and his all-soldier orchestra, who will play from 9:30 to 12, have arranged a number of new pieces. He and Mr. Baker will combine to give the students a merry time, and to see that partners are exchanged, so that each one will have an opportunity to meet as many new people as possible.

"We hope it will be a victory dance, following the game, but we know it will be a success, if everyone comes, prepared for a lot of fun," commented Miss Jones.

Decorations will carry out the Canteen theme, and cokes will be sold.

Students to Talk On 'Love' Subject

"Love and Marriage" may be the topic featured in a discussion series which is under consideration by an executive council committee composed of Nancy Ames, ASUO president, Charlotte Calder, sophomore representative to the executive council, Mrs. Jim Bryant, housemother at Westminster house, and Karl W. Onthank, dean of personnel administration. Representatives from each living organization will meet at West-
