

Hours Changed By Red Cross

during fall term as compared to the record of 8000 a term last year.

All workers must bring, not wear over other clothes, their white cotton dresses or cotton blouses and skirts. This is a national ruling and will be strictly enforced, Miss Wicke stated. Facilities for keeping the girls' clothes will be provided. The campus War board will provide uniforms for the instructors but until these are ready the instructors will also wear white cotton. All instructors must wear the white veil, earned with 18 hours of work.

The present number of instructors is not sufficient and Miss Wicke wishes all girls interested in taking the instructor's course to notify her. This term each house will be asked to be represented by at least two instructors to add to the present total of ten girls who include: Marty Beard, Leslie Brockelbank, Barbara McClung, Pat Ferguson, Mary Minor, Mary Jane Wick, Dorothy Rasmussen, Marian Schaefer, Betty Ann Keup, Patty Van Hoosier.

CAMPUS CALENDAR

The Christian Science organization on the campus will meet Tuesday evening at 9:30 in Gerlinger hall, third floor. All who are interested are invited.

AWS Notes

teen nurses' aides comes word that they are really busy—each giving 12 hours of free service per week to the local hospitals, besides their regular school studies and activities. The new class of aides, started this term, includes 20 girls, who are topped by a total of 39 graduates from last term.

All girls interested in being campfire counselors at Camp Namanu this summer can be interviewed Wednesday in the dean of women's office, when Marianbeth Wolfenden, campfire executive of the Portland area and Marge Dibble, former AWS president, will be on the campus for that purpose. They report that girls are definitely needed this summer for this type of work, especially since it is a form of war work at the present time. It also provides special opportunity for leadership.

WAVES in Action ★★ Link Trainer Instructor

OFFICIAL U. S. NAVY PHOTOGRAPH

This WAVE—and hundreds like her—helps keep 'em flying. She's an important cog in the machinery which makes Navy fliers. As a Link Trainer Instructor, her job is to give directions to fliers, seated in cockpits of stationary training planes. The instrument in front of her, called a "crab," records how well the pilot carries out those directions. As a result of this kind of training, hazards are greatly reduced for pilots when they go aloft. The inset shows a rating badge worn by Link Trainer Instructors, the "T" meaning teacher. A new booklet about the WAVES is available at Navy Recruiting Offices.

Students To Talk

minister house at 4:30 p. m. today to pool ideas and to make further plans.

The "Love and Marriage" series was begun by a Westminster group more than 15 years ago, and until last year was an annual tradition during winter term. For awhile during authorities on the psychological, biological, and religious aspects visited the different living organizations and presented the subject formally. Later the idea evolved into round table discussions in each group. If the plan is carried out this year, it will probably be in the form of informal firesides, according to the committee.
